U. S. WINS SUIT FOR EXCESS OF R. R. PROFITS

Splits All Earnings Over 5.75 Per Cent.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—Provisions of the transportation act requiring railroads to divide with the government their excess earnings above the 5.75 per cent fixed by the interstate commerce commission as a reasonable return on their valuation were sustained today by the Supreme court.

The attack on the constitutionality of the recapture clause was brought by the Dayton-Goose Creek Railway company of Texas, but when the case reached the Supreme court, nineteen of the most important railway systems of the country joined in it.

Roads Under I. C. C. "Guardianship."

Describing the transportation act as legislation intended to build up a system of railways, and to give the owners of the railways an opportunity to earn enough to maintain their properties and equipment in efficiency, Chief Justice Taft declared that the railroads had been placed more completely than ever under the guardianship and control of the interstate commerce commission.

He pointed out that the commission's functions were no longer limited to the fixing of reasonable rates and the prevention of those which are discriminatory.

Profit Sharing "Key" of Whole Plan.

The clauses of the transportation act which provide for the recapture of excess earnings were declared by the court "the key provision of the whole plan." The uniformity of rates decided upon as the most helpful to the weaker railroads would enable those of average efficiency, the court said, to earn the prescribed maximum return. By the recapture clauses congress is "enabled to maintain uniform rates for all shippers and yet keep the net returns of railways, whether strong or weak, to the varying percentages which are fair for them."

The law operated, the court pointed out, to require the railroads which earn more than the prescribed maximum to hold the excess "primarily to preserve their sound economic condition and avoid wasteful expenditures and unwise dividends." Those which earn less will be given help, the court explained, to obtain credit through a fund made up of the part of the excess earnings held by the government.

Two Questions Presented.

Regarding the property rights of the carriers and the interests of the shipping public, the controversy presented two questions, the court continued. It said that "rates which enable all the railroads necessary to do the business of a rate section or territory to enjoy not more than a fair net operating income on the aggregate value of their properties therein economically and efficiently operated are reasonable from the standpoint of the individual shipper of that section.

"By investment in a business dedicated to the public service the owner must recognize that, as compared with investment in private business, he cannot expect either high or speculative dividends, but that his obligation limits him to only fair or reasonable profit . . . If it receives a fair return on its property, why should it make any difference that other and competing railroads in the same section are permitted to receive higher rates for a service which it costs them more to render and from which they receive no better net returns?"

"The investment is made on the faith of a fair profit, the profit accrues from the balance left after deducting expenses from the product of the rates, and the assumption is that the operation is economical and the expenditures reasonably necessary.

Proving Fairness of Rates.

"If the profit is fair, the sum of the rates is so. If the profit is excessive, the sum of the rates is so. The obvious way to make the sum of the rates reasonable, so far as the carrier is concerned, is to reduce its profits to what is fair."

Referring to the contention of the railroads that the recapture of excess earnings is an appropriation of their property, in violation of their constitutional rights, Chief Justice Taft stated that under the transportation act the carrier is only a trustee for the excess over a fair return."

"Though in its possession," he said, "the excess never becomes its property, and it accepts custody of the product of all the rates with this understanding."

The court devoted considerable space to discussion of whether the recapture clauses invaded the rights of states in rate making, and reached the conclusion that they did not.

NINA PUTNAM DENIES; WIFE SAYS IT'S TRUE

Novelist Returns to Untangle Divorce.

BY GRACE ROBINSON.

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Nina Wilcox Putnam, author, whose divorce difficulties and attempt to enforce her unique marriage theories have startled the country, arrived in New York this afternoon. She came north, she said, for the purpose of straightening out her divorce tangle, her recently obtained decree of divorce from R. J. Sanderson having been rescinded a few hours after it was granted in a Providence, R. I., court.

She came north alone. Ellsworth Bassett, her business representative, who is accused in Madison, Conn., by his wife of having deserted her for Mrs. Sanderson, or, as she prefers to be known, Miss Putnam, remains in Delray, Fla., together with Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Schuyler, the latter serving as Nina Putnam's amanuensis.

Registers Tearful Denial.

Miss Putnam, in tears and with much emotion, denied the charges made by Mrs. Bassett, and registered amazement at the allegations. In Madison it had been reported that Bassett first entered Miss Putnam's employ when he visited her studio to give an estimate of a painting job.

"Mr. Bassett came to me through an arrangement made by his wife," the writer asserted. "I was obliged to make a sudden auto trip to Canada. My doctor suggested that I call Mr. Bassett. Mr. Bassett was not there. I made the arrangements for the trip with his wife.

"Mr. Bassett did what any other good New England neighbor would do—helped me out when it was necessary. He drove me to Canada, and, of course, during that time we had some opportunity for talking. I discovered he was interested in the work I was doing and wanted to get into it, and had some original and practical ideas of literary salesmanship. And I gave him the opportunity of trying them out. He has proved satisfactory."

Thought Mrs. Bassett Her Friend.

Bassett's occupation in Madison has been painting houses, when there was anything doing in that line, and digging clams and catching lobsters at other times. His father is also a fisherman.

"Up to the moment of my arrival in town tonight," Nina Putnam declared, "I have always had every reason to suppose Mrs. Bassett was my friend.

"I know nothing whatsoever about their personal relationship. Her insinuations about intimate relationship between her husband and myself come as a complete surprise to me. I cannot imagine what has driven her to make any such outrageous statement.

"I have always had an outside studio in Madison. There was nothing unusual about my taking the house at East River. You can't do literary work with a growing child around unless you hush him unmercifully."

Miss Putnam has a 6 year old son, John Francis Putnam, by her first husband, Robert Faulkner Putnam, now dead.

Not to Make Him Fiction Hero.

When asked whether she had meant to make the hero of her recent story, "Easy," a replica of Bassett, who is 6 feet 4 inches tall and well proportioned, Miss Putnam replied:

"I never made a personal portrait in my life."

When asked to explain why Bassett lived at her home in Madison while acting as her business representative Miss Putnam answered with some spirit:

"Mr. Bassett did not live at my house. I did not know where he did live—perhaps with his parents at East River. I never troubled to inquire."

The author scouted the idea that she had urged Mrs. Bassett to divorce her husband in order that he might marry Miss Putnam. Mrs. Bassett has declared that she was invited to Miss Putnam's Madison home, "The Christmas Trees," for the definite purpose of discussing the question of a Bassett divorce.

Tells of Interview with Wife.

"Mrs. Bassett came to my house one night to see me," asserted the writer. "Mr. Bassett came with her. She said she was glad he was working

ROBS DINING CAR CONDUCTOR AS TRAIN PULLS IN

James J. Collins, a dining car conductor on Rock Island train No. 10, due in Chicago shortly before 10 o'clock last night, was attacked and severely beaten by an armed robber who entered the dining car as the train was coming slowly through the yards.

After beating Collins about the head with his gun and robbing him of $100, the bandit fired a shot into the roof of the car as he swung from the train between Harrison and Polk streets.

Collins was alone in the car at the time, and, although the train was heavily laden with passengers, the robbery was not discovered until the train had stopped at the Chicago terminal.

Railroad authorities believe the man was a passenger on the train. Railroad officials are discussing arming all employés.

NEW REPORT SAYS BOMB HIT KEMAL

Wife of Turk President Is Also Wounded.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—[United News.]—Both Mustapha Kemal Pasha, president of the Turkish republic, and his attractive wife were wounded by a bomb thrown by an assailant who invaded their home, according to unconfirmed dispatches from the near east, which vary in detail.

The Athens correspondent of the United News cables that Smyrna messages report the bomb was thrown in an attempt to assassinate Kemal. The leader escaped, but Mme. Kemal was injured, according to the report.

The radio service of Paris states that the assailant appeared at Kemal's home and demanded to see him. Mme. Kemal received the man at first, and then called her husband. When the president appeared, the man threw a bomb, wounding Kemal slightly. Mme. Kemal also was wounded.

The Athens correspondent of the Daily Express reports that Kemal, seriously wounded, has been taken to Angora, and that Mme. Kemal's injuries are slight.

A National Hero.

The name of Mustapha Kemal Pascha has been a beacon of the Moslem world since he led the dramatic fight which brought Turkey back into Europe, defeated the Greek armies, forced the evacuation of Constantinople by the allies, and restored the prestige of "the sick man of Europe."

The lean, square jawed fighting man was a relatively minor officer when, at the close of the world war, he led the Kemalist revolt that ended in the flight of Sultan Mohamet VI from Stamboul.

Routs Greek Army.

Kemal saw Turkey crushed and broke by the world war alliance with Germany. With a small band of military men he determined to seize power. He set up his government in the mountains of Angora, and defied Constantinople. He broke the Greek army that had pushed up into the Anatolian hinterland.

Mme. Kemal is a Turkish woman of the new order, veilless, energetic, a leader in reform, and a strong helpmeet to her husband. The couple were married a year ago.

FINDS SELF DUPE OF LONG LOST CHILD'S "DOUBLE"

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 7.—Realization of his dream of twenty-three years—that of seeing his daughter again—was blighted for George Johnson of this city tonight when he learned of the death of his daughter two years ago and of the dual rôle of the daughter's chum, Olga Ann Cumberland, who through her letters has represented herself as the Johnson girl since last March.

Johnson's disillusionment came with a dispatch from Washington, D. C., to the effect that the police had arrested Miss Olga Cumberland, who admitted representing herself as Johnson's daughter, Hazel Agatha Johnson, through letters and photographs which she has sent here.

Johnson said last night that his daughter Hazel when six years old went to Florida in 1901 with Reuben R. Lisenoy, father of his first wife, and he lost track of them, later hearing of Lisenoy's death. He says he employed every means to locate his daughter and failed, until last March when he received a card from the Cumberland girl in which she represented herself as Hazel Johnson and gave thanks for having found her "parents."

M. J. CONDON, SLAYER OF WIFE, DIES IN PRISON

Michael J. Condon, convicted on the testimony of his two children of the murder of his wife, Lillian Condon, died of tuberculosis yesterday in Joliet penitentiary. Condon, who was 40 years old, was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Kickham Scanlan on June 30, 1922.

Two of his four children, Lillian, 14 years old, and William, aged 11, testified he climaxed years of abuse by plunging a knife into their mother's heart on the night of Jan. 7, 1922, in their home at 1382 North Park avenue.

It was also their plea that prevented the jury from fixing Condon's punishment at death.

Three Bandits, Cornered, Murder Policeman

Partner Shot; Flivver Squad Nabs 1 of Trio

Three colored robbers killed Patrolman Vincent Skiba, a veteran of the police department, and wounded his partner, Patrolman Joseph C. Lamb, early last evening at 79th street and Merrill avenue.

Then, fleeing from the bullets which Lamb fired at their scurrying forms, the trio disappeared in the prairies. A few minutes later one of the bandits was taken from a northbound street car by comrades of the slain policeman and squads under Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes were heading into the black belt to capture the two others.

Warning Proves Prophetic.

Skiba, who had only a short while before left his wife in their home at 8740 Escanaba avenue, wore the departmental blue for thirty years. After the 6 o'clock roll call at the South Chicago station last night he was telling some of the young members of the force that they ought to join the Policemen's Benevolent association.

"You can never tell when you're going to have a serious accident," he said. "And when you do your family's going to need the money."

It was half an hour later that an excited voice, shouting over the telephone, told the lieutenant of a double holdup of two stores at 8437 and 8439 South Chicago avenue. While one Negro was taking money from the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company's place at the former address, his colored companions had held up the adjacent butcher shop of Frank Fodey.

"The fellow that got us is the same one that robbed us twice before," reported Alex Pawlicki, manager of the tea establishment. "The three of them started north on foot."

Bandits Open Fire.

Commandeering an attorney's machine that was parked at the curb, Patrolmen Skiba and Lamb started out to search for the robbers. At 79th street they saw three Negroes walking swiftly towards a traction line. They drew up to search them.

"Better draw your gat first," cautioned Lamb.

Skiba, reaching for his revolver, began to alight. He was about to jump from the running board when the robbers opened fire. Two bullets—one in the head, the other through the heart—dropped him to the sidewalk, and his body rolled down a slight embankment into the vacant prairie.

By this time Lamb, who won several decorations overseas, where he fought with the marines, had drawn his gun and begun shooting. The Negroes continued their fusillade, and one bullet struck him in the right foot. He limped after the robbers, but they outdistanced him.

Priest Administers Rites.

Father Henry Weber, assistant pastor of St. Philip Neri Roman Catholic church, happened along and administered the rites for the dying to Skiba. When the veteran policeman reached the South Shore hospital he was dead.

Meanwhile a flivver squad composed of Patrolmen Rooney, Greene, and O'Connor had taken up the chase of the three bandits. Drawing alongside a moving street car, Greene took Eddie Duncan of 454 East 37th street into custody. He admitted he was one of the stickup men and gave Henry Wilson and Samuel Dalton of 3632 Ellis Park avenue as the names of his two companions.

HOLD BUCHANAN AFTER EX-RIVAL IS SHOT DOWN

Dunne Is Wounded; Bodyguard Slain.

Gunmen satellites of labor union feudists resumed activities in Chicago yesterday.

Revolvers blazed in two sections of the Des Plaines street police district during the day. The result is one man dead; another, a former business agent of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, probably dying, and a third, president of one of two rival teamsters' unions, wounded.

Police were being mobilized last night in preparation for a renewal of hostilities today, when rival teamsters' organizations clash at a scheduled election.

Murder in Bricklayers' Hall.

The major shooting of the day—at which one was killed and another wounded—occurred last night in the third floor corridor of Bricklayers' hall, Monroe and Peoria streets, within a few feet of a room in which some 2,500 structural iron workers were meeting. It was the direct result of the election of Frank Buchanan, former congressman from the Seventh district, as business agent for the union.

Shortly before midnight Buchanan and several other officers and prominent members of the organization—more than thirty in all—were locked up at the Des Plaines street station. Assistant State's Attorney William W. Smith and Assistant Chief Matthew Zimmer were settling down to the business of quizzing them.

Dunne Dangerously Wounded.

Meanwhile detectives had difficulty in establishing the identity of the dead man. They finally learned that he was John Gilmore, whom John Dunne, their former business agent, had introduced a couple of weeks ago. It was Dunne himself who was taken to the Jefferson Park hospital in a critical condition following the exchange of shots. Dunne may live, the hospital announced at 3 a. m.

Several policemen identified Gilmore as a slugger and beer runner with a long police record which included arrests for theft, assault, and picking pockets. He was said to be an associte of "Big Dave" Ersman, who was arrested in connection with the efforts to bribe the jury that acquitted Gov. Small. Gilmore lived in the neighborhood of 22d street and Wabash avenue.

The police recalled that a warrant had recently been issued for both Dunne and Gilmore in connection with a slugging due to a south side labor dispute.

SHOOTING BEGINS EARLY

The shooting occurred at 8:30 p. m. Members of the union, meeting in routine session, were suddenly startled by the rapid discharge of bullets. Some ran for cover. Others, fearing that a holdup was being attempted upon their treasurer, who was counting union dues in an anteroom, rushed to his defense.

They found Gilmore motionless upon the floor at the head of the stairs. Dunne had just staggered through the door and fallen, unconscious.

Some one notified the police.

Bodies on Sidewalk.

When Patrolmen Kenney, Donovan, and Shelder arrived a few minutes later in a flivver, they saw the two victims lying side by side upon the sidewalk in front of Bricklayers' hall. Resting between them was one gun, from which a single shell had been fired.

"How did it happen?" demanded the puzzled coppers.

Bystanders merely shrugged shoulders and looked noncommittal. Upstairs the policemen found the iron workers deliberating in orderly session. Nothing out of the way, it would seem, had transpired.

Investigation developed the fact that shootings were nothing in the career of these unionists. One or two bullets had been fired only eight days ago—on Sunday, Dec. 30—when the annual election was being held. One of the members grinned as he pointed out a shattered door as evidence of his statement.

Defeat Arouses Dunne.

Balloting that day resulted in defeat of Dunne, who had sought reelection as one of the two business agents. He received only twenty-six votes, and since that time, according to police, he had been hostile to ex-Congressman Buchanan, who succeeded him.

Last night, it was said, Dunne and Gilmore arrived at Bricklayers' hall some time after the meeting had been convened. In the corridor at the head of the stairs stood a man, described to police as "bushy haired and queer looking," who was searching the pockets of some arrivals for possible weapons. He made a move towards Dunne as the latter approached.

"Step aside. I'll make that guy move," was Gilmore's gruff comment.

Guard Shoots to Kill.

Then, according to the story told police, Gilmore drew his revolver and fired once into the ceiling. He failed apparently in the desired effect of frightening the bushy haired guard, for the latter immediately began shooting to kill.

Five bullets entered Gilmore's body. Dunne himself received shots in the chin, stomach, and leg, and there were the holes of several more missiles in the wall.

"I was standing in the room, just inside the door," declared William Foster of 3819 Nora avenue, an old time member of the union and one of the first to volunteer any information to police.

"Right after the shots were fired Dunne, who has been a friend of mine for a long time, staggered through the door and fell at my feet. I helped carry him to the sidewalk."

William Wildes of 5813 Elizabeth street told an almost identical story. He added a few more details.

"I saw this Gilmore guy shoot into the ceiling," he said. "Then I saw the bushy haired fellow plunk at Gilmore. Gilmore fell and he pulled the gun on Dunne. No, sir; Dunne didn't have any revolver himself."

After the union meeting had broken up, about 10:30 o'clock, detectives searched the big room. Up in the balcony, underneath a seat, hidden among cigar butts and dead matches, they found two revolvers. There was no shell in either, but the handle of one was stained with red ink.

Sixteen Members Held.

Following the meeting sixteen members of the union appeared at the Des Plaines station, bearing books and other records of their organization.

"Well, I'll have to lock you up, boys, until we can question you," said Acting Capt. William Shoemaker.

The "boys" grinned and filed downstairs, past the turnkey. Among those being held, in addition to Buchanan, are: Jack Van Allman, newly elected president; Walter Thompson, whom he defeated for this office; Henry Moller, vice president; J. M. McDougall, secretary and treasurer; Percy Peterson, recording secretary; and Arthur Evensen, one of the two business agents.

After the union officials and others were locked up Deputy Coroner Joseph Springer and Assistant State's Attorney Smith made a survey of the rooms in which the shooting occurred. On Secretary McDougall's desk they found a newspaper soaked in red ink such as is used on stamp pads and similar to that on the handle of the gun picked up in the balcony. In a drawer of the desk similar ink was found and when McDougall was examined, Deputy Coroner Springer said, his hands bore the same kind of ink stains.

BUCHANAN'S CAREER

Frank Buchanan, whose election was the indirect cause of last night's fatal shooting, has had a stormy career. He was business agent of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union in the late '90s and the first decade of the present century. As an international union official he was closely connected with Samuel Parks, New York business agent of the union, who was sent to prison for extortion. Buchanan was "vindicated" by reelection as international president after he had been assailed by the element in the union which objectde to Parks' activities.

In 1910 Buchanan received the Democratic nomination for congress in the Seventh congressional district, believed to be strongly Republican territory. It was a Democratic landslide that year and he defeated no less redoubtable an antagonist than Fred Lundin and took his seat in congress. He was reëlected in 1912 and 1914.

LABOR LEADER SHOT

Secession of teamsters from one union and their joining another union is said by the police to have been the cause of the shooting of Patrick Berrell, president of the International Union of Truck Drivers and Chauffeurs, yesterday at Halsted and Randolph streets. Berrell was wounded in the side and thigh, but refused to name his assailants other than to say four men in an automobile attacked him while he was soliciting union memberships.

Detectives assigned to the fracas reported the following as information they had gleaned: Berrell's union known as the International, and the Chicago Teamsters' union, controlled by Michael Galvin, are rival organizations, each admitting all the teamsters they can induce to join.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Chicago for week ending Saturday, Jan. 5th, on shipments sold out, ranged from 7.00 cents to 21.00 cents per pound and averaged 12.79 cents per pound.—Adv.

DENY POPE WILL ALTER STATUS OF THE VIRGIN

Catholics Refute Cable on Vatican Plans.

The publication in The Tribune yesterday of a cablegram from Rome forecasting a move on the part of the pope proclaiming "the personal corporeal presence of the Virgin Mary in heaven on the same basis as the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost," aroured vehement denials among representative churchmen in Chicago.

An authorized spokesman of the clergy here announced that the report was untrue; that the pope had announced no intention of a purpose to alter the long standing doctrines of the church regarding the status of the Virgin and that therefore there could be no inpending contest in the college of cardinals on this point, or, for that matter, in the plenary ecumenical council of the church which is to be called in the spring to meet in Rome.

Statement from a Churchman.

A high authority in the church, who asked that his name be not used, said last evening:

"The definition of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin into heaven after her death would not place her 'on the same basis as God the Father, God the Son and the Holy Ghost.' Nor is it true that 'the Latin countries practically have deified the Blessed Virgin for many centuries.'

"The Catholic church teaches that the Blessed Virgin is a creature. No matter how much honor the church may shower about her, she would still remain a creature. She would not be anything else. It is nonsense to say that the church contemplates something 'which amounts almost to deification of the Blessed Virgin Mary.'

"A creature cannot be deified. The highest honor a creature is capable of receiving still remains far short of the honor and worship due the Creator.

Status of the Virgin.

"Great honor is given the Blessed Virgin in Latin countries, and for that matter great honor is given to her in every country. But the most ignorant always recognize the fact that her glory is a reflection of the infinite merits of her divine son.

"As a matter of fact, though the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin is not at present a doctrine of faith, it is generally believed and has been for centuries, even outside the Catholic church."

DAWES IN PARIS; REFUSES TO TALK ON REPARATIONS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Gen. Charles G. Dawes and Owen D. Young, America's unofficial representatives on the reparations commission's committee of experts, arrived here tonight, grimly prepared to solve the problem which has baffled the world's statesmen for five years.

Arriving at the Ritz, where the reparations commission had engaged the best and most expensive suites, for which Germany is expected to pay, Mr. Dawes galloped upstairs.

"Nothing to say—no, not seasick—all tired out," were Mr. Dawes only replies.

Mr. Young, who escaped at the station door while a crowd of camera men were trying to photograph Mr. Dawes, arrived afterward. He was more human.

"Are you optimistic?" reporters asked.

"I have no feelings at all," replied the banker.

MR. UPSHAW IS ON WATER CART NOW—FOREVER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Representative Upshaw [Dem., Ga.] is on the water wagon. He took the pledge in the presence of the house of representatives today, promising forevermore to abtain from the drinking of alcoholic beverages.

Mr. Upshaw did this in order to meet a challenge hurled at him in the course of debate by Representative Hill [Rep., Md.], wet leader. Mr. Hill called upon Upshaw and all Upshaw's colleagues in the dry Georgia delegation to sign the pledge.

Mr. Upshaw was on his feet immediately.

"If I had a pledge card——" he began, and, presto! a lively little page boy rushed up to him with one.

"Come on and sign," Mr. Upshaw shouted.

"I said I would sign if you persuaded the whole Georgia delegation to sign," replied Mr. Hill.

The pledge taken by Mr. Upshaw provides:

"Whereas, the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage is productive of pauperism, degradation, and crime, and believing it is my duty to discourage that which produces more evil than good, I therefore pledge myself to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

"Whereas, good government demands obedience to law, I will stand for enforcement of all laws, including the prohibition of the liquor traffic. I here now, in the presence of almighty God and my colleagues, sign this pledge."

Halts Speeding Train Four Inches from Man

William Jones, 53 years old, of 609 Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, missed death by four inches yesterday when he fainted and fell from the platform of the Kilbourn avenue station of the Metropolitan "L" in front of an approaching Chicago, Aurora and Elgin interurban train. By reversing the power, William Frazer, the motorman, brought the train to a stop four inches from the unconscious man's body. Jones' left leg was broken by the fall.

MABEL'S DRIVER TO SAY HE SHOT IN SELF-DEFENSE

Even Mabel's Lawyer Is Surprised by Plea.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Horace Greer, Mabel Normand's impulsive chauffeur, will plead self-defense when he appears at his preliminary hearing on the charge of shooting Courtland S. Dines, playmate of Edna Purviance, at his home in Vermont avenue New Year's night.

Clarence B. Conlin, Greer's attorney, made the announcement late today.

"My client would have been justified if he had actually killed Dines instead of drilling a little hole in him," the attorney said. "What would you have done if you went to a place to protect your employer and a man much bigger and stronger than you attempted to swing a bottle at you?"

Menaced with Bottle.

Greer, going to the Dines apartment to bring Miss Normand to her home, declares Dines menaced him with a bottle and that before he, Greer, knew it the gun had discharged three times.

"But Greer did not fire," Conlin insists, "until forced to do so to save his life."

The announcement of this defense was accepted with some surprise as it was believed Greer would plead insanity.

"What self-defense is there," asks Milton Cohen, attorney for Miss Normand, "in the case of a man who goes to another man's house, with a gun in his pocket, and who fires as soon as he opens the door?"

Both Mabel and Edna declare that they heard no conversation between Dines and Greer; they were in the bedroom powdering their noses. But, they assert, Greer just walked in and fired three shots and walked right out again.

He Says, "I'm Plugged."

When they rushed out of the bedroom there was nobody there but Dines—and all they heard him say was "I'm plugged."

Both Mabel and Dines, at the Good Samaritan hospital, are reported as recovering speedily. Mabel underwent an operation for appendicitis shortly after the New Year's party. It was really because she had to have this operation that the shooting occurred. Greer didn't want her to be drinking with Edna and Dines, knowing she must go to the hospital in a few days. Neither did Mrs. Edith Burns, Mabel's companion. They wanted her to come home.

Can't Subpœna Mabel.

Detectives tried all day today to subpœna Mabel, but they didn't have a chance. Mabel's nurses won't let anybody see her except messenger boys with telegrams from her adoring fans or from boards of censors or other messenger boys with boxes of flowers.

A property bail of $10,000 was raised today by J. B. McDonnell, wealthy owner of a string of taxicabs, who once employed Greer; but the police refused to let the prisoner out. He is held pending Dines' recovery. Once Dines has left the hospital an attempt will be made to have the bail reduced.

It is reported that Dines and Miss Purviance may be married as soon as Dines is able to marry again. Both, however, deny it. Dines' brothers, who are in Los Angeles, will not talk about it. And Edna doesn't want to talk about it.

"I don't think Court will prosecute the poor half crazed chauffeur," she said. "I don't think he wants any more notoriety than we've already had."

DEVER GREETS LONDON MAYOR BY NEW CABLE

Reply Flashes Back; Business Begins.

If the Lord Mayor of London was late in getting home yesterday it was Mayor Dever's fault.

Among the extra official duties which make mayors, the world over, strangers to their families, it was Mayor Dever's job to send a wire to his British confrère to mark the opening by the Western Union of the first direct cable between Chicago and London.

Keeps Lord Mayor Waiting.

It was after 6 o'clock, work was over, and the carriage waited along the murky Thames; but in Chicago it was noon; business was as usual—and his honor was late.

When Mayor Dever reached the Western Union he found officials of the company waiting for him. Mayor Dever bent over the shoulder of Warren Morrow, sending operator, and his message was tapped out over 4,000 miles of land and salt water.

Fifty-five words a minute was the rate of sending. A fifth of a second after the key in Chicago made contact a siphon recorder, like the one on the opposite side of the desk, responded with a jerk across the tape in London.

What Dever Sent.

"As mayor of the city of Chicago," the Dever message to the lord mayor said, "I have pleasure in sending greetings to the city of London by means of the first direct cable connecting the two cities.

"I hope that this newest and most direct method of communication will serve to promote the relationship and interests of our respective cities. Cordial good wishes.

"William E. Dever."

The mayor had scarcely time to walk around the desk to where James Fives, receiving operator, was scanning the tape with the meandering blue line, before the answer came back

What Lord Mayor Replied.

"I thank you for your message of greeting on the opening of direct cable service between Chicago and London, inaugurated today by the Western Union," read the lord mayor's reply. "This new achievement forms another very important link between your citizens and those whom as lord mayor of London I have the honor to represent. Your good wishes are cordially reciprocated.

"Louis A. Newton."

BUSINESS MEN PLEASED.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 7.—[Tribune Radio.]—London business men are favorably impressed by the efficiency of the direct London-Chicago Western Union cable service, which started work today. Immediately following the transmission of official greetings commercial business began over the new line, with most satisfactory results.

FIND BATTLESHIP GALE-TOSSED AT SEA; CREW SAFE

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 7.—With the seven men of her skeleton crew safe, but said to be suffering intensely from cold, the old battleship Louisiana, located at 10:30 o'clock today after drifting at the will of a heavy gale since Saturday night, when she broke from moorings eighty miles at sea, was being laboriously towed in tonight by the cutters Manning and Mascoutin.

It was hoped that abatement of the weather would permit an increase in the speed of less than two knots an hour so the battleship could be brought to port here by late tomorrow.

Because of high seas, no attempt has been made by the cutters to remove the men from the battleship, but it was said this probably would be done tomorrow.

The battleship which was in tow as the property of a wrecking company to be scrapped under the arms treaty when her two tugboats were forced to put in for shelter Saturday night, was sighted by revenue craft today after a vigilant search about seventy-five miles due east of Cape Henry.

REAL JANUARY THAW PROMISED CHICAGO TODAY

From where the weather man sat last night it looked as if the sub-zero snap is to be followed by an old-fashioned January thaw. The mercury touched 32 degrees for a maximum yesterday, but the prediction is that it will go well above freezing today. It will be fair today, but unsettled tomorrow, although southerly and southeasterly winds will hardly bring snow.

During the three days of polar weather 684 complaints of cold apartments were filed with the health department, including 150 for failure to supply water. When ice jams at the intake threatened the water supply of Evanston and Wilmette, Sergt. E. J. Moberg of the Evanston police force donned a diver's suit, descended to the bottom of the lake, and cleared away the ice.

RISE OF 80 DEGREES.

Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 7.—A rise of 80 degrees in temperature within thirty-six hours was recorded here yesterday. Saturday morning it was 32 degrees below zero and yesterday afternoon the weather bureau reported it was 48 above.

BOARD FIGURES SHOW $9,913,797 BOOST IN TAXES

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Chicago's 1924 tax bill, other than to the federal government, will be approximately $142,097,754. This is $9,913,797 higher than last year's bill. This boost is on the assumption that there will be no increase in rates. If there is, tax payments will be jumped upward accordingly.

The public may be grateful that the increase in the bill was not more than $9,913,797. Mayor Dever urged adjustment of tax assessments, which, if carried out fully, would have made an increase of $29,741,391. But the board of review made it only one-third of that amount. The mayor declined to say yesterday whether he is satisfied with one-third of the amount he recommended. Mr. Dever's target was tax dodgers, and any one acquainted with taxes will admit the tax evasions are enormous.

Bad Outlook for Pay Boosts.

Of the $9,913,797 increase the city proper willl get about one-third, of which third about $2,081,250 will be available for current expenses. Yet it was the opinion of members of the council finance committee yesterday that they will not have a dollar with which to increase salaries. Policemen and firemen have asked for a raise which aggregates $3,400,000, and other employés have asked boosts totaling about $1,000,000 more. Inability to grant wage advances was argued by the aldermen, because last year the city spent $2,500,000 to $3,500,000, it is roughly estimated, in excess of its corporate income. If the added taxes for the city are used to pay the city's deficit, as indicated yesterday, the requested $3,000,000 increase for street and alley cleaning this year will be shoved into an ash can.

On the other hand, the bonding power of the city was increased $6,250,000. This, with the present unused bonding power and the bonds which will be paid off shortly, gives the city probably $13,000,000 for construction of permanent improvements.

Two Years' Taxes Compared.

The above estimates regarding taxes are based upon tax valuations completed yesterday by the board of review. These, together with valuations fixed by the state tax commission, permit a comparison of the total valuations in Chicago for 1922 and 1923 as follows:

Property—	1922.	1923.
Real estate ..	$1,176,576,644	$1,302,393,660
Personal	371,213,956	370,324,065
Railroad	73,788,527	75,300,887
Capital stock..	44,668,646	45,392,328
Total	$1,666,241,773	$1,793,410,960

These figures indicate an increase in the assessed valuation in Chicago of about $127,000,000, or a full valuation of $254,000,000. For Cook county as a whole the valuation turned out yesterday by the board of review and the state tax commission previously was $1,947,183,972. This is comparable with $1,812,154,479 for the previous year—an increase of $134,000,000.

In addition to all this, there has been a recent decision of the state Supreme court by which valuations for insurance companies will be adjusted upwards. The total involved has been estimated by one tax official as between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000, but the city lawyers think it will be between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

Boost Certain Any Way.

Politicians have been contending for years that with a substantial increase in valuations the tax rates would be reduced. The increase was in excess of 7½ per cent. But there is no prospect this year that rates will be decreased. The state has already announced its rate. This has been increased from 45 to 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation. It was explained that the increase is due to the soldiers' bonus.

The county highway tax is to be reduced, because more money was obtained than deemed necessary last year. This will be about 5 cents. The city's rate, on the other hand, probably will be increased 4 cents because of the boost in the amount of bonds outstanding. There may be a cut of 1 cent on the free text book tax levy, but the increase in the south park bonds will probably add 7 cents. The Lincoln park bonds may be decreased 1 cent, but the forest preserve will probably be increased 4 cents. The sanitary district may remain at last year's rate, but they, too, have a small increase in bonds for which they may ask 1 cent boost.

On the whole the tendency is upward rather than either stationary or downward. The exact rates probably will be turned out by the county clerk in ten days or two weeks.

Realty Valuations Hold Four Years.

Valuations this year will hold on real estate for four years. Total valuations are 8.5 per cent above those of the last quadrennial assessment. They in turn are 8.3 per cent above 1915, according to the mayor's calculations.

A friend of Mayor Dever predicted last night that he will have something to say later about "tax dodging."

WILSON OFFERS TO HELP PARTY 'REDEEM NATION'

'Degraded in Purpose,' He Tells Leaders.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 7.—Former President Wilson in a telegram read tonight at the annual Jackson day dinner here declared the Democratic party was intrusted with "the redemption of the nation from the degradation of purpose into which it has in recent days been drawn," and would "be glad to take part" in "an aggressive fight for the establishment of high principles and just action."

Joseph P. Tumulty, former secretary to Mr. Wilson, and Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.] discussed tax problems.

Senator Harrison attacked the Mellon tax reduction plan as a "big business" bill, designed to aid the wealthy. The Democratic party, Senator Harrison said, would not accept in toto Secretary Mellon's tax program, but would seek revisions to relieve more the poorer taxpayers.

Big Business Entrenched.

Secretary Mellon was praised personally by Senator Harrison as a "financial wizard," but the speaker added that Mr. Mellon was himself one of the nation's six largest taxpayers and "typifies big business."

"Big business was never more firmly entrenched than it is today, both in the White House and in the office of secretary of the treasury," said Senator Harrison, "and the propaganda employed to put over this unfair and inequitable Mellon plan of taxation is the most subtle and best organized in all the history of the government."

Declaring that the Mellon plan did not include the farmer and small business man in its provision to reduce taxes on earned incomes by 25 per cent, the speaker criticized especially the proposed cut in surtaxes from a maximum of 50 to 25 per cent.

Wilson Writes Women.

Marion, O., Jan. 7.—Hope that the Marion County Democratic Women's club "may play their full part in the redemption of the nation which our party must presently undertake," was expressed in a letter received today from Woodrow Wilson by Mrs. E. J. Hollandshead, secretary of the club.

MARCUSE FUND TRUSTEES FREED FROM LIABILITY

Seven men associated with the brokerage firm of Marcuse & Co., which failed in 1920 with losses running from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, were released from liability by the United States Supreme court.

They are Clement Studebaker Jr. and George M. Studebaker, automobile manufacturers of South Bend, Ind.; Henry Vette, Peter M. Zuncker, Theodore Regensteiner, Frank A. Hecht, and Joseph I. Finn. They were creators of a trust fund when Marcuse took over Von Frantzius & Co.'s business.

The Supreme court held Ben Marcuse and Joseph Morris, general partners, liable.

RABBIS CONDUCT DIVORCE HEARING IN COURTROOM

The grim walls of the arraignment room of the county jail witnessed a strange scene late yesterday, when five Jewish rabbis, skulicaps tight on their heads, sat in judgment at a hearing for a divorce between a man awaiting trial and his wife.

The prisoner was Leo Raff, charged with forgery, and the woman seeking annulment of their marriage, an act very seldom practiced in the Jewish race, was Mrs. Sima Raff. The latter, in Superior court last week, obtained a legal divorce.

Under the laws of the church which united the couple, it alone could separate them. Hence the parents of the woman appealed to State's Attorney Crowe to allow Raff to be brought outside the jail so that the church rites could be performed.

Mr. Crowe assigned Assistant Prosecutors Milton D. Smith and Berthold Cronson to call a committee of rabbis to hear the case. Rabbi Philip H. Davis, 2063 Ogden avenue; Rabbi M. Berenson, 722 South Ashland avenue, and Israel M. Perlman, 1120 South Albany avenue, a scribe, responded.

Raff and his wife were brought in. The conversation lapsed into Hebrew. A long decree was written on parchment and handed to the man. After a prayer, he dropped it into the hands of Mrs. Raff and the divorce was complete.

Raff returned to his cell, the rabbis gathered up their papers, books, and pens and went out. Mrs. Raff returned to her home, a free woman.

SPEEDWAY PARK STOCKHOLDERS WIN BIG CLAIM

Minority stockholders in the Speedway Park association, who claim $3,000,000 is due them through the transfer of the Speedway hospital to the government by Edward Hines, were victorious in a decision handed down yesterday by the United States Supreme court. The suit was brought by William Leather and Leon K. Leigh against Mark J. White and others. They based their action on a question of title in the purchase of the land by Mr. Hines.

The Supreme court reversed a decision of the lower courts which held the government's title to the property to be good. No written opinion was submitted, the court merely announcing it would reverse the lower courts "on authorities cited." The minority stockholders claimed the property had been fraudulently transferred to the government.

Senate Still Deadlocked Over Committee Election

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—On two more ballots today the senate failed to break its deadlock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee, and adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

MISS DEMOCRACY OF OHIO FLIRTS WITH 3 SUITORS

Smiles on McAdoo, Cox, and Underwood.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—McAdoo, Underwood, and Cox are the aspirants to the Democratic nomination for President who appear to be of immediate concern to the Democratic politicians of Ohio. All of them are showing signs of interest in the disposition of the Ohio delegates to the Democratic national convention.

There will be a Jackson day dinner at Columbus tomorrow night at which Gov. Cox is expected to make a more or less veiled bid for the 1924 nomination despite his disastrous defeat in the 1920 election. He is said to be the only person who voted the Democratic ticket in 1920 who thinks Mr. Cox has a Chinaman's chance of carrying off the nomination next June, but there are multitudes of Ohio Democrats who are willing and eager that he should try for it, if for no other reason than the extremely practical one of keeping the Ohio delegation out of the hands of McAdoo.

Cox Grievance Against McAdoo.

Mr. McAdoo seems to be cordially disliked by those who are prominent in the Cox following. They complain that McAdoo, after being defeated by Cox in the San Francisco convention sulked in his tent throughout the campaign, refusing to give aid and comfort to the ticket headed by his triumphant rival.

Mr. McAdoo vigorously denies the charge and points to times and places when he went out of his way to work for Cox and the ticket generally. But the Cox folks decline to be consoled except by schemes to even up scores with Mr. McAdoo.

Democratic leaders here say that Cox easily can get the delegation or the greater part of it. There are only about five districts in the state in which McAdoo would have a good chance of taking delegates away from Cox.

Railroad Men for McAdoo.

Ten delegates would be only one-fifth of the delegation and under the unit rule. Cox would have the entire Ohio aggregation. McAdoo's chief strength is in communities where railroad employés are numerous and influential.

Senator Underwood [Dem., Ala.] is to make a speech here a couple of weeks hence, but whether he will be an active contestant in the Democratic primary remains to be seen.

There is a close community of interest between the friends of Cox and the friends of Underwood. In fact, in most cases these friends are identical. They are in favor of Underwood staying out of Ohio and keeping his powder dry, relying on the Cox delegation to support him after the preliminary balloting. If Underwood and McAdoo both should get into the fight in Ohio the Cox and Underwood forces would be divided and McAdoo would be the beneficiary.

Klan May Cut Figure.

Mr. McAdoo is to make a speech here shortly after the Underwood appearance and an announcement is expected at that time shedding light on the intentions of the former secretary of the treasury in regard to the Ohio contest.

The Ku Klux Klan is pretty strong in Ohio and might prove to be a factor of consequence in the primary if Underwood should be an open contestant. Underwood has denounced and defied the klan and is credited with an intention to make an anti klan pronouncement a plank in his platform. McAdoo partisans view this departure with considerable satisfaction, opining that McAdoo will carry every state in the solid south except Alabama.

Tampico, Mexican Oil Port, Captured by Rebels, Report

New Orleans, La., Jan. 7.—Tampico has been captured by rebel forces, according to the New Orleans Daily States, which bases its story on information received through Mexican revolutionary circles here.

(Many American oil companies are operating in the Tampico district.)

Get Report of Attack.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—De la Huerta adherents today were advised that a heavy force of rebels had attacked the city of Tampico under the command of Gen. Lopez de Lara in an effort to complete occupation of the oil bearing region of Mexico. Rebels have been concentrating in the section for several days.

Reports that Gen. Manuel Chao, former Villista, had attacked and captured Tepehuanes, Durango, on the railroad that runs northwest from Durango City, came to the border today. Chao has been operating in that district since he revolted against the government and attacked a train near Parral.

Deny Capture of Tampico.

Brownsville, Tex., Jan. 7.—[By Associated Press.]—Mexican consuls at both Brownsville and Laredo this afternoon emphatically denied rumors that the Tampico garrison had revolted and joined the De la Huerta forces. Matamoros and Nuevo Laredo are reported to have been in telegraphic communication this morning, and no message was received which intimated that the city had revolted or been captured.

Three Generals Executed, Report.

Laredo, Tex., Jan. 7.—Gens. Roberto Cruz, Fausto Topete, and Manuel Berlanga, officers of the Mexican government army, were captured by the rebels a few days ago and immediately executed, according to reliable information received here this evening. The report said the city of Tehuacan was evacuated by the rebels commanded by Gens. Antonio I. Villarreal and Fortunato Maycotte as a strategic move and that federal troops sent against the city by Gen. Eugenio Martinez and commanded by Gens. Cruz, Topete, and Berlanga were allowed to enter, after which the city was surrounded by the rebel troops. In a mass attack the generals were captured, together with more than 1,000 prisoners. Several hundred of the federal soldiers were reported killed.

Held Up Train for U. S.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—Three hundred rebels under Vincene Davila held up a Mexican National railway train at Sabinas, Coahuila, yesterday, took 4,100 pesos from the express car and the guns and ammunition from a few soldier guards on the train, then permitted the train to proceed to the border here, according to American passengers who arrived at Eagle Pass today. The American travelers were not molested, they said, but Davila advised them to get their families out of Mexico.

General Offensive Under Way.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—A general offensive by the federal forces against the Mexican revolutionists "is already under way" on both the Vera Cruz and Jalisco fronts, the Mexican embassy said in a statement today summarizing official advices from Mexico City.

EMBARGO ARMS TO REBELS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—President Coolidge took further steps to aid the Obregon government in Mexico today, signing a proclamation which imposed an immediate embargo on any shipments of war munitions to that country except with the specific approval of the government. A fine of $10,000 or two years' imprisonment or both may be imposed upon convicted violators of the embargo.

The action was taken on recommendation of Secretary Hughes. So far as known, the Washington government has no information as to intended sales of arms to Mexican rebel factions beyond the inquiry through the department of justice, received yesterday from the De la Huerta agent in New Orleans, concerning purchase and assembly in New Orleans for shipment to the rebel forces of arms and ammunition.

President's Proclamation.

The proclamation by the President, after citing the law permitting the chief executive to forbid the export of arms to any country where "conditions of domestic violence exist," adds:

"Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority conferred in me by the said joint resolution of congress, do hereby admonish all citizens of the United States and every person to abstain from every violation of the provisions of the joint resolution above set forth, hereby made applicable to Mexico, and I do hereby warn them that all violations of such provisions will be rigorously prosecuted."

EGG 10,000,000 YEARS OLD NOW ON THE MARKET

New York, Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—The American Museum of Natural History, which has a world corner on the dinosaur egg market, decided today to sell to the highest bidder, for not less than $5,000, one of the twenty-five fossilized eggs of the Protoceratops Andrewsi, unearthed in Mongolia last July by Prof. Roy Chapman Andrews, curator in chief of the division of exploration and research.

Proceeds of the sale, Prof. Andrews said, would be devoted to the $250,000 fund with which, this summer, he hopes to lead an expedition into the Gobi desert, 1,000 miles from Peking, in search of remains of primitive man as he was from 500,000 to 2,000,000 years ago.

The American museum's dinosaur eggs are considered 10,000,000 years old—the product of the ten to twelve foot long ancestor of the Mammoth Triceratops which, some millions of years later left his bones to be dug up in Hell creek basin, Montana.

The eggs were in all stages of development from freshly laid ones to others from which baby dinosaurs were about to be hatched.

FOUND DEAD IN ALLEY.

John Jordan, 56, 902 West 38th place, was found dead, supposedly from heart disease, yesterday in an alley at the rear of 3818 South Halsted street.

DENEEN OPENS CAMPAIGN WITH ATTACK ON RIVAL

Compares Own Record with McCormick's.

Metropolis, Ill., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Former Gov. Charles S. Deneen opened his campaign as candidate for the United States senate with addresses in four towns in Egypt today and tonight, comparing his position on vital national issues with that of Senator Medill McCormick, his opponent for the Republican nomination.

Before arriving here Mr. Deneen spoke at Elizabethtown, Golconda, and Shawneetown.

The former governor said that Senator McCormick's family owns THE TRIBUNE. He then said that the senator and his friends put forward three principal arguments why he should be renominated: First, that he is the father of the national budget law; second, that the proposed child labor amendment to the constitution was drawn and introduced by him, and, third, that he is chairman of a committee of the senate to investigate waterway development from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Sifts Senator's Record.

"Let us examine the record of Senator McCormick on these claims, Mr. Deneen continued.

"I direct your attention first to the budget law. James W. Good of Iowa, former chairman of the house committee on appropriations, introduced a budget bill in 1919 to provide a national budget system and secured its passage. Later the senate passed it. It was vetoed by President Wilson. This was the first budget bill that had ever passed both houses of congress.

"After his election President Harding sent for Mr. Good and urged him to reintroduce his budget bill and pilot it through the congress. Representative Good compiled and reintroduced the bill, which was passed by the house. Senator McCormick introduced the bill on the subject in the senate.

Spoke Against Good Bill.

"Senator McCormick made speeches against the provision of the Good bill and denounced the bill in the senate. Congress passed the Good bill.

"Mr. Good was the father of the national budget law. Yet Mr. McCormick, his friendly newspapers and his press agents now claim that the senator is the father of the bill which he condemned."

In referring to the child labor amendment the speaker contended that the resolution now before the senate is not that prepared by Senator McCormick.

He then passed to the waterway project and quotes two resolutions submitted by Senator McCormick for investigation of the project. It was the former governor contended, a move to "attract attention to him in connection with some popular measure during the campaign."

Turning to his own position on this question, Mr. Deneen goes on to point out that during his administration as governor he recommended a law for the supervision and investigation of all state departments to plan them on a business basis.

In regard to child labor Mr. Deneen pointed to his record which included laws for compulsory education and for the prevention of truancy, the prohibiting of employment in coal mines and regulating the employment in sweat shops and factories of children.

In connection with waterways, Mr. Deneen mentioned various activities of this nature carried out under his administration, including a state investigation of the lakes-gulf waterway, the reclamation problem growing out of the drainage canal, and his efforts to get federal aid for state waterways projects.

"I think one matter that should be considered among others," Mr. Deneen went on, "is the service the candidate has rendered to his party.

"I may say in my own behalf that I have been a lifelong Republican.

Progressive Party Days.

"In 1912, when the Republican party was divided, Senator McCormick, with four of his associates, called on me and made the following proposal: that the candidates remain as candidates on the Republican ticket to keep others from taking our places; that we should support the Progressive presidential ticket and in return no progressive state ticket would be nominated against us.

"The great majority of the Progressive voters did not look with favor upon the course pursued by Senator McCormick, and in order to prevent them having a voice in the matter he and his associates called secret conventions. It was through these means that Senator McCormick, who was the leading spirit, forced the nomination of a third party ticket and defeated the Republican party in this state.

Declaring that Senator McCormick had voted favorably to Senator Newberry on one occasion in the senate, Mr. Deneen continued:

"The voters of Illinois will remember the vast advertising campaign and the evidences of the expenditure of large sums of money in behalf of Senator McCormick in his campaign for the senate six years ago. His face looked upon the passersby from every billboard. It was then stated that the charges for his billboard advertising alone at current rates would cost over $40,000."

TEACHERS AT VASSAR GET MORE FREEDOM AND BIGGER SALARIES

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Complete freedom of research, instruction, and utterance upon matters of opinion has been granted to teachers at Vassar under a statute of instruction issued by the college authorities, it was made known today. The only qualification made by the statute is that the teachers' activities be within the limits of the national and state laws.

The teachers' exercise of the rights and obligations of a citizen and a member of the community shall in no way be affected by their position with the college, the statute sets forth.

It was also announced that 50 per cent of the salary increases for members of the faculty, provided for under a salary endowment fund, has been put into effect.

BAN ON 'DEAD MEN'S TALES' AIM OF GOV. SMALL

"Dead men's tales" will play no part in determining the outcome of the $2,000,000 state interest recovery suit against Gov. Len Small if the defense can prevent.

This attitude was demonstrated in the deposition hearing before Master in Chancery Harry A. Riley yesterday, when Attorney W. W. Schoeder of the governor's staff entered objection to all testimony given by John E. Wagner, treasurer of the Cudahy Packing company, relating to conversations with the late Senator E. C. Curtis, Small's former banking associate.

Mr. Wagner, the first Chicago packer to take the stand, had detailed negotiations he had with Curtis for loans in 1917, 1918, and 1919.

When Assistant Attorney General Charles W. Hadley had finished with direct examination of the witness, Mr. Schroeder conferred briefly with his associate counsel, Thomas Masters, and then made his motion on behalf of Small and all his bondsmen to strike from the record all of Wagner's testimony.

Judge Orders Rosenbaum Incarcerated in Joliet

Orders for the immediate arrest and incarceration in Joliet penitentiary of Sanford "Gimp" Rosebaum, alleged bond runner and police character, were placed in the hands of deputy sheriffs yesterday. The action was taken by Chief Justice John R. Caverly in Criminal court following failure of Rosenbaum to appear to explain whether he had appealed the case on which he was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in prison on a conviction for confidence game several months ago. The time limit for the appeal expired yesterday.

NATE STIRRED Y SHARP TILT ON RED RUSSIA

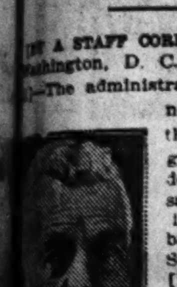
[A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

ashington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Spe-]—The administration's policy of nonrecognition of the Russian soviet government was defended and assailed today in a lively senate debate, in which Senator Lodge [Mass.], Republican leader, and Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho] were the principals.



NATOR H. C. LODGE.

Senator Lodge presented the administration's attitude in a carefully prepared ch, in which he undertook to that the Communist party and soviet republic were inextricably rwoven and that it would be folly extend recognition as long as they ntinued their efforts to undermine d overthrow the United States government.

Borah Backs Soviet.

Senator Borah, replying impromptu, ontended that the evidence was scant upporting the charge that the Rus an government was conducting propa nda in the United States, particu ly in the last three years, and de red that the United States should cognize Russia, as eighteen other tions have done, in the interest of rld peace and stability.

At the end of his speech, Senator rah introduced a resolution calling additional data and documents the state department, relating cially to reports made to the de tment by competent observers on sian conditions in the last few . He declared that almost with exception these reports were to the t that the soviet government was le of maintaining itself and of rving order throughout the terri under its jurisdiction.

y Go Into Whole Problem.

foreign relations committee ake up these reports, if the state tment transmits them to he sen in connection with the investiga promised by Senator Lodge into whole question of Russian recog n.

day's debate apparently left the ation unchanged so far as the sen is concerned. If the Borah resolu favoring Russian recognition were come up for a vote indications are t it would be defeated by a combine the "regular" Republicans and the re conservative Democrats.

enator Lodge declared in opening speech that "the so-called Russian t republic should not be recog at this time by the government United States because the Rus overnment, directly or indirectly, form or another, is making ef to cause disorder and dissension g the American people.

Lodge Presents Proofs.

proceeded then to lay before the ate a great volume of evidence and ments to prove this assertion. Most has already been published by the department in explaining its re l to enter into negotiations with soviet government.

The question of immediate danger e government of the United States revolution or insurrection is not point here," Senator Lodge said. e question is whether you are g to permit the spread of a pesti through the country. It might but little effect, but I think it r to guard against it. A very sure y of permitting it to spread is by gnizing the people who are under ing to spread doctrines that would strike at the very foundations of free organized society and seek to destroy all the principles which have made the United States what it is today—the best, freest, and most prosperous country in the world.

More at Stake than Trade.

"There is something more at stake here than trade. There is nothing now to stop trade with Russia. The reason we do not have business with Russia is because that country is producing no surplus, either of manufactures or agricultural products, which gives them a chance to pay for our exports to them. Trade is impossible and is found so in practice.

"But no trade is worth endangering what is far more important, the basic principles of American freedom or the welfare of the American people.

"'Obsta principiis' is an ancient and wise rule never more needed here than at this moment when we are asked to give recognition not to a people or to a country but to a government—an active and insidious enemy working under our flag against all the beliefs and institutions which Americans hold most precious."

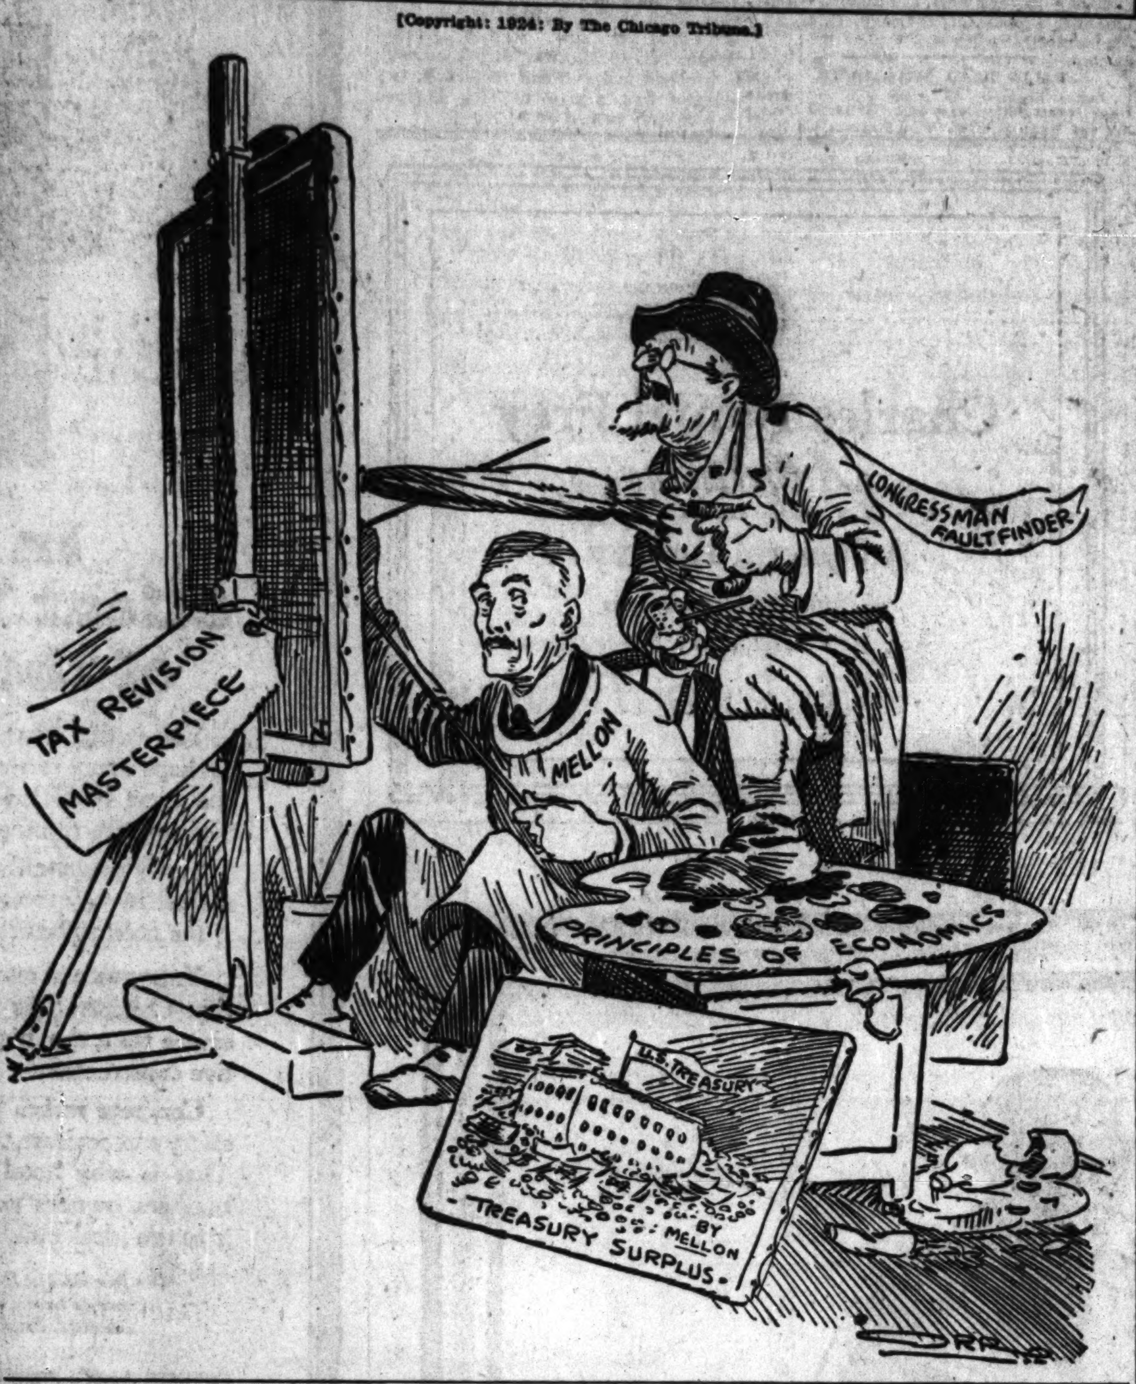
Quotes Goodrich and Fall.

Senator Borah declared that the proof submitted by Senator Lodge would not stand a test in any court in the country, but, admitting that it was all true, he asked, would it not be easier to deal with it if diplomatic relations were restored? He quoted interviews and reports of former Gov. Goodrich of Indiana, former Secretary of the Interior Fall, Col. Haskell, and others who have been in Russia in support of his statements concerning the stability of the Russian government.

Senator Brookhart [Rep., Ia.] declared that the reasons given by the administration spokesmen for not recognizing Russia were "the most ridiculous I ever heard from grown up men."

THE CRITIC

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]



FAILED TO RIGHT WRONG, BUT WINS JURY'S RESPECT

Among other chauffeurs with whom he associates, Harry Morse of Morgan Park is known as "one square guy." And yesterday, after he had told his story to a coroner's jury, which held Mrs. Emma Morek, a midwife, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Helen Koss of 2621 Ward street, the jurors unanimously voted that Harry was "one square guy."

Morse, who is 28 years old, told between sobs how he had struggled in vain to right a wrong for which he was not wholly responsible, and a colorless police report read to the jury, showed he had even attempted to pay with his life when his efforts failed.

Tells of Love for Girl.

Morse said he had fallen in love with Miss Koss three years ago. There were automobile rides together, attendance at dances, trips to the movies, and picnic parties in summer. He was madly in love with the girl, he said and had asked her time and again to marry him, but she had refused. He was "a good fellow" and all that, she told him, but she was looking higher in her marriage hopes.

On Dec. 15, he said, she had sent for him. She was crying. She told him of her fears. He took her to see a physician, who confirmed her fears. Morse offered to marry her that day, pleaded with her to become his wife, he said. She refused again.

"I don't ever want to see you again," she told him.

That was the last time he saw her. He went to her home only to be refused admittance by relatives. The girl would not see him. Efforts to reach her on the phone also failed. That was all he knew, he said, until notified of her death.

Record Tells Suicide Effort.

Records at the Sheffield avenue station supplied a chapter which he omitted. These records showed that a young man giving the name of Harry Morse was found, apparently in a dying condition, on the doorstep of the Koss home on the night of Jan. 2. He admitted he had taken iodine in an effort to end his life. At Alexian Brothers hospital, where physicians saved his life, he said he wanted to die because the girl he loved had refused to marry him.

Police read a dying statement made by Miss Koss at Norwegian-American hospital in which she said her condition was due to an operation performed by Mrs. Morck of 828 Fullerton avenue, on the night of Dec. 30. The jurors held the midwife to the grand jury on a murder charge. They shook the hand of Harry Morse and called him "one square guy."

NEW SHAKEUP ON WAY, COLLINS TELLS CAPTAINS

The lid is on to stay.

Mayor Dever's message to the police force accompanying Saturday's shift of police captains was reiterated yesterday by Chief Collins when he summoned deputy superintendents and district commanders to his office to inaugurate the new cleanup.

To make certain that the station "cliques," which he believes have allowed beer and booze to trickle into soft drink parlors, handbooks to flourish, and vicious resorts to spring up, despite the mayor's edict, the chief announced that another shakeup which would affect lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen of almost every precinct in the city was in prospect for the latter part of the week.

"Wherever it is necessary we will start you off with a clean slate so far as your command is concerned," declared Chief Collins to the assembled captains. "And then the responsibility is yours."

Among other cautions to the captains, Chief Collins suggested that youthful first offenders be dealt with leniently. Give the parents another chance to discipline the wayward boy before forcing him into contact with a cellroom full of hardened criminals, he advised.

"The time has come when the 'cop' must be protector of the wayward boy rather than an agency to force him further into a life of crime. Be a big brother to the boy who has only nicked the law, and it may never be necessary to punish him for really breaking it."

In the transfer of "hard boiled" lieutenants to command "hard" districts, the mayor and Chief Collins employed unusual strategy to tighten the lid, city hall observers pointed out yesterday.

MARINE GIVES POLICE 48 HOURS TO CLEAN UP CITY

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 7.—A new deal in city government, relentless war for law enforcement, and a clean sweep of vice within forty-eight hours were promised by the new city administration which went into office today. W. Freeland Kendrick took the oath as mayor.

The outstanding figure in the new official family was Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler of the marine corps, who has been given a year's leave of absence in order to serve as director of the department of safety.

Butler took the oath of office and called into his office all the bureau chiefs.

"I must demand from each one of you your resignation," he told them. "If you do your duty, everything will be all right and the resignations will be torn up and thrown into the waste basket. You have forty-eight hours to clean up. You stand or fall on what you do under me. Graft must be wiped out."

RADICALS SPRING NEW TAX PLAN IN THE HOUSE

Bars Tax Exempt Bonds, Keeps Surtax Up.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Tax revision proposals more radical than those of the Democrats were presented to the house today in a speech by Representative Frear [Rep., Wis.], the only member of the La Follette Republican group on the ways and means committee.

Mr. Frear's suggestions, comprising substantially the program for which the La Follette group in both houses will stand, includes an excess profits tax, a tax on undistributed profits of corporations, an increased inheritance tax, a tax on gifts, a greater reduction on normal taxes than advocated by Secretary Mellon, and a reduction in taxes on earned incomes as proposed by Secretary Mellon. He opposed any reduction in surtax rates.

Democratic Plan on Record.

Representative Garner [Dem., Tex.], ranking minority member of the ways and means committee, obtained permission from the house to place in the record the Democratic tax revision program as announced yesterday.

A subcommittee of the ways and means committee turned aside from its consideration of administrative provisions of the treasury tax bill long enough to approve the resolution proposing a constitutional amendment prohibiting the future issuance of tax exempt securities.

The Democratic proposals made public yesterday were the topic of much discussion. Republican leaders gave the Democrats credit for being shrewd enough to announce as their program one which follows the general lines of the compromise for which many Republicans from agricultural districts have been contending. It is conceded that the passage of a bill containing a compromise surtax minimum is a likelihood.

Prepare Surtax Figures.

Treasury experts today were engaged in preparing estimates intended to show how much federal revenues would be reduced by the Democratic program, proposing a minimum surtax rate of 44 per cent as against the treasury's maximum rate of 25 per cent.

Mr. Frear introduced a series of bills for so revising the revenue law as to lighten the burden to the small taxpayer and to increase the taxes of big corporations and persons of large wealth.

The Frear program includes the following:

Taxes Undistributed Profits.

A tax on undistributed profits of corporations, the rates being 5 per cent of amounts not exceeding $20,000 after deducting a $3,000 exemption, 10 per cent on amounts not exceeding $100,000, 15 per cent on amounts not exceeding $200,000, and 20 per cent on amounts above $200,000.

Doubling of present inheritance taxes, making the rates from 2 to 50 per cent instead of from 1 to 25 per cent.

A tax of from 1 to 25 per cent on gifts.

Reduction of normal taxes to 2 and 4 per cent, respectively, instead of 3 and 6 per cent as proposed by Secretary Mellon, but no reduction whatever in surtax rates.

Reduction of 25 per cent in taxes on earned incomes as proposed by Secretary Mellon.

Throttles Supreme Court.

Imposition of a tax on incomes from municipal and state securities under a bill prohibiting the Supreme court from declaring it invalid except with the concurrence of all but one justice.

Publicity of tax returns and tax proceedings.

Repeal of all nuisance taxes.

Representative Frear in his address predicted the defeat of the Mellon proposal for a reduction in surtax rates and Mr. Mellon himself will save over $1,000,000 annually in income taxes under this program.

Mr. Frear declared that a soldiers' bonus bill will be enacted into law notwithstanding the opposition of Secretary Mellon.

Repudiate Own Platform.

Democrats opposing the Mellon tax reduction plan have repudiated their party's 1920 platform, John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, asserted tonight. He quoted the following from the Democratic platform:

"The continuation in force in peace times of taxes devised under the pressure of imperative necessity to produce a revenue for war purposes is indefensible and can only result in lasting injury to the people. . . . We advocate tax reform and a searching revision of the war revenue acts to fit peace conditions so that the wealth of the nation may not be withdrawn from productive enterprise and diverted to unproductive expenditure."

"One of the features of the Mellon tax plan is a reduction of surtaxes for the express purpose of inducing the wealth of the nation to invest in productive enterprises, rather than tax exempt securities," Mr. Adams commented.

"This is advocated in the above platform, and is the very feature which is being made the object of attack by certain Democratic politicians.

"The fact that the substantial citizens of the country who are affiliated with the Democratic party are in favor of the proposed tax reduction is clearly evidenced in the attitude of practically every Democratic newspaper of any consequence, which favors the Mellon plan."

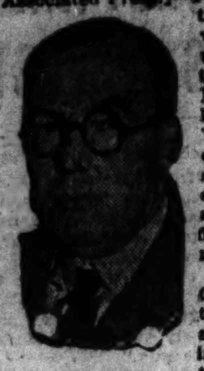
VETS' COUNSEL ASSAILS FORBES' RULE OF BUREAU

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—Fraud and corruption existed in the veterans' bureau under the directorship of Charles R. Forbes, John F. O'Ryan of New York, general counsel for the senate veterans' committee, asserts in a report filed with the committee.



CHARLES R. FORBES.

Moreover, O'Ryan charges that Forbes himself "was a leading actor in an established conspiracy to defraud the government" on hospital contracts.

He names as other parties to the alleged conspiracy C. B. Hurley, president of the Hurley-Mason company of Tacoma, Wash.; J. W. Thompson, a St. Louis contractor; the late James W. Black of Chicago, and Elias H. Mortimer of Philadelphia, the chief witness in the committee's public hearing.

Ewing Laporte of Pittsburgh, an assistant secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration, and E. L. Morse, prominent in Missouri Republican politics, are assailed in connection with the purchase of Morse's homestead at Excelsior Springs.

Characterizing as "criminal" the sale of bureau supplies from the Perryville, Md., supply depot to the Kelly-Thompson company of Boston, O'Ryan attacks Forbes and Lieutenant Commander Charles R. O'Leary, U. S. N., in connection with it.

FALLS DEAD NEAR HOME.

James Leonard, 55 years old, fell dead from heart failure last night within a block of his home at 1355 West Madison street.

Wife of Ex-Market Master Robbed of $2,500 Fur Coat

After imprisoning Mrs. Sadie Krakow, 1245 South Halsted street, wife of Louis Krakow, former market master of the Maxwell street market, in a closet in her home yesterday, two masked and armed robbers escaped with a coat valued at $2,500.

DEVER'S EFFORTS FAIL TO BRING MILK PARLEYS

Last night found Chicago's milk strike at a deadlock. The distributors balked at meeting a committee of producers. Thus Mayor Dever's move for arbitration in the producers' strike ended, for a time at least, in failure.

"Well, I've done all I can. But I've failed," was the comment of Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen when the dealers' committee, headed by Frank H. Coleman, filed out of his office.

While the two hours' closed conference between Dr. Bundesen and the distributors was in progress the producers were waiting expectantly in the corridor. But their vigil was in vain.

A carload of milk from Lebanon, Ind., was rejected by the health department; a consignment from Wisconsin was denied admittance to the city. Dr. Bundesen investigated the purity of the product of two distributors and recommended revocation of their licenses.

The distributors did not play fair with the farmers when milk was boosted from 13 to 14 cents a quart, it was charged by Joseph Rushkiewicz, secretary of the high cost committee of the city council. He said the distributors want the farmers to cut the wholesale price and say nothing about cheaper retail milk.

Nab D'Andrea as Gun Toter; He's Deputy Sheriff

Philip D'Andrea, 3342 Iowa avenue, a cousin of Anthony D'Andrea, well known political and labor leader in the old Nineteenth ward, who was shot and killed in a political feud three years ago, was arrested by a crime squad from the detective bureau Sunday morning, charged with carrying concealed weapons. D'Andrea, who says he is also a cousin of Joseph D'Andrea, killed in a labor war in 1914, was released when his statement that he was a deputy sheriff was corroborated by Sheriff Peter Hoffman.

This map represents the territory known as "Uptown Chicago" which has grown from a wilderness to a large city within a city.

Uptown Chicago—A City Within a City

In no other part of the world in a similar expanse of territory has such marvelous growth been recorded in two decades as in the section known as "Uptown Chicago."

A great city within a city, pulsating with progress, teeming with business activity, happy with homes, this section covers nineteen square miles comprising all the territory between Fullerton Avenue and the northern city limits from Lake Michigan west to the river. Four hundred thousand people live in this area.

No other section of Chicago enjoys more excellent transportation facilities than are here provided by the elevated, North Shore lines, the steam roads, the surface cars, the motor coaches, and boulevard systems.

In this territory are one hundred residential, apartment and transient hotels adjacent to Lake Michigan, including some notably palatial hotels unrivaled anywhere.

Twenty-five banks are conveniently located whose combined resources total over eighty million dollars.

In this area also are fourteen theatres, two of which rank among the finest in the country, also two great department stores, and seventy-one retail dry goods stores.

Here also is located Chicago's largest and most beautiful cafeteria — the ONTRA —which caters to the discriminating populace from all parts of Uptown Chicago. In choosing 1004 Wilson Avenue as the location for this, her largest cafeteria, Miss Dutton has demonstrated her interest and faith in this great territory and has found a very definite place among the builders of Uptown Chicago.

MAKING TAX CUTS A LURE FOR VOTES.

Politics for the benefit of the politician in contrast to statesmanship for the benefit of the nation is revealed with exceptional clearness in the position taken by Representative Garner of Texas with reference to the Mellon tax reduction program. Representative Garner, who is a Democrat and ranking member of the house ways and means committee, proves himself to be the politician.

No one, except, perhaps, Mr. Garner himself and politicians of his stamp, will deny that Secretary Mellon is his superior as an authority on finance and economics. Few will deny that Secretary Mellon, with his long record of remarkable business success, his great achievements in the treasury department, and his freedom from political entanglements, obligations, and ambitions, is potentially and actually a financier rather than a politician. No one who has studied his tax reduction program will doubt that it is based upon profound knowledge, clear thought, and calm judgment.

The secretary has brought to his task an equipment which very few men in this country possess, and which few men in congress appreciate. He has worked out a plan of tax reduction designed to accomplish two things—to reduce the direct individual tax burden, and to stimulate business so as to increase general prosperity and thus reduce the indirect tax burden.

Garner, and politicians of his ilk, on the other hand, ignore the great economic problems incident to taxation, and alter the Mellon bill point by point to conform to political needs. They show, first, that they are unable to develop an original and comprehensive tax reduction program of their own, and, second, that their purpose is to win the votes of their constituents rather than the prosperity of the nation.

That is unadulterated politics, entirely without economic wisdom or thought. It is designed to appeal to the mass of voters on the superficial promise of reducing their burdens. It takes absolutely no thought of the prosperity of the nation, which is as much to the fore in Mellon's plan as is the direct tax reduction.

Mr. Mellon wants to stimulate business by relieving tax burdens so that prosperity will be general and what taxes are needed will be easy to pay. Mr. Garner wants to gather votes by relieving taxation for the voters, regardless of any effect upon prosperity. Let the public, through congress, take its choice.

ORGANIZED LOYALTY.

The organized reserve officer of the 6th corps area, Frank D. Ely, reports that in nine and one-half months covering the campaign begun last March 2,164 applications for commissions in the Officers' Reserve corps were received. This is an admirable showing and should prove to congress that the organized reserve can be made a reality if properly provided for.

That it should be made a reality ought to need no argument. Except to peace-at-any-price doctrinaires and reds or pinks, it should be plain to every American that a reserve of trained officers in civilian life is of incalculable value not only as an element of our military defense but as an organization of patriotism which will help to assure our domestic tranquillity and the preservation of our institutions.

We do not imply that the O. R. C. is subject to call in local riots or disturbances. That is a duty of the National Guard. But the real significance of both the Guard and the Reserve lies deeper. They represent a mobilization of loyalty, and, though they were never called out, they would still influence powerfully our national character as centers of patriotism and buttresses of citizenship.

If congress has a proper sense of the need a vast democracy has for the cohesion of national sentiment and the organization of citizenship for the conservation of national institutions it will provide liberally for the Guard and the Organized Reserve. The American nation contains centrifugal forces and disintegrating influences which we have no disposition to exaggerate but which are mischievous enough to call for a definite system of resistance. We have seen in other countries what misfortunes come from the lack of cohesion and preparation for common action among the best class of their people. The result has been chaos. If we are wise we shall not leave organization to the forces of disintegration. We shall give the strength of organization to loyalty.

THE IRISH FREE STATE MAKING GOOD.

Substantial evidence of the fundamental soundness of the Irish Free State government is contained in a report of the minister of finance for the first nine months of the current fiscal year. Representing as it does the work of a new and inexperienced government and one dealing with new and exceptional problems, the revelations of the report give hopeful assurance that the new Ireland is firmly founded and certain of success.

The country began its fiscal independence with an estimate that its receipts would be £20,000,000 below its necessary disbursements. Estimates now, based upon actual receipts and disbursements, are that this deficit will be £2,000,000 less than anticipated. Furthermore, the deficit has been ably provided for, and the outlook is that next year it will be considerably less, if it is not wiped out entirely.

In view of the fact that much of the expenditure is due to the settlement of damages incident to the civil war, this record is especially good. Compared with the financing of various other European countries it is even more remarkable. Such a record should encourage the country to new efforts and to new stability. Greater prosperity and greater strength will reward a continuation of such government.

SOCIALIST TENDENCY IN AMERICA.

The late election in Great Britain seems to have placed British politics face to face with an issue deeper than any brought to the front in the campaign, or in any previous campaign for many years. It is the issue of socialism versus individualism, which though it has been involved in the legislation and politics of the realm in some form or other, is now brought sharply into the foreground by the possibility of a labor party government dominated by Socialists.

British socialism is, from the Russian point of view, a pallid and expedient thing. It is, from our point of view, all the more serious a menace to Britain for being realistic, opportunist, and, as the Marxian thinks, pusillanimously moderate. Knowing the profound conservatism of British character, the able and practical leaders of the Labor party have no intention of alarming it by threat of violent revolution. On the contrary, they are always explaining that, while they seek a radical transformation of the British system, they favor only gradual, peaceful, and constitutional transformation—in other words, a revolution in final results, brought about as painlessly as possible by evolution, assisted and accelerated by a Labor government.

To any believer in individualist democracy this offers small consolation. The disease is no less fatal for being gradual in its destruction. It is the more difficult to combat because it is gradual and insidious. And we offer this consideration to the individualists of America. We are not nearly so far on the way toward a socialist state as is Great Britain. From the socialist point of view, we have not even started. But there are many tendencies in this direction and a strong body of sentiment which is in fact socialistic. Almost none of our politicians is out and out socialist, but what offers itself these days as "progressivism" is all for increasing the powers and functions of government, extending its surveillance and regulation of private affairs, and taking over private property and operations in one industry after another. Our colleges and our schools are full of socialistic sentiment and assumptions, and a large part of our population has been drawn from old world countries in which socialism is virtually the only doctrine of popular progress.

This represents a serious and ominous change in the atmosphere and direction of American opinion, and it is all the more dangerous in lacking open and organized adoption. The various branches of party socialism are not formidable, but the dissemination of socialistic theories and assumptions and the gradual and apparently unrelated proposal or adoption of laws increasing the intervention of the state in private affairs are an evil which is too little recognized and most ineffectively resisted.

We hope there will be a more courageous defense of the principles and institutions of our individualist democracy and a more alert analysis and challenge of the various socialistic proposals urged by politicians and writers in the plausible name of progress and reform. Men like La Follette of Wisconsin, Norris of Nebraska, Brookhart of Iowa, and others who stay within the ranks of either party for election purposes are socialists at heart, and their drive is always in the direction of a system of political restriction of private initiative, arbitrary distribution of property, and the control of the individual by political bureaucracy. None of these men adheres openly to systematic socialism, and may not admit, even to himself, what the tendency of his influence and action is, any more than do their followers. But they are at work for a socialistic transformation of America, nevertheless.

Meanwhile their proposals are not analyzed, nor their tendency exposed; nor is the defense of capitalist society, with its vast benefits to mankind, or of individual liberty, vigorously made. This is not a wholesome situation. We have forgotten what was once a truism, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

"IGNORANCE OF THE LAW EXCUSES NO ONE."

A small pamphlet of thirty-two pages, of proportions suitable for any vest pocket or woman's handbag, and bearing the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill!" is the city council's and city clerk's new year contribution to the safety campaign directed to motorists in Chicago. The booklet is a complete digest of all traffic regulations governing motor vehicles in Chicago. It is being distributed to all who apply for motor vehicle licenses. We recommend that it be read as well as accepted by them. If these regulations are learned and understood, as they can be learned and understood from this pamphlet, motor accidents and deaths in Chicago will be decreased.

Editorial of the Day

BRITAIN A "WELCHER"?

[The British-American.]

A Chicago newspaper prints a map of Europe's defaulting nations on the war debt question, and gives it the caption: "The League of Welchers." Britain is included in this map because "the Labor party rising to power in Great Britain will be for British repudiation of the American debt."

And just a day or two before this journal thus misrepresented our best international ally the United States treasury at Washington received a British remittance of $23,000,000 to apply on principal. This is in addition to the 1923 interest payment of $138,000,000.

This same Chicago paper (though not avowedly anti-British, a bitter critic at intervals of John Bull's ways and manners) sometimes prints a letter from a subscriber returned from England, who has been impressed by the lack of good will to America over there.

"Underneath the surface politeness they excel in," is the intimation, "the Britons cherish nothing but hostility for their American cousins. It crops out every now and then, and is unmistakable."

We do not believe there is enough malice toward Uncle Sam in the United Kingdom to cover a postage stamp, let alone a village, town, or city; we have too many proofs of British cordiality from Tommies in the trenches to premiers in parliament;

BUT—

Suppose there were a little now and then as a direct result of such an insult as the foregoing? Would it be surprising?

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE WINNING plan for eternal peace for which Mr. Bok paid $100,000 has been given to the newspapers and we are now ready to vote. Personally we will vote no, although we do not know whether it is a good peace plan or a poor peace plan, for we haven't read it. But we do not like thee, Mr. Bok; that this is true gives us a shock, for you're so good we should not mock, but we do not like thee, Mr. Bok.

VERY CARELESS OF ROVER.

Rhl: John Steele of the Trib's foreign service, in speaking of the French loans to Poland and the Little Entente, said: "It has not been possible to ascertain what the total amount of these loans are." Well, sir, that reminds me of the story of the little boy who asked his dog Rover if he had fleas and Rover replied, "Sure I are, everybody do."

THE KEYSTONER.

A PUZZLING QUESTION.

Dear R. H. L.: In the current issue of the Satevepost there is a picture of a camel and its baby with the caption: "Behold the world's greatest infant boob, the camel baby. Half the time it doesn't know its own mother." Coming so soon after the New Year in this great national oasis of ours I think it unfair to slander the baby camel. Having heard that a camel can go for days without a drink, it occurred to me that the baby camel may not be such a boob; that it does know its mother, but that it doesn't need liquid refreshment as often as some people might think. Indifference does not always indicate ignorance. Knowing from your articles on the zoo that you are a menagerie expert, I would appreciate your valuable opinion—Is the baby camel the prize boob?

SUNNY SAM.

WE would hesitate to pronounce the baby camel the prize boob until we know whether it goes without dinner because it wants to, or because the kangaroos voted it should go without dinner. If the baby camel let the kangaroos vote away its constitutional privileges, then it is the prize boob.

SHALL SOMEONE SING?

When bright with gold Cuchulain's brand
Flung silver death to the breasts of men,
What braid, by strand and ruddier strand,
Was dyed in the red dew falling then?
What queen of a misty realm or girl
Of the Everliving by some lone sea
Wove her hands in a kindred curl
And keened in the wan wind anxiously?

Who was the woman great with love
For a gem set deep in gold whereof
The song of a war-king throbs and thrills?
In a chamber painted with all delight,
In a bower blushed with a rhythm of rose,
What princess wept alone in the night
And wept in the dawn alone—who knows?

O fair young girls blown over with dust
And blown like dust on the desert, now,
What kings have kissed you, livid with lust,
Having gold on breast and delicate brow?
And O my girl that I kiss tonight,
When the world has circled a thousand years
Shall someone sing of your dead delight
And strike from a sounding string your tears?

THE DOLLS SPEAK A LITTLE PLAINER.

Dear Mr. rhl: Have you seen Madame Eleanora Deuce in that play of Ibsen's called Ghosts? Well, if you haven't, don't waste your money on it. Ma and my sister went to see it and the only part of the whole danged thing that we could understand was where the old woman (that's Deuce) was going to give her son (that's the crazy young man) a lickin'. We could understand that part all right by the actions. The young man was holding out his hands in front of him and kept backing away from her hollering, "No-no! Ma-ma-ma! No-no-Ma-ma-ma-ma-a-a!" for all the world like one of them squawking Mama dolls!

Sir: The Line has become an obsession. Liners are exceeded only by Radioites in the brotherliness and eruptivity of their fanism. As proof of which I cite the following, which happened in Michigan:

It was at the Opry. Pagliacci was in full blast. I sat fore; they sat aft. Mr. Canio was stropping up in preparation for a wholesale violation of Mr. Moses' Sixth Amendment, when a musical whisper floated to me from way back—"And, my dear, do you know I made The Line!" The usherettes began to mobilize as I whirled about and told the world; after we got put out we three then compared notes while seated on the curbstone with our feet in what they used to pick the boys up out of back in the Good Old Days. Cordially your servant,

MR. MICHIGAN.

WE ARE informed that Prince Eitel Frederick and Prince Oscar Hohenzollern, sons of the former kaiser, led a parade in Berlin of the Association of Front Line Soldiers of the Steel Helmet. Which was probably the first time that Eitel or Oscar ever walked in advance of front line troops.

Sir: It seems like cruelty for blundering literati to distort a statement which might have resulted in help for a subject who needed assistance.

Fair, was she, to behold, that maiden of seventeen summers, was not the quotation; W. J. B. was not the author. The quotation was, Spare, was she, to be bold, that shivering maiden in bloomers.

The quotation is found in a book entitled "Six Minutes," written by Gunga Din, a lady who conducts a "Cross Question and Silly Answer" Colym in a newspaper published at Ujiji, Ala.

TREATING DISCHARGE FROM THE EAR.

WITHIN the last two years we have had two articles on methods of treating ears which continue to discharge for a long time.

The first came from Rochester, N. Y., where they cure most of these cases without giving them a great deal of care by the physician himself. In the Rochester plan the physician examines the ear, makes the diagnosis, and then shows the parent how to wash out the suppurating ear with Dakin's fluid once or twice a day. The patient comes back to the clinic occasionally to get a more thorough cleansing and an examination.

The second is even more simple. It consists in exposing the ear to sunlight for a certain number of minutes each day.

A third method is dependent on the fact that a certain proportion of the ear suppurations are the result of infection with tubercle bacilli. The tube which runs to the ear chamber behind the ear drum starts from the throat very near the tonsil and adenoid area and in these areas tubercle bacilli are frequently found.

Dr. Von Coldits tests children with suppurating ears for tuberculosis with tuberculin. If they react, he gives them tuberculin for curative purposes. In that way some cases of suppurating ears are cured.

Of course the sunlight cure for bone and gland tuberculosis is well established and it is possible that some of those cases cured by the sunlight treatment were cases of ear tuberculosis. Furthermore, when cases have reacted to tuberculin and are being treated with tuberculin for tuberculosis, there is no reason why the sunlight treatment should not be given simultaneously.

The number of people 50 years and over who are handicapped by poor hearing is large. Many of these unfortunates are handicapped because when they were children parents did not know that deafness in middle life often grew out of suppurating ears in childhood.

NO BAR TO MARRIAGE.

M. F. writes:

1. Is a murmur of the heart a serious disease?

2. Can a girl with murmur of the heart marry and have healthy children?

3. Is there any difference between weak heart and heart disease?

4. Is dizziness caused by fast beating of the heart?

REPLY.

1. Not always.
2. Yes.
3. Yes.
4. It may be.

A person with heart murmur can do most anything that others can do. The essentials are, first, to know his condition, and, second, to live in accordance with that condition.

OYSTERS AS FOOD.

W. A. writes:

1. I am a boy of 16 and like oysters better than I do steak or any other meat. Do oysters have the same food value as steak? Are they as good as steak for any one?

2. I would like to know these things, for I have always been rather small for my age and would like to take advantage of the few opportunities one gets to grow. I am 5 feet 4 inches tall.

3. Do you consider that very much under the average? I weigh about 110 pounds.

REPLY.

1. Yes, except that being more watery than ordinary meat, you should eat a little more of them than you do of meat. They contain plenty of vitamines and are well supplied with iodine.

2. Eating oysters will not make you grow tall or heavy.

3. One average given for boys 16 years of age is 5 feet 5 inches tall and 121 pounds in weight. A good deal depends on your stock. What were the weights and heights of your grandfathers, father, uncles, and brothers at 16?

EXPOSED TO WHOOPING COUGH.

Mrs. S. A. E. writes:

1. How many days after one is exposed to whooping cough will it develop?

2. Does a child have to come in direct contact with a person affected to get the disease or can it be caught by drinking out of the same cup?

3. The one affected drank out of it. But is was six to eight hours after the affected person drank out of it that the child drank out of it. Will the germs live on a drinking vessel or in the house that length of time?

REPLY.

1. The incubation period of whooping cough is about twelve to fourteen days.

2. Whooping cough probably can be contracted by the use of a common drinking cup.

3. I doubt if the bacillus would live eight hours on a drinking cup. They die quickly in a house.

SORES IN NOSTRILS.

Mrs. E. T. writes: I have had and still have sores inside my nostrils. They are like cold sores and are very painful at times. I can hardly touch my nose. Please advise me what to do.

REPLY.

Have your physician examine you thoroughly.

A frequent cause of ulcer in the nose is syphilis. Chromium poisoning is another.

There are still others.

First find the cause in your case.

WON'T MAKE YOU THIN.

J. A. W. writes: Do cold showers in the morning have a tendency to make one thin?

REPLY.

No.

If you want to reduce you must do more than take a morning cold shower.

LODGE FAILS IN FINAL DUTY.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—In May, 1923, an uncle died and left me a sum of money, which was a death benefit of a lodge. A long time ago he named as beneficiaries a cousin in the old country and myself. We had not heard from the cousin in years, so a short while back my uncle changed the beneficiary for the whole amount to come to me. He made a written statement to the lodge to this effect. Now the lodge refuses to pay me, saying that I should produce evidence that my cousin could not be found.

1. Is there any danger of my claim being outlawed by the lodge?

2. Where could I apply to have this claim properly adjusted? W. K. B.

1. Depends on the by-laws of the lodge and on the wording of the certificates, etc.

2. If you wish to sue, employ an attorney.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY (FACSIMILES)

William Jennings Bryan in Chicago and John P. Altgeld in Omaha spoke out last night in affirmation that the issue of Democracy for 1900 will be free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Richard Croker, a third apostle of the cause that leads back to Jefferson, declares that national expansion is the stronghold of true Democrats and repudiates the 16 to 1 plank. By these coincident declarations is the party of the nation split in twain. Two and three years ago the gold wing of the Democracy broke away from the moorings and now the leading spirit of the organization in the Empire State cuts loose from the silver craze.

State's Attorney Deneen, in common with State's Attorneys in other counties in Illinois, yesterday received from Attorney General Akin instructions to proceed against every corporation which has failed to file with the Secretary of State an affidavit that it is not party to any trust or combination in restraint of trade. The law says every such corporation shall be liable to a fine of $50 for each day which passes after such affidavit is due and before it is received.

Bicycles of 1899 do not show any marked differences from those of 1898. The cycle show opened last night in the Keith Building with a first-class representation of the cycle trade of the country, a fine line of wheels, and a glittering display of bicycle lamps of diverse types. Bicycle saddles, made from all sorts of material, varying from a red plush covered affair to one made of wire strings; tires of the various makes which everybody who pays any attention to bicycling knows about, and many new schemes for nonpuncturable tires, were to be seen, as were schemes for lessening the vibration of the wheel in riding, various new crooks in handlebars. And then there were the motorcycles and automobiles, and they attracted more attention than the wheels, for everybody knows fairly well a good bicycle when he sees it; but a motorcycle is still enough of a rarity to command attention. There were not many of them, but they were carefully examined. They were of two types—those run by gasoline or some similar compound and those run by electricity. And exhibitions of their operation were given, which drew big crowds of the sightseers.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY (FACSIMILES)

Mayor Harrison's subway and harbor commission departed official life yesterday. The three engineers—B. C. Shankland, J. J. Reynolds, and John Ericson and the secretary—W. J. Shanks—sent a joint resignation to the mayor at noon.

"Will you accept it?" Mr. Harrison was asked.

"Certainly," he replied.

The letter, described by some aldermen as the swan song of the advocates of "comprehensive independent subways," set forth at length that the situation did not warrant the continued existence of the commission. Interviews with its members brought statements that they refused to "sit still and draw salaries" any longer while there was no work for them to do. Also there was a disposition among aldermen not to favor further appropriations for this body. Ald. Lippe expressed this view.

After a four months' trial, the teaching of sex hygiene in the public schools was abandoned yesterday by order of the board of education in regular session. The vote by which this system of "instruction in personal purity" was dropped was 13 to 8.

TWELVE GALLONS IS RIGHT.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 3.—In your today's issue of THE TRIBUNE, in your front page story of the milk situation, I notice you say 100 pounds of milk equals about eight gallons. Either you are badly misinformed or you are trying to make out the producers are trying to "make a gouge."

In reality 100 pounds of milk equals about twelve gallons. If we farmers were demanding $2.75 for eight gallons there would be a reason for the distributors refusing it, for in reality that would be $4.12 per hundred.

I believe it is such stories as this that cause such hard feelings between city people and farmers.

ARTHUR M. DENHAM.

NO MILK STRIKE.

Barrington, Ill., Jan. 3.—We wish to call attention to your headlines of Jan. 1, "Vote Milk Strike Today," which is not true, for a vote of this kind was not taken. Too long back to state the exact time, the milk producer has been having his own trouble in getting a price for milk commensurate with the labor involved, so has simply come to the conclusion to heed the President's advice in his message to congress that the farmer must learn to help himself, and in a literal sense that is just what we as producers are endeavoring to do.

So in consideration of the welfare of his family (for he, too, has these responsibilities), besides having rent, taxes, butcher, grocery, shoemaker, dressmaker, tailor and doctor bills; also machinery repairs, horseshoeing, and veterinarian bills to pay, he simply decided he would have to say, Yes, we have no milk to sell for $2.60 a hundred pounds, or forty-eight quarts of milk. Now how in common nerve can you call that a strike?

M. V. LONIS,
Woman's Auxiliary of the Milk Producers' Association.

TO DETERMINE COST OF MILK.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Replying to an article in Sunday's TRIBUNE by D. A. McLaughlin, regarding the price of milk and the profit therefrom. I believe the best, safest and the eye opening way would be to make a test case by our milk distributors and high cost committee of city council by taking over a dairy for sixty days, keeping strict book account of all costs and expenditures. At the expiration of this given time they would be able to determine a cost price for milk in the producers hands. While I believe the high cost committee of the city council is interested only in getting milk to customers at a reasonable price, this test case might materially aid them all in not taking milk from the farmers' children without showing more than a living profit. The dairyman have children to raise and educate, but can't do it unless their business shows a profit.

Edgewood, Ia., Jan. 5.—St. Patrick's day occurs in the sign of Scorpion. Those who pick on the Irish this year will get stung.

The sign of Taurus the Bull and Sagattarius, the guy with the bow and arrow, are very potent signs in the 1924 almanac. They indicate that those who "shoot the bull" will be very active throughout the entire year. There will be much political agitation.

The last days of May are dominated by the sign of Aries the Ram. May will be a good month in which to pass the buck.

A transit of Mercury in May indicates that some people will have all the luck and also that a lot of flivvers will be sold in May.

April Fools' day being in the sign of Gemini the Twins, indicates that two fools will meet several times this year.

Labor day is dominated by the sign of Virgo the Virgin. A large number of laboring men will consequently fall under the influence of the flappers in 1924.

Election day is dominated by Capricornicus the Goat. Whatever political party is victorious will be the goat for four years.

GET YOUR INFORMATION ON RUSSIA FROM THE RIGHT SOURCE, MR. SITZ.

Chicago, Jan. 4. — THE TRIBUNE has shown that it deserves its name of being called "The World's Greatest Newspaper," as far as hiding the true facts from its readers is concerned.

Mr. Donald Day, in his yesterday's article about Russia, attempts every effort to convince his readers that the young communists have risen against the rule of the "kosher pork barrel," and that they are taking an anti-Semitic character. Any one who gets his information from the right sources knows it well that the organizers and the majority of the leaders of this movement of the young communists who demand the right of "secret ballot, free speech, freedom of the press, and unintimidated elections" are Jews. Trotzky, himself a member of the "kosher pork barrel," is one of the organizers and the most prominent figure in this movement. This shows that there is no fight between Russian and "Jewish" leaders, but one party against the other. It also shows that the Jews in Russia do not act as "Jews," but as patriotic Russians, and the Jews are active on both sides of the party.

I have no intention of defending communism, the present rule, which, having been founded on the principles of liberty and equality, has established the most despotic rule, but I object to characterizing the Russian Jews as the upholders of the present rule.

S. SITZ.

MR. DEVER PREFERS TO BUY THE "L."

Chicago, Jan. 5.—I wonder if Mayor Dever rides back and forth on the "L" during the rush-crush hour. I am sure he doesn't, for if he had gone home with me on the Evanston "L" last night and had come down again with me this morning he would begin digging the subway tomorrow morning.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH "WHAT'S WRONG HERE!"

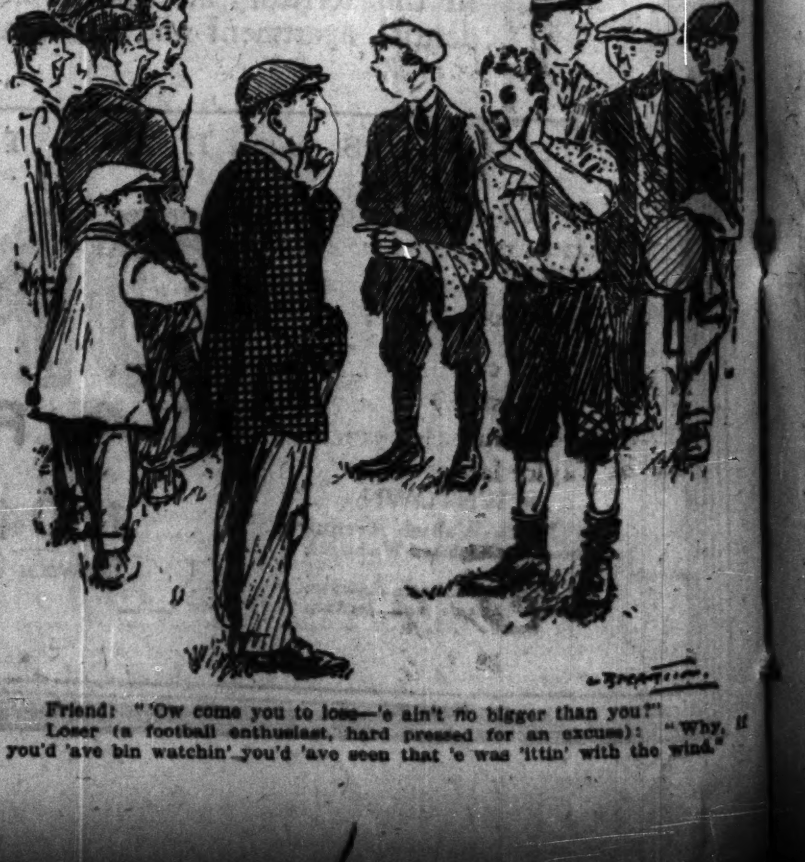
Maple Park, Ill., Jan. 3. — In the "What's Wrong Here" department of Tuesday's TRIBUNE your would-be critic warns us to be sure and place the return address of social letters on the back of the envelope instead of the upper left hand corner, address side.

I'd like to know where he gets his information and why the W. G. N. allows him to get away with it, as he is wrong, all wrong. What chance have we in the postal service to correct this erroneous habit of placing the return card on the back of all letters when "The World's Greatest" newspaper broadcasts such false information all over the country? Postal laws and regulations state that the return card should be placed on the upper left hand corner, address side, on all mail matter.

JAMES C. MOORE,
Postmaster, Maple Park, Ill.

AFTER THE FIGHT

[From the London Passing Show.]



Friend: "'Ow come you to lose—'e ain't no bigger than you?"
Loser (a football enthusiast, hard pressed for an excuse): "Why, if you'd 'ave bin watchin' you'd 'ave seen that 'e was 'ittin' with the wind."

B. & O. CLEARS TRACK FOR BIG TERMINAL PLAN

Will Help Other Roads to End Disputes.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, promised Mayor Dever yesterday that railroad's immediate coöperation in any practical plan for consolidation of near south side stations in a union terminal.

The pledge removed an important obstacle to the straightening of the Chicago river between Polk and 16th streets. The plan would open Dearborn, La Salle, Wells, and Franklin streets from the loop to the south side.

As soon as the railroads using the La Salle street, Dearborn street, and Grand Central stations agree on property and trackage rights, a company probably will be formed to construct a $100,000,000 passenger terminal for their joint use.

Expects Federal Permit.

Mayor Dever goes to Washington next week and hopes to bring back war department approval of the proposed changes in the river.

To hasten work, Mr. Willard promised that values of the property to be absorbed by the terminal company or ceded to the city for street purposes, would be fixed by negotiation, with arbitration as a last resort.

At yesterday's conference, besides the mayor and Mr. Willard, were F. C. Batchelder, president of the B. & O. Chicago Terminal company, Chairman Lipps of the railway terminals commission, Corporation Counsel F. X. Busch, and A. A. Sprague, commissioner of public works.

B. & O. Most Deeply Interested.

"The Baltimore & Ohio is the largest property owner in the affected area," Mayor Dever said after the conference, "and naturally has given careful study to the situation. Mr. Willard said the railroad is ready to coöperate, surrendering necessary land for the river straightening without any litigation."

The New York Central-Rock Island plan contemplates the erection of the new union terminal on Harrison street, between La Salle and Sherman streets, southwest of the present La Salle street station, which, with the Grand Central and Dearborn street stations, would be supplanted.

Part of the plan involves two level streets for the separation of light and heavy traffic. La Salle and Wells streets would be merged at the new station into a boulevard 150 feet wide from Polk street to Archer avenue, Dearborn street extended on two levels 130 feet wide from Polk street to 13th street, and Franklin street cut through as an eighty foot wide thoroughfare.

BOK PEACE PLAN GIVEN A SUBZERO SENATE WELCOME

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Edward W. Bok's peace plan was received with coolness at the senate today, even by some of those who favored joining the league of nations.

Republican senators viewed it with distinct hostility and frankly expressed the view that it was another effort to revive the old propaganda for the league of nations. Democratic senators received it without enthusiasm, and some of them criticised it sharply.

Here are a few of the comments on the Bok plan:

SENATOR BORAH [Rep., Idaho]—It is a league of nations pure and simple. It may mean another league fight, and, if so, the country will understand that it is merely a new effort to take us into the league.

SENATOR MOSES [Rep., N. H.]—The mountain labored and brought forth a mouse, and, behold, it was the same mouse we trapped in 1920.

SENATOR ASHURST [Dem., Ariz.]—It is perfectly childish. If it were not so ludicrous it would be vicious.

SENATOR SHIPSTEAD [Farmer-Labor, Minn.]—This is a thinly veiled propaganda to get the United States into the league of nations.

PLAN PLEASES LEAGUE CIRCLES.

GENEVA, Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—The proposals contained in the Bok peace award created immense satisfaction in league of nations circles here tonight. League officials, basing their views upon a somewhat meager summary of the project telephoned from Paris, said the plan, as outlined, constituted a tremendous contribution to world peace and coöperation.

PIONEERING in COFFEE

BACK in 1864 a firm set out to supply New England with good coffee. But they didn't stop there. As the country grew, they grew. When a railroad was pushed out and a town suddenly or slowly built up, Chase & Sanborn would be sure to entrust the sale of their coffees and teas to the very best groceryman they could find.

Then, about 1880, they originated the idea of packing coffee in hermetically sealed tins—that was to keep good coffee good.

To-day, wherever you go, in cities and villages that once might have been frontier posts or villages, you will find a certain bond among discriminating coffee drinkers. It is the goodness of Chase & Sanborn Seal Brand Coffee. It is packed in sealed tin cans—never in bulk.

DUNNING INQUEST JURY WILL VISIT ASYLUM IN EAST

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The special coroner's jury which has been investigating the Dunning hospital fire, in which eighteen patients perished, will go to New York next Sunday to find out what improvements have been made in the Manhattan State hospital on Ward's island since the fire of Feb. 18, 1923, when twenty-six insane patients lost their lives in a fire trap very similar to the Chicago institution.

It is the hope of the jurors that their report will be the basis of a new public policy in Illinois regarding the elimination of fire hazards in state institutions. New York, it is said, has appropriated $50,000,000 for new hospitals. Investigation of the Dunning tragedy has developed that the fundamental responsibility must be placed with the legislature, which, in fear of the taxpayers, trims hospital appropriations to the line of necessities.

Only Two Fireproof.

The New York fire wakened the people of that state to the fact that only two of the seventy-five buildings of the Manhattan hospital were fireproof. The building which burned was fifty years old. Legislators and governors were blamed by the investigators.

Methods of organization, character of attendants, as well as fire hazards, will be considered by the jury, which consists of George T. Molyneux, Edgar F. Olson, P. J. Carr, Eugene Byfield, Maj. Reed Landis, and A. H. Revell Jr.

When the inquest was adjourned last night, after hearing the testimony of C. H. Jenkins, head of the state department of public health, hospital attendants, and police, Coroner Oscar Wolff said that only one more witness would be called after the return from New York. That will be the state fire marshal. The testimony has not shown that the state fire marshal gave any attention to Dunning, except in one instance of recommending fire walls a year ago in the main building.

600 Women Locked In.

This main building at Dunning, where 600 women are kept behind locked doors, is a decided fire menace, it was again emphasized in testimony yesterday. Dr. Daniel Coffey, superintendent of the institution, testified that 60 per cent of the patients at Dunning sleep in the old buildings.

Mr. Jenkins said that his department has jurisdiction over twenty-six institutions. When he took office in 1921, from 500 to 600 were sleeping on the floor.

"The growth in institutional population has been unbelievably rapid in the last three years," he said. "This is due to war aftermath and industrial depression." His department has $22,000,000 in appropriations. At least $2,000,000 of this is used for repair and upkeep of old buildings.

"There are not many ideal institutions in Illinois, are there?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever study the sprinkler system?"

"No, sir."

"Why not?"

"The underlying reason is a matter of expense."

The chief nurse, Miss Ortha Koger, testified as to the discipline in the institution. This, she said, was good. Six attendants were in charge of 344 patients in the annex dining room the night of the fire, she said.

OUT OF JOB; CUTS THROAT.

John Joseph Ott, 47, 3311 South Dearborn street, who cut his throat, is in the Post Graduate hospital, where he may die. He was despondent over the losing of his his job.

BY PARKE BROWN.

John G. Oglesby, former lieutenant governor of Illinois, may be a candidate for that office again this year.

There are many Chicagoans, including politicians who know a great deal about their subject, who believe that Oglesby really defeated Len Small in the Republican governorship primary of 1920, but delayed returns from Chicago gave Small a lead of 94,000 in Cook county, which wiped out Oglesby's downstate lead of 86,000. And there was no recount. Oglesby was considered a "game loser."

For that reason the report that he may agree to run for lieutenant governor this year brought enthusiastic response from Republican leaders throughout the state. They hold that his entry into the race would be the biggest possible addition of strength to the anti-Small ticket.

Lost by Only 8,000.

In 1920 Oglesby polled 369,103 votes in the gubernatorial primary, losing to Small by only 8,000, and Small's lead resulted from the returns which were tied up by Mayor Thompson abJ the election machinery under his con trol.

It has been said by his friends that Oglesby would get an even larger percentage of the Republican vote of the state if he were to run for any office this year, but they have doubted that he would consent to run for any office except that of governor.

He was one of the six aspirants for that nomination who submitted their claims to the "elimination process" which resulted in the selection of State Senator Thurlow G. Essington as the single candidate against Small.

There are two other candidates in the field. Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, against the advice of some of his friends who argued that his connection with the "state treasurers' interest cases" would cripple him, announced himself some time ago. And State Senator Epler C. Mills of Virginia City is a candidate but he has not been taken into the Essington-Brundage camp.

Size Up Democratic Timber.

On the Democratic side there also was an important rumor concerning the office of lieutenant governor. The Democratic leaders who will have a great deal to do in determining the makeup of the state ticket that will be indorsed at the state advisory convention at Springfield on Jan. 18 are said to be sizing up Carter Harrison Jr. as acceptable timber.

PASTORS DISCUSS SMALL

Gov. Len Small was criticized by every speaker yesterday at the Methodist ministers' meeting in the Chicago Temple when the report of the public policy committee on Small's rewarding of the jurors who freed him was made by the chairman, the Rev. H. V. Volt, pastor of Epworth church, Edgewater.

The result was the adoption of a report which read: "We recommend no action be taken by this meeting regarding this question at this time."

The question of possible future action was left open by the adoption of the following final paragraph:

"This preachers' meeting may deem it wise to express itself very definitely upon the issues involved in the present political campaign at a later time. We therefore regard it as unadvisable to single out this one item (the rewarding of the jurors who freed Gov. Small by political appointment) at this present moment and would advise that the judgment of this meeting be held in reserve until the approaching primaries are nearer to us in date."

there and getting good steady money. It was a very friendly interview.

Miss Putnam denied that she had ever entertained ideas on divorce that were particularly unique. And she voiced a surprising new theory:

"I do not believe in divorce," she said slowly. "It is against all my principles and all my desires. I do believe, however, that under some circumstances it can become necessary. I have only taken such an extreme step because I had no alternative left.

"My divorce proceedings in no way concern any intention of another marriage. Most emphatically, they do not concern the recent stories in the paper."

Miss Putnam expects to confer with her attorney, P. Francis Cassidy, tomorrow morning in reference to her procedure in the divorce tangle.

Mrs. Bassett Tells Her Story.

Madison, Conn., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ellsworth Bassett today told in detail her version of how Nina Wilcox Putnam "practically kidnaped" Mrs. Bassett's 6 foot 4 clam digging and house painting husband.

"Nina Wilcox Putnam," she said, "tried to persuade me to give up my husband, so that she could marry him. When I wouldn't, he went away with her. Well, Mrs. Putnam may have her own peculiar ideas of right and wrong and other women's husbands. But I have my baby boy—and I must carry on."

In the little town library where she works each day to support herself and her 3 year old son, Mrs. Bassett expounded her "Main Street" philosophy as opposed to that of the modern woman writer.

"One night," she said, "Mrs. Putnam and my husband came to my house and asked me to ride to her cottage for a talk. When I got there Mrs. Putnam calmly asked me to give up my husband, that she could marry him.

Implored to Give Him Up.

"She was not divorced, but expected to be. I refused. They implored me. For hours they kept at me, endeavoring to make up my mind for me. They kept at it until 1:30 o'clock in the morning. When they found it useless they drove me home."

"Did your husband go home with you?"

"To the door," she replied. "He turned right about and drove back with Mrs. Putnam and stayed there; in fact, he had been staying at her house for some time.

"I'll never forget that night," continued Mrs. Bassett. "It was a terrible ordeal. There was no scene, no tears, just a quiet conference at which they tried to make me do an astounding thing.

"There is no room in my heart for him now. He's gone from me forever. I have been tabulated a fool in the town here for standing for what I did so long. There might be personal satisfaction in my taking him from her again, but I'd never take him back as husband. I am not contemplating either civil suit against Mrs. Putnam or divorce action against my husband."

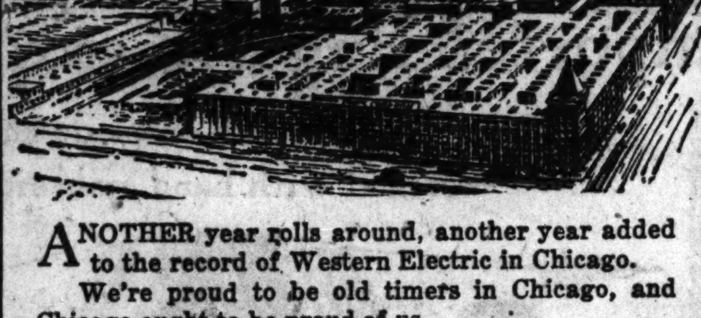
Western Electric World

Vol. 1, No. [illegible] CHICAGO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1924 * * *

EVERY city of 160,000 people needs its newspaper. Hence the Western Electric World, published twice a month for the information of our employees and their families in Chicago—a group as large as the population of Aurora, Peoria and Evanston combined. It also tells every Chicagoan something about this industry which, because we have here the largest telephone factory in the world, with a payroll and general business activities in proportion, plays no small part in the prosperity of this city.

In Chicago ~~54~~ 55 years



ANOTHER year rolls around, another year added to the record of Western Electric in Chicago.

We're proud to be old timers in Chicago, and Chicago ought to be proud of us.

Not a boast! Chicagoans developed this business. Chicagoans proved they could make telephones better than anyone else could—and that is why this Company has grown to be the largest telephone manufacturer and Chicago has become the telephone capital of the world.

A glorious fifty-five years! We are working to make the next fifty-five even more worth while.

Hawthorne Breaks Into the Movies

THERE is a big story at Hawthorne — a fascinating romance that deals with the men and women who are moulding raw materials from all over the world into the apparatus that carries the messages of the world. It is a story that, shown on the screen, will give some idea of the magnitude of the telephone manufacturing industry, in which nearly 40,000 people are engaged at Hawthorne alone.

A complete corps of moving picture photographers, directed by C. W. Barrell, motion picture director of our Company, has just arrived at the Works to "shoot" a four-reel film which will show in gripping fashion the romance of the telephone industry. The picture, when completed, will be about 4,000 feet in length and will take about an hour to exhibit. In its story will be woven scenes showing the magnitude of the Hawthorne Works, personal glimpses of the skill and speed of the operators, and some interesting views of a few of Western Electric manufacturing achievements. Every effort is being made to insure the new film's position among the leading industrial movies.

Gets Japanese Honor

Once again international renown has come to Hawthorne. F. R. Lack, a former employee at the Works and later transferred to the International Western Electric Company, was recently decorated with the Order of the Rising Sun by the Emperor of Japan in recognition of his services in installing the island empire's first printing telegraph system. Mr. Lack, who is only 29 years old, is a product of the Works' educational department. He is now on a leave of absence, taking a special post-graduate course at Harvard.

Some Creations; Oui, Tres Chic!

Parisian modistes will have to step a little more lively if they want to keep ahead of the Western Electric girls who have been attending the sewing classes at the Works evening school. Following the completion recently of their first course of training in the art of dressmaking, thirty-five of the girls held a regular "Boul' Miche" parade all of their own in the Works restaurant. Donning their sartorial creations brought to light in the school sewing rooms, the girls decisively discounted the present day theory that girls aren't as handy with the needle and thread as their grandmothers and mothers used to be.

Preparations are also being made for continued activity in the other courses of the evening school. In addition to sewing, the following subjects are to be found on the school curriculum: Telephone practice, production principles, merchandise principles, manufacturing principles, shop practice, business English, electricity and magnetism, theory of the sliding rule, mathematics, typewriting and comptometry.

Larger Space for Hawthorne

Continued growth again has forced the Western Electric Company to go outside of Hawthorne for additional space. A lease just signed for 75,000 square feet for floor space in the Merchants' Warehouse at Thirty-sixth and Iron Streets, marks the fourth time this year that the company has found it necessary to expand in Chicago beyond the 200 acres at the Works. The new lease covers the entire five stories of the warehouse for a period of two and one-half years and will include rail and dock facilities along the Chicago River at this point. Hawthorne's latest outpost will be used almost entirely for storage purposes.

No Chilly Blasts to Harass These Mortals

Hawthornites are determined to be warm this winter. The Hawthorne Club management announces that each week a carload of coal is being purchased for the employees at a saving, while 170 overcoats of all shades, sizes and styles, bought on the cooperative plan, have been sold.

SPORTS

Hawthorne Man Head of Basketball League

H. W. Burris, of the Western Electric Company, has been elected president of the Chicago Industrial Basketball League. Mr. Burris got his start in basketball with the Cairo, Illinois, high school team and was a member of the basketball team that won the Army of Occupation title in Germany. He is also active in baseball, last year serving as chief umpire of the old Cotton States League, now known as the Kitty League. The players who will represent Hawthorne in the industrial race will be picked from the teams in the inter-department league. The local league is supported by the Hawthorne Club.

The second annual noon hour checker tournament for Hawthorne boys under 18 has just started. Play is being held in the boys' recreation room.

In an exhibition 75-yard dash held recently at a local football game, Miss Katherine Lee established a new Chicago record. Her time was eight seconds, a fifth of a second faster than the previous record. Miss Lee has no intention of confining her athletic activities to track and field, but recently made her debut in indoor baseball. Playing with the Hawthorne Club team, Miss Lee batted 1,000 per cent, getting two healthy wallops in two trips to the plate.

"Bringing home the bacon"—that's what the girl bowlers at the Works have been doing recently in their opening drive to put the Hawthorne Club in the limelight. Teams of the Commonwealth Edison, Chicago Tribune and Charles A. Stevens & Bros. are recent victims to date, and this is just the beginning. Besides their outside tournaments, the girls also are busy in their inter-branch matches. The girls of the Installation No. 1 team are leading the local league with 20 victories and 7 defeats.

Judge Walter P. Steffen, well-known Chicago criminal court jurist, gave 250 of Hawthorne's office boys a little "inside dope" on the sporting world recently at their banquet. Hawthorne's embryo executives this year have ahead of them a busy winter, as interdepartmental competition has already started in swimming, shooting, basketball and checkers.

Hawthornites to Buy Homes

Several hundred Hawthornites will soon become home owners. The Hawthorne Building Loan and Savings Association reports an unusually large number of employees enrolled among the stockholders whose subscriptions take effect this month. During 1923 the membership of the Loan Association was more than doubled.

10 AMERICANS IN PERIL; TIBETANS ATTACK CHINESE

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, Jan. 7.—The American consuls at both Yunnanfu and Chungking have telegraphed to Peking concerning their anxiety regarding ten Americans at Batang, on the Tibetan border of Szechwan province, where a large army of Tibetan invaders is investing the city, which is on the verge of starvation.

[The besiegers are said to be Tibetan bandits and not connected with the government of Tibet.]

Other American missionaries arriving at Yunnanfu en route to Batang were detained on advices received by the consul on Dec. 23 reporting that all the villages around Batang were being looted and destroyed, while the city was surrounded. The magistrate, garrison commander, postmaster, and other officials fled from the city.

The consul at Chungking reports that missionaries in Batang have received a letter from the Tibetan leader saying no foreigners will be harmed when the city capitulates, but little confidence is placed in such a promise, owing to the murder of Dr. Shelton, an American, two years ago, and two British missionaries last summer.

Represent Christian Church.

The Americans imperiled include M. H. Duncan, wife and son, and William Hardy, wife and three sons, and J. Russel Morse and wife, all representatives of the United Christian Missionary Society of the Christian Church. Mrs. R. A. McLeod, wife of a Canadian, who is also a Christian church missionary, is from Bridgeport, Ill. The McLeods have three children.

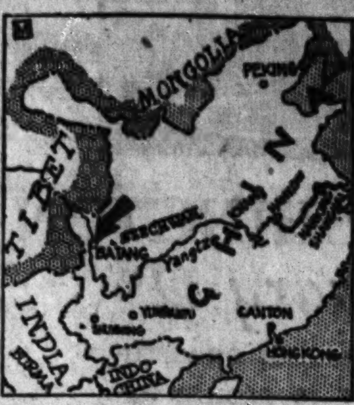
The details of the bandit attack upon the American mission at Tsaoyang, Hupeh province, on Dec 26, say that Bernard Hoff was wounded in the thigh and arm and that Mrs. Hoff was wounded in the breast. Both are in a serious condition.

Mrs. Julia Kilen is still a captive of the bandits, who crossed into Honan province.

Urged to Seek Safety.

All the members of the Augusta synod mission in western Honan have assembled at Hsiuchow station. Gustav Carlberg advises THE TRIBUNE that the foreign commissioner has telegraphed all missionaries to seek safety.

FEAR FOR 10 YANKS



Ten American missionaries, representatives of the Christian church, are believed to be in danger in Batang, China. The city is being besieged by an army of Tibetan outlaws.

LABORER FOUND DEAD.

SOUTH CHINESE CALL FOR WORLD RED REVOLUTION

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 7.—A manifesto signed by the Citizens' Diplomatic association of the Canton government, headed by Sun Yat Sen, which was published by all the newspapers here this morning, calls for a world revolution, patterned after the bolshevik upheaval, to support Sun Yat Sen against five powers—the United States, Great Britain, France, Japan, and Italy.

The manifesto published here this morning says:

"To the Peasants and Working Classes of America: Imperialistic and capitalistic America has broken open her mask in her relations with China. The so-called open door means the turning of China into a free market for open robbing work by blood soaked imperialists."

BUSINESS MEN ON JURY TO HEAR PLARR SHOOTING

Dissatisfied with the coroner's jury verdict that cleared Policeman John F. Mulcahy after he shot and killed Miss Jennie Plarr while drinking with her New Year's eve, Coroner Oscar Wolff yesterday picked a jury for the second inquest that will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the coroner's offices at the county building.

The new jury consists of the following representative business men: J. Harry Jones, president Marshall-Jackson company, 26 South Clark street; D. E. Humphrey, credit man, Mitchell Bros., 367 West Adams street; Thomas S. Jones, coal merchant, Chicago Athletic association, 12 South Michigan avenue; August W. Miller, clerk, Circuit court, fourth floor, courthouse; John L. Tobias, real estate and investments, 1958 West Lake street; F. M. Rice, president Underwriters' Service corporation, 30 North La Salle street.

2,000 TEACHERS' JOBS UNSAFE, INQUIRY SHOWS

Action by the Chicago Teachers' federation was contemplated yesterday, following this statement by Judge Michael L. McKinley:

"I have found that there are more than 2,000 teachers who are subject to instant dismissal without a hearing. This is distinctly contrary to the statute, which provides that written charges must accompany the recommendation for dismissal."

Superintendent of Schools Peter A. Mortenson had testified that no charges were necessary in the matter of the recent discharge of Allan M. Klein from the Parental school.

Klein, on the witness stand yesterday, said Charles M. Moderwell, president of the board of education, had refused to grant him an audience or to permit him to know the nature of the complaint against him, so he might set forth an answer or explanation. President Moderwell also declined to appear voluntarily as a witness at the hearing and Judge McKinley held the matter in abeyance, after Supt. Mortenson had said that no job protection existed for teachers of less than three years' service.

Frocks which gaily herald the Springtime

A bit of the rainbow lurks in these crepe frocks of silk or cotton. White beads describe elaborate designs on slender straight-line models; embroidery, braid or self fabric in contrasting color is effective adornment for other smart dresses, and here and there one spies a frock, its naive whiteness delightfully unrelieved. For dinner and the dance are gossamery chiffons, fragile laces and beaded crepes, in colors radiant or somber. Fourth floor.

Blouses and skirts

Batteau as to neck, long and cuffed as to sleeve, is a jaunty sports blouse of crepe de chine. Drawn work and a monogram tab add individuality. THREE COUNTIES CLAIM MILLIONS CANAL DAMAGES

Farmers Attend Meeting Called by Board.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Beardstown, Ill., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Farmers of Cass, Schuyler, and Brown counties, congregated in Beardstown today, were paging one Warren Pease, Chicago attorney. They wanted him to present water damage claims, some of them of more than twenty years' standing, to a special committee of the sanitary district of Chicago, which arrived here at noon.

Mr. Pease, tardily informed of the hearings that had been called by William J. Healy, president of the sanitary district, as the first of a series to be conducted throughout the valley, was not on hand. So the session was adjourned until tomorrow.

Date Back to 1901.

Testimony indicated that the Chicago attorney is handling millions in claims alleged to have been occasioned since the flow of the Chicago river was reversed in 1901. The arrangement, it was said, was for a fifty-fifty contingent fee.

"This committee," said Mr. Beckwith, "intends to deal directly with claimants, not with attorneys, otherwise it would have remained in Chicago."

Thomas Bottenberg of Rushville, Ill., one of several attorneys said to have "cut Pease in" on their cases, denied that any fifty-fifty arrangements had been made with clients.

Three Trustees Present.

Trustees Timothy J. Crowe, chairman; Harry E. Littler, and James M. Whalen constituted the committee as it sat today. Trustees Lawrence F. King and Morris Eller are expected tomorrow morning.

Trustee Crowe tonight issued a statement in which he said that "the interests of the Illinois valley and of Chicago are identical in seeking proper adjustment of worthy claims, and we appear as business men to talk business, within the legal limits that control."

The committee is not considering 1922 flood damage claims, holding that the sanitary district is not responsible for caprices of the elements.

PUT ON PROBATION.

Henry Giroulx, 2177 Nelson street, accused of stealing auto tires valued at more than $30,000, was placed on probation yesterday after police said the tires were worth practically nothing.

FOUR ON TRIAL AS 'HIJACKERS' DENY CHARGES

Edward J. Mitchell, erstwhile sergeant of police, when a witness yesterday in his own behalf before Judge Adam C. Cliffe, where he and three others are on trial charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition act, became exceeding wroth. His answers to questions asked by Assistant District Attorney Edwin L. Weisl caused a general fidgeting and nervousness on the part of his co-defendants, Sergts. Edward Smale Jr., Thomas Carlisle, and Patrolman Hugo A. Marker. All are accused of "hijacking" a truck load of liquor.

Sergt. Mitchell took the stand near the close of the session. Upon being questioned he emphatically denied all of the charges against him, stating that he had gone about his duty in the usual manner upon Sept. 26, 1921, the day in question, and adding that nothing unusual occurred during the entire tour. He did not assist Smale, Marker, and Carlisle in holding up the drivers of a truck containing whisky, he said.

Mitchell was the second one of the defendants to take the stand during the day. He was preceded by Marker, who made straightforward denials of all the charges. He knew nothing of the charges or the offense from which they grew. He was not guilty, he said.

Capt. Gallery, mentioned during the hearing last Frdiay, did not take the witness stand yesterday. It was expected that he would testify for the defense, explaining his presence in a saloon at a meeting during which Smale paid Edward S. Steward $100 for "expenses."

Gulf Coast of TEXAS

Come to This Smiling Land of Sunshine

To the winter tourist, the Texas Gulf Coast extends a welcoming hand—warm and delightful as a sunny, mid-winter Texas day.

This year-'round summer land has a fascination all its own. It lies against the salt water and swings from Brownsville past the port of Galveston. All along this pleasure coast enticing bays and coves lead in to resorts—each tucked away in picturesque snugness.

Pleasures and recreation go hand in hand. Away from the cold, gray North, the winter vacationist may test his skill against the game fish that battle in the gulf. Hunting adds its lure—deer, wild turkey, geese, ducks, brant, quail and Mexican pheasants can be found within easy auto distance of many gulf coast cities.

Warm, sandy beaches stretch out invitingly—excellent motor roads thread through delightful country—opportunities for indulging in tennis, polo and other sports abound.

The highway to the Texas Gulf Coast lies through St. Louis or Kansas City. It is an easy trip of surprising comfort—through "Katy" Pullmans and dining cars assure this.

Ask your ticket agent to sell you a ticket via the

LABOR'S VOICE IS WEAK IN RUNNING OF FREE STATE

Leaders Envious of Party Success in England.

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Labor in southern Ireland finds itself out of luck politically. Its leaders frankly put the interests of their own members first, and they themselves backed the separation of the twenty-six counties from Great Britain because most of them believed that they would be infinitely more successful under an Irish government.

Now the labor leaders are in the unhappy position of seeing the representatives of labor in Wales, England, and Scotland oust a Conservative government in England. And, what may be more galling, Ulster labor will send representatives, while labor in the Free State finds itself butting into a very substantial wall of conservatism.

Little Hope in Future.

But those carrying the banner of labor in the south, while displeased at the trend of developments, are not regretful and are not discouraged, although their parliamentary strength has been weakened during the last year. When the elections were held the expensive Dublin strike was at its height, farm labor was idle in the Waterford district, and there were minor labor troubles at half a dozen other points. The people expressed their dissatisfaction at the polls and nearly half the labor members in the dail lost their seats.

And the immediate future holds little promise for labor. There have been comparatively small reductions in wages in Ireland since the civil war ceased its violent form. In almost every line the wages are lower in England and Ulster, and the southern manufacturers are complaining that they cannot compete. They demand cuts in wages to equal the scales being paid across the channel and in the north, and the government has a sympathetic ear for them.

Must Listen to Reason.

Many millions of dollars' worth of improvements, including some planned by the British, have been held up until the labor costs come down. There has not been one instance of rebuilding in O'Connell street, where seven business houses were destroyed in the fire of 1922, and the Four Courts building, gutted the same year, remains the same, except for some demolition. The walls of the old general postoffice and customs house, burned in 1916, have stood now eight years.

It is hoped to begin reconstruction on a large scale in Dublin this year, but all employers, including the government, assert that they will not issue one contract until the building trades listen to reason.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT OPENS TODAY; LABOR HAS CABINET READY

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 7.—[Tribune Radio.]—Parliament assembles tomorrow, but the secret in Ramsay MacDonald's pockets is still unguessed. He has picked a Labor cabinet, but none knows its composition except one or two of his trusted counsellors. It probably will be kept secret until after Jan. 17, which is the date the prophets fix for the fall of the Baldwin government and the accession of Mr. MacDonald into power.

Although parliament assembles tomorrow, it does not open until a week later. The first day will be occupied with the election of a speaker.

The rest of the week will be spent in the tedious business of swearing in the members one by one, and on Jan. 15 the king will open parliament in state. The first business will be debate on the reply to the king's speech. It will be on an amendment by the Labor party disapproving of the policy set out in the speech that Prime Minister Baldwin will be defeated.

There are still rumors of some eleventh hour combination either to keep Mr. Baldwin in power or to substitute H. H. Asquith for Mr. MacDonald as a successor, but there is little chance of this coming off.

URGES MACHINES SUPPLANT 500 COUNTY WORKERS

Efficiency and economy were almost unanimously stressed before the Circuit court employment committee yesterday by representatives of the city's civic organizations, by the county commissioners, and by county department heads.

J. L. Jacobs, who has engineered the county's economy plan for a year, delivered a report in which he recommended installation of additional mechanical devices in county offices which, he said, would save $500,000 yearly and eliminate 500 jobs.

What is it? That's my secret, until you ask me to tell you how you can invest a small sum so it will grow, safely!

During the time you keep this "holding" you will get no dividends—but you pay out nothing, absolutely nothing, either for taxes or for upkeep or for any other expense of any kind whatsoever. You will never be asked to put out money for improvements, or anything else!

Experience shows that you are sure that your "holding" will grow steadily in value, because 86% of the families in this city don't now own a similar thing, and yet all have to buy, sooner or later. Moreover, there is a very limited amount of such property available—another assurance your "holding" will increase rapidly in value.

GREEKS AGREE ON REPUBLIC OR MONARCHY VOTE

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 7.—The various factions in the Greek assembly today agreed to hold a plebiscite on the question of a republic or monarchy in March.

The first question before every voter will be whether he wants a republic or monarchy, and the second question whether he wants the Glucksbourg dynasty, which King George, now in temporary exile, represents, or another dynasty.

About 2,000 republican army officers—all royalist officers have been retired—who forced the departure of King George openly, declare they will not abide by any adverse plebiscite decision, and will set up a republic by force. They control the army, and possibly have sufficient strength, but M. Venizelos expects to escape this conflict through the plebiscite resulting in favor of a republic. Many republican officers told THE TRIBUNE today that they intend to start war against Turkey in order to get a more favorable frontier in Thrace.

Venizelos to Remain Neutral.

The betting on the proposed plebiscite favors a republic. The republicans not only have Athens, Piraeus, and all the islands, but control 1,250,000 refugees, and have the financial and moral support of 500,000 Greeks in America, and some French support.

The royalists have the English support. Even if the monarchy wins, it is stated the republican vote will be so big that no Glucksbourg can politely return.

M. Venizelos, who is a Republican at heart, but who would like to avoid a bitter factional fight when Greece is particularly feeble, could throw the victory either way, but he insists that he will take neither side.

Hopes to Be Arbiter.

With half his friends Royalists and the other half Republicans, and England supporting the monarchy and the French supporting the republic, M. Venizelos would prefer an English alliance, or the equivalent, for Greece, but France is flirting with Greece now and he cannot afford to antagonize the French sympathy. He hopes to hold the army in check until a plebiscite is taken, and from an Olympian position, above factional politics, act as arbitrator until the future government is established.

The former premier's condition tonight is somewhat improved, but he is still feeble following his sudden illness in the assembly last Saturday, and his doctors are still anxious about him.

FALLS FROM CAR STEP; MAY DIE.

John Tierney, 9 years old, 420 South Wood street, was probably fatally injured yesterday when he fell from the step of an eastbound street car at Harrison and South Laflin streets.

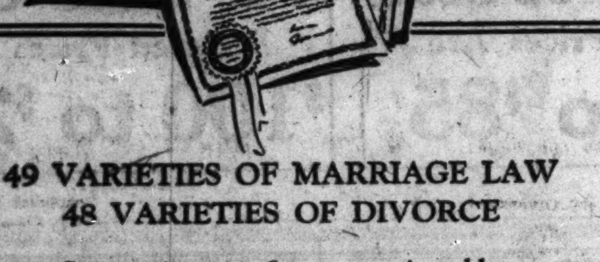
What happens under our Marriage and Divorce Laws?



49 VARIETIES OF MARRIAGE LAW
48 VARIETIES OF DIVORCE

Seventeen states fix no marriageable age.

Several fix it at twelve for girls and fourteen for boys—with consent of parents.

Three states fix it at sixteen for girls without consent of parents.

Only a very few states declare no marriage is valid without a license.

Only five require both parties to apply in person for the license.

Nineteen states have no law restraining the feeble-minded from marrying.

One state permits divorce on fourteen grounds.

Two states grant it on two grounds.

One grants no divorce at all.

Thirty-three states require one year's residence for divorce.

Two states and the District of Columbia require three years.

One state requires six months.

Certain states give sole custody of the children to the father—unless he is proved unfit.

Some states do not recognize the marriage and divorce laws of other states!

In 1920 the number of married juveniles in the United States was:
12,384 girls of fifteen.
41,626 girls of sixteen.
90,930 girls of seventeen.

3,222 boys of sixteen.
7,699 boys of seventeen.
24,944 boys of eighteen.
58,909 boys of nineteen.

The number of divorced juveniles was:
4,559 girls of 15, 16 and 17 years.
2,507 boys of 16, 17, 18 and 19 years.

THEY MARRIED IN ONE STATE.
She divorced him in another.
She married again in a third.
THEN—she moved back to State No. 1.
—And Husband No. 1 promptly proceeded to prove her divorce void.
Result? She steps back once more to State No. 3.
She is not a bigamist! Her children are legally recognized!

THEY MARRIED IN A SOUTHERN STATE.
He trotted to another state—and applied for a divorce without her knowledge.
He got it—and remarried the self-same day.
THEN—she found he had, moreover, disposed of all his property without her signature.
It's legal in that particular state.

FORTY-NINE different ways to get married. And forty-eight to get a divorce!

Constant skipping over state lines—to meet the law. Renting of distant apartments—to establish a residence. Customary swearing to humiliating falsenesses. Endless evasions—conflicts—complications.

Here is one of the most insistent of modern social problems. One of deepest significance to women.

Yet for long the most neglected. Complicated with questions of state rights, questions of marriage laws, of marriageable age, of intervals before remarriage, of personal convictions for or against divorce.

This knottiest and most delicate of problems Pictorial Review and its nearly two and a half million readers undertook courageously to face.

For four active years its many phases have been discussed in the magazine by men and women of deep experience in all its legal and its human aspects. Intense interest has followed these discussions.

And there has been untiring work in closest cooperation with organizations representing millions of women—the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Federation of Professional and Business Women, the National Congress of Parent-Teachers, and others.

AS A DIRECT RESULT OF PICTORIAL REVIEW'S EFFORTS, several legislatures have already changed some of their laws. Most impressive of all, the Capper Fairfield Amendment, empowering Congress to pass a Federal Marriage and Divorce Law—the same for all states—is now in Congress.

Pictorial Review believes that a woman's magazine must, with the utmost sincerity and constructiveness, discuss just such problems of deep significance in our life of today. This faith has won for it the active interest and loyalty of more women than read any other magazine—nearly two and a half million!

The Fourth Norwood

By ROBERT E. PINKERTON.

SYNOPSIS.

Young Rod Norwood, while setting a mink trap on the banks of the Drowning river, near his home at Lake Deception in the Hudson Bay territory, sees Aaron Cron, a rival trader of his father's, coming into the district. Cron is known as The Spider, not only because of the terror which he has inspired in most of the inhabitants, but also because of his legless condition. Rod is frightened at the meeting, and, after The Spider has disappeared, hurries eagerly toward home.

He breaks the news of The Spider's advent to his little sister, Beth. Their father, Tom Norwood, tries to dispel the children's fear of the cripple. He explains to Rod that Cron lost his legs years before on an expedition into the wilderness to buy fur. When his legs became frozen, he heroically helped to amputate them.

For three generations fur land had known a Norwood. Tom's grandfather, Hector Norwood, accompanied MacKenzie on his remarkable expedition to the Arctic sea. His son, Roderick (Tom's father), was born and raised in fur land. Tom and his father became successful fur traders when Canada became a free trade ground. The Spider had come into Tom's territory once before when young Rod was six, but in the struggle Tom was victorious, and The Spider disappeared. Now, with him back, Tom is gripped by the desire for battle, and decides to make a friendly call on Cron, but the latter is not amiable, and declares he is back to beat Tom at his own game.

For six years Rod goes to school in New York, while Beth is at school in Toronto. At the end of that time the young people have a joyous reunion with their father at Lake Deception.

INSTALLMENT VIII.

ROD DECIDES ON A WRITING CAREER.

For a week there was a joyous reunion at Lake Deception. It was the first time the three had been together since Rod went off to school, except for one vacation, and there were years to cover, years which Rod found unexpectedly difficult to bridge, for until his return he had not realized how far the last six years had carried him from the activities and interests of his boyhood.

Tom Norwood had changed little. He was still the great, bearded, handsome man, buoyant and confident. But all his exhaustive energy had poured out in one direction, while Rod, who had inherited his father's zest for life and his questioning eagerness, had discovered fields of interest of which his father never dreamed. They had only one point in common, their love and admiration for each other. The father had never written of his loneliness, but the preparation he had made for their coming and his eager attempts to draw them back into his life told of it. Beth was not allowed to give Jane more than a hurried greeting before he had led her to the living room and pointed to a piano.

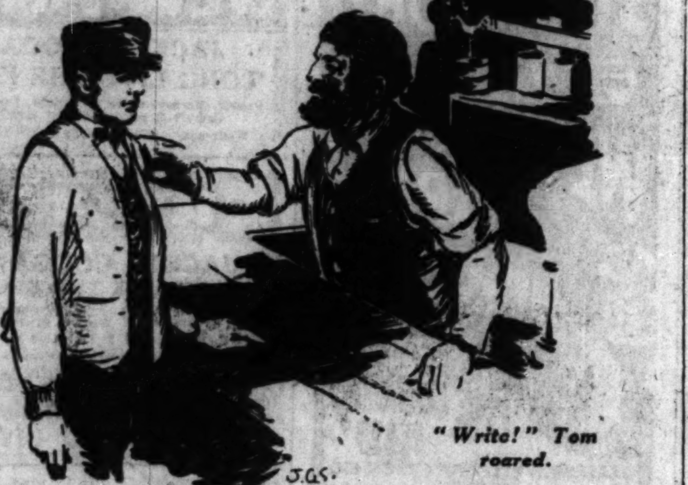
"Look!" he exclaimed, proudly. "Had it packed in this spring. Didn't want you to get lonesome through the summer."

"Daddy!" Beth, small, dark, and ardent, slipped into his arms. "You darling! You'll spoil me so I'll never want to leave you."

"Maybe you won't have to in a few more years. Besides, Rod and me'll need a little music. I've got a present for him, too. Tell you about it later."

He turned and slapped his son on the shoulder.

"Getting an education didn't stunt you much," he laughed. "Might stand a little filling out, but that will come. You've got my head and shoulders, but your mother's eyes. Ho, Jane! Is supper ready? She's been working for a week, and if there's anything you like she hasn't cooked for you it's only because she didn't have the stuff."



"Write!" Tom roared.

In the days that followed the three were always together. The dwelling house echoed with their laughter. Beth reduced the Indian women to adoring nuisances around the kitchen, while Rod, who had inherited his father's capacity for making friends, received the homage due a young monarch returning to his rightful kingdom.

George Paul, old half-breed employé, shook hands delightedly, and then, turning to Tom, spoke in rapid Ojibwa. Rod, a bit puzzled, turned to his father.

"Forgotten your Indian?" Tom laughed. "Never mind. It'll come back. He says you're like old Roderick. And you are, only I never noticed it. What did you think, George? That getting a little education would change a Norwood? He's going to show the bush what fur trading is. Books and study are all right, but there's a time to end it, isn't there, lad?"

Rod did not answer. He had always known his father counted confidently on his being a fur man, but until his return he had not realized how much the parent's happiness depended on the continuance of the Norwood line of traders. The six years outside, the years that had shaped his own interests and ambitions, had been for Tom only a sentimental tribute to his wife. It was unfair, and yet Rod was unconcerned with the injustice of it. He thought only of the pain he knew he must bring to the man who loved him and whom he still regarded with the idolatrous worship of his boyhood. Sick at heart, he avoided the subject for a few days, only to be brought face to face with it at last.

"You never asked about the present I got for you," Tom said when they were alone in the trade shop one morning. "Remember what I always said about branching out? Well, I waited for you. Got it started just last fall. The second Norwood post. But it's only going to be the beginning. We'll show them——"

He would have rushed on with the plans of six lonely years, but something in Rod's face stopped him. For a week the young man had been trying to phrase his own decision kindly, but now that the time had come he could manage nothing except the short and brutal truth.

"But, dad! I don't want to be a fur trader."

Though schooled through life to hide his thoughts, Tom Norwood was unequal to the situation.

"You mean you don't want to go on here with me?" he demanded, incredulously.

"I mean I want to go to New York this winter to work there."

The trader turned slowly to the shelves and began to rearrange some bolts of woolen plaids.

"What kind of work were you planning on doing?" he asked at last.

"Ultimately, I want to write. First, I want to take a year of postgraduate work in New York. I was editor of the college monthly last year, you remember, and——"

"Write!" Tom roared. "You mean write stories?"

"Novels; but just now essays of pioneering criticism."

Tom considered this statement thoughtfully.

"Ain't there enough novels written already?" he finally demanded. "They've been good enough for you until now. Seems to me that was all you and Parchman used to talk about."

Rod smiled, but there was nothing contemptuous in the smile, for he was too clear visioned to see anything ludicrous in big Tom Norwood. Yet he was youth, a crusader with a message.

"The expression of a people is never finished," he said, eagerly. "America is growing up, developing wonderfully, but it is still dominated by England's Victorian slush and the prudery of the Puritans, by sentimentality and insincerity. Now we have come to the age of realism, an acknowledgment of truth, a refusal to pamper longer to vapid, maudlin taste. I know it doesn't sound like a real man's work to you, but——"

"It don't sound like anything for a Norwood," his father interrupted.

"But there are real men in it!" Rod protested. "I am only one of many of those who realize what must be done if we are to take our place as a nation whose literature commands respect. There is to be a magazine of criticism first of all, and I have been asked to be one of the editors. We hope to start within a year."

"Look here!" Tom broke in harshly. "I don't want to hear about it. Couldn't understand it if I did. And I don't believe any bunch of college boys is going to turn the world upside down just because they think it ought to be done. People are going to go on reading the same things, just like they wear the same furs and eat the same food and live in the same houses. But if you're telling me you won't take hold up here with me, like I counted on, I want to know it."

Rod knew what was behind that question: the pride in the succession of Norwoods who had ruled over a small kingdom, the dream of a continued dynasty, or a larger power, of coöperation and mutual achievement; and he knew his answer must shatter the dream of a lifetime. He had begun resolutely enough with his first announcement. Now he hesitated.

"You needn't say it!" the fur trader roared as he leaped over the counter and confronted his son. "If the fur business isn't good enough for you, if you've got so filled up with fancy notions in that damned college, go ahead. Go write those books you talk about, but they've got to be better than you can write to make the living the fur trade's given you. Write! Bah! A Norwood writing books!"

He rushed out of the shop and down the shore toward the line of wigwams stretched along the bay. His head was up, but his big shoulders slumped in pitiful contrast to that last wrathful outburst. Rod watched him with a lump in his throat. For the first time in his life his father had been really angry with him, and yet the words had left no rancor. Rather he was appalled by the power of one individual to hurt another so, to tear down the dreams of a lifetime. He still felt the unfairness and injustice of it, and yet his victory had brought no sense of triumph. He walked slowly across to the house and found Beth in the living room.

"I've done it," he announced, shortly. "And it was worse than I expected."

"O, Rod!" the girl cried. "Why did you have to tell him now, just when he was so happy?"

She Hopes You Will Like "Eternal City."

"THE ETERNAL CITY"

Produced by First National and Samuel Goldwyn.
Presented at the Roosevelt theater.
Directed by George Fitzmaurice.

THE CAST.

Roma	Barbara La Marr
David Rossi	Bert Lytell
Dr. Boselli	Richard Bennett
Supposed leader of the Reds	Montague Love
Baron Bonelli	Lionel Barrymore

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

If the Lord loveth whom he chaseneth, he certainly loves me, for I don't want to knock "The Eternal City" this morning, but I have to!

Don't want to knock it for the reason that scenically and set-ically (made that word up) it is a lovely thing. Mr. Fitzmaurice took his company to Italy to make the picture so as to get the "atmosphere." Taking that American company there was, I believe, his great mistake. Mr. Barrymore, cast as the Italian power behind the seething "Reds," sans makeup, gives you no illusion at all. Just so he might appear were he an American stock broker.

Bert Lytell as the adored head of the Fascisti is just as foreign as I am—and I'm not! Too, in a crisis he behaves like a panic stricken small boy. Surely THIS is not one of the greatest men of Italy—a soldier first—later the organizer of the party full of deadly determination to wipe out lawlessness!

Miss La Marr is all right—so are Richard Bennett and Montague Love—but for a' that, the picture is a poor thing. It lacks cohesion. It doesn't get across. It is big as an elephant is big and spectacular only after an awkward, lumbering fashion. Its best points are the mob scenes — and the beautiful, beautiful scenery. The human appeal is nil.

Once before this story of Hall Caine's was adapted to the screen. Pauline Frederick was Roma, Thomas Holding was Rossi, and Frank Losee was the Baron Bonelli. I don't remember it, but I imagine it served the cinema quite as well as the version under discussion and venture the hope that hereafter producers will just keep their hands off this particular book.

Probably quite a bit of what makes the mare go was spent on "The Eternal City" as seen at the Roosevelt. For that reason I hope I am entirely wrong concerning it and that it may inspire you greatly.

See you tomorrow!

CLOSEUPS

Jackie Coogan has started on his second film of the season—"A Dog of Flanders." They say that large dogs, small dogs, broad dogs, and slim dogs all vie for a place in the cast.

Lois Wilson and Richard Dix will play together again in the coming De Mille production, "Icebound," an adaptation from the stage play of the same name by Owen Davis.

They say that Miss Clara Bow has that rare asset, a "natural screen makeup," which means that she needs to use no makeup at all save for a touch of light lip salve. (Saves her a lot of trouble.)

Skunk Fur to Be Skunk in Chicago

Fur coats made of skunk fur will be called skunk and not black marten, and muskrat will not be Hudson seal from now on, it was said last night by D. C. Mills, general director of the National Association of the Fur Industry, in an address at the banquet of the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago at the Congress hotel.

"Honesty must be practiced," Mr. Mills declared. "It is not fair to the public to misrepresent fur products. The people must get what they call for. The furriers must call skins by their proper names and not try to disguise them."

Prior to the banquet the local association elected the following officers: President, Don L. Oma; vice president, C. J. Gordon; secretary, I. C. Greenburg; treasurer, E. S. Waldblott. Furriers from the entire country attended the session.

Mme. Pareto Wins Favor in Opera Debut

Makes "La Sonnambula" Better than Expected.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Graziella Pareto, most delicate of coloraturas, sang on the Auditorium stage for the first time last night, appearing as Amina in Bellini's preglacial opera, "La Sonnambula." As this column pointed out a few days ago, it was neither her first time with the Chicago opera nor before a Chicago audience. But it happened to be the first time in which the organization and the place coincided, and, therefore, it served as debut, as the program held.

Just as had been ascertained a number of times previously in the summer opera at Ravinia, Mme. Pareto has an extremely lovely and an extremely slender voice. It is pure gold drawn out to the dimensions of a thread, managed with the finest delicacy and grace, carrying well through the Auditorium when raised alone to the accompaniment of the guitar-like strum that Bellini thought was an orchestral score, pretty well lost in any sort of a concerted number.

Though the dainty beauty of her song more nearly approximated a gentle glow than a dazzling glitter, Mme. Pareto was popular. It would seem the doctrine of coloratura singing that Galli-Curci has demonstrated so delightfully these several years has had results. Mme. Pareto won her audience. Perhaps in an opera not so completely of an antique era, she would have won it still more.

For "La Sonnambula" has more unconscious humor than any work in the repertoire. Witnessing it after several seasons' silence, one could easily trace the prehistoric plot from which the justly famous A. H. Woods farces have descended. It was not called "Up in Count Rudolph's Room," but it might well have been. To the story of a somnambulistic girl waking up in the wrong bed are appended numerous sticky, soggy tunes full of a comfortably comatose sentimentality of thirds and sixths. This is not the stuff that one feels like taking seriously today.

To be sure, Mme. Pareto made it sound considerably better than even the most optimistic might have expected. So did Tito Schipa, much better. He is another delightful artist, whose good works the opera company has been keeping secret for too long intervals.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for The Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Frank Donaldson, 604 South State street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Should Mabel Normand's pictures be barred from the screen?

Where Asked.

7 South Dearborn street.

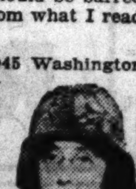
The Answers.

Miss Eleanor Miesler, 4533 North Christiana avenue, stenographer—I don't think they should—not until they find something against her, anyhow. If they barred every one from the screen who did something some one thought they shouldn't do, we wouldn't have any actors or pictures.

Harry C. Thorsell, 6725 Stony Island avenue, salesman—Absolutely not. I don't believe an accident like that should be permitted to deprive a woman of her occupation. That's her bread and butter. If she were guilty, or had she had her chauffeur do it, then the films should be barred.

Mrs. Clara McCaughey, 500 Diversey parkway, housewife—I hate to criticize her, but we got along nicely without Arbuckle. We could get along without some more Hollywood characters. The movie is the poor people's pleasure, and we need clean people and clean movies that improve rather than demoralize.

Paul D'Incognito, 2141 North Laporte avenue, student—Seems whenever any trouble, murder or something, arises in Hollywood, her name is in it. In this case I don't see any reason at all why Miss Normand should be barred from the screen, not from what I read in the papers.



Miss Helen Black, 2045 Washington boulevard, printer—Absolutely not. I don't believe anything like that should bar her. We don't know that she is guilty. An accident like that could happen to any one. I like her, and am going to consider her innocent until proved guilty.

Foreign Students to Be Merchants' Dinner Guests

More than 400 foreign students attending universities and colleges in Chicago and vicinity will be guests of Chicago merchants and industrial heads through the trade department of the Chicago Association of Commerce at a dinner in the Congress hotel Thursday night. Thirty countries will be represented by the students and Chicago consuls of each of these governments. The Chicago Civic orchestra will give a concert after the dinner.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

THE TRIBUNE erred yesterday in stating that Baby Donald Lonergan, 559 West 43d street, died because of cold. Death was due to convulsions, the child's mother said.

Herman L. Bernstein, quoted in the "Inquiring Reporter" column on Friday, was called an attorney. This is in error. He writes to THE TRIBUNE that he is a law clerk.

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

Having little else to do in "The Closed Door," the Signora devoted her third Chicago afternoon to the legend that her hands are lovely and eloquent beyond all other hands employed in the gestures of the theater. They are, and ever have been, lovely, and they are eloquent on occasion; but we were dubious as we watched their ceaseless and rhythmic beat as to what her especial use of them had to do with Mr. Praga's piece. Nor is it likely that the distinguished and uncommunicative visitor from Italy could, if she would, enlighten us.

Mr. Praga's piece was something in the Paris mode of two decades ago. Young Mr. Querceta discovered that his immediate male ancestor was an intimate friend of the family named Piccardi, and insisted on going away from it all. So, they decided to talk about it, and did so, until twenty minutes of drama was talked into two hours, less the statutory entr'actes. When they tired of talking, the boy went away; and there wasn't any more.

Duse was again the Duse of "Ghosts" and "The Dead City," con variazione merely as to where she stood or sat. She was involved in one episode of the style we used to term poignant, and played it for what there was in it, and at least as well as any other actress we have ever seen could have played it. Nothing in the dull, commonplace piece put her to any test; and that, it is fair to believe, is why "La Porta Chiusa" is in her American répertoire.

Mr. Benassi, after holding himself in leash in the other plays, discerned a chance to hit the ceiling, and, as we expected he would do, he hit the ceiling. When he descended, he was given what is known in the headlines as a veritable ovation by hundreds of delighted persons who, it is nice to assume, didn't know just what he had been saying. And we still think that Mr. Benassi is of the stuff from which good actors may be devised. . . . As to the others, they were just as good as they were required to be—just.

Duse will again play "Ghosts" Thursday, and then go home.

Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe started their engagement, in the Great Northern, with "Romeo and Juliet," which was for a number of years out of their ready répertoire. "Twelfth Night," in which her Viola has ever been exquisite and his Malvolio is popular, will be acted tonight and at tomorrow's free performance for the schoolchildren.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Cocoa Shell Beverage.

Any one who has ever known the taste of the real cocoa bud will like the cocoa shell drink, if it is rightly made. It must be gently—gently, remember—cooked, and for more than one reason. In gentle cooking the drug element in it is not developed. It is this element that leads many people to believe cocoa is no more wholesome than coffee or tea, each of which is capable of poisoning people when wrongly managed.

To make a cocoa shell drink, take one cup of shells to one quart of boiling water, and cook this gently in a covered kettle for one hour. Strain, sweeten to taste, and serve with a little hot cream.

Or this beverage may be chilled and served cold with whipped cream. The best way to sweeten it in any case is with a sugar sirup, hot when the drink is hot. A little may be made by adding one-fourth cup of cold water to one-half cup of sugar, stirring it over the fire until the sugar is surely dissolved, and then letting it cook for five minutes without stirring.

A chocolate or cocoa whipped cream may be made for this, or for a cake, by whipping up one-half cup of cream and adding to it dissolved and sweetened cocoa which has been prepared earlier and chilled. To the one-half cup of cream after it is whipped you may add two level tablespoons of cocoa with two level tablespoons of powdered sugar dissolved with four tablespoons of boiling water, and chilled. Unsweetened whipped cream is more agreeable to those who like a relief with their sweet, but for a change and when the cocoa is but lightly sweetened this may be used.

A Friend in Need

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Dear to Boys' Hearts.

"My son, with a number of other boys, has formed an Off the Street club. As there are so many of them it makes too many to meet at home, so they have rented a basement, but they need old chairs, tables and a bookcase. They are all clean minded boys and a place where they can have their boyish talks and secrets so dear to them will keep them from bad companionship, so I hope some of your readers will help them.

Mrs. P. H. D."

Requests Wheel Chair.

"I wonder if some kind person has a wheel chair not in use. I have been sick for a year and a half, and cannot walk. As my husband does not make much, we cannot afford to buy a wheel chair. I would greatly appreciate one as it would allow me to get out and get some fresh air with my little boy of 4.

Mrs. C. E."

Perhaps someone who has been enabled by restored health to give up a chair will be only too happy to pass it on.

Mrs. Frank M. Fulton Heads Daughters of the Nile

The annual meeting of Zenobia temple, Daughters of the Nile, comprised of 300 wives, mothers, and sisters of Shriners in Chicago, was held yesterday at the headquarters in the Garrick building. Mrs. Frank M. Fulton was elected queen of the temple, and with the other officers, will be installed at public ceremonies next month. The supreme queen, Mrs. Emma S. Farnham of Seattle, was present at the meeting yesterday.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Coming Out Ahead.

While visiting in Nebraska I asked my host, whom I had never met before, to cash a check for me. On taking out what I supposed was my ticket on the train I discovered I had pocketed the check as well as the money. I mailed it to him without delay.

O. J. C.

Had to Think Fast.

I had just received my laundry and found a nightgown that did not belong to me. My neighbor had also received hers, but was not at home when it was delivered, so I paid both bills. Later, when my neighbor returned, she stopped in to pay her bill. I took this opportunity to tell her that I had received the funniest nightgown in my laundry that did not belong to me.

As I held it up for inspection, I said, "It must belong to a tall person. See how hideous it looks."

Immediately she started to laugh as she recognized it, and said: "Why, that is my nightgown."

I had to think rapidly trying to describe one of my own to relieve the situation.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

C. T.: HERE'S A MAN WHO bribes me with an automobile if I will make hair grow on his head! If I only knew how it could be done, couldn't I be buying the car for myself? With a liveried chauffeur with silver trimmings, C. T.? If I only knew the answer—what couldn't I buy?

CAROLINE: SO BAD A CASE OF constipation as that would keep you thin. First, you would better take mineral oil for a week or so. Eat prunes for breakfast; no oatmeal for awhile. Eat a green salad with a lot of oil dressing on it at noon, and at least two fresh vegetable helpings at dinner. No starches for a bit, no pastry, pies, or candy. Send for a set of my exercises which are helpful for one suffering as you are. Walk two miles a day at least, in the meantime.

Bright Sayings of the Children

On his second birthday, Jack was given a tricycle for a present. He was soon riding around on it, and his mother noticed him wheeling first into one corner of the living room, then into another.

Finally, in tones of utter disgust: "Gosh, I can't find any place to park my car!"

M. B.

Marie was fond of her China doll, and carried it about with her constantly. One day a baby brother came into the family. The next day a neighbor noticed that Marie was not carrying her doll, and inquired where it was.

The child replied: "Well, you see, I don't need China dolls now. We've got a regular meat baby at our house and he keeps me busy!"

Lately Charles Chaplin had a vision. He saw himself with all the trappings of clowning dropped from him. In this mood he made a sensational sortie into the serious drama:

Just see this picture. It has won phenomenal success. Chaplin, the traditional buffoon, proves himself a dynamic and advanced thinker—a pioneer of a new screen technique—a rival of Griffith—a genius of "punch" and power—a new king of entertainment. See it!

AMBITIOUS CHICAGO WOMEN never let a morning pass without a careful reading of The Tribune. They know they can't afford to.

Stage and Society Join Forces to Make Equity Ball a Success

When either the talented members of society or those of the stage world get up an entertainment it is pretty sure to be a success, but when they combine forces there is no doubt of the matter. This is the case with the annual Actors' Equity ball, to be held on Saturday, Jan. 19, at the First Regiment armory. Tom Wise, "The Old Soak," is general chairman of arrangements; Mrs. John Alden Carpenter is in charge of decorations; Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank is in charge of the sale of boxes; Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman also is helping to sell boxes, and Mrs. Edward R. Fifield is arranging the supper. Some of those who have taken boxes are Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Fairbank, Joseph T. Ryerson, who is chairman of the floor committee, Mrs. Watson F. Blair, Henry J. Patten, and Mrs. Francis Neilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson are planning a dinner dance for the evening of Friday, Jan. 18, at their residence, 1406 Astor street, for Miss Marion Erskine, one of this season's most popular debutantes. Miss Erskine, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Wolf Erskine of 33 East Division street, made her debut at a tea party on Nov. 10. There will be about 100 guests, being the largest affair the Ryersons have given since moving into their beautiful new house. But, in the parlance of the street, anything they give "will have to go some to beat" the dinner they gave last Friday night, for every one who was there still is talking of what a beautiful affair it was. The house, French in style, was a perfect setting for the dinner party, the members of which were all dressed in French costumes of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, ready to go on to the White ball at the Hotel Sherman.

A group of well known women will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the John Shedd gallery of the Art institute for the first of six lessons in needlecraft, under the auspices of the Antiquarian Society of the Art institute, of which Mrs. Potter Palmer is president. Miss Mary Symonds of London is the instructor.

Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed of 936 Lake Shore drive is giving a luncheon today for Miss Julia Hodge of Bloomington, Ill., who is the guest of Mrs. Carleton J. Holdredge of 32 Scott street. Miss Hodge will return to Bloomington on Thursday.

Mrs. E. Vincent Gale of 75 East Division street is giving a luncheon tomorrow at the Woman's Athletic club for Mrs. Charles Brooks Bartlett of New York.

Miss Daphne Field, daughter of Mrs. Sara Brown Field of 40 East Elm street, is in Pasadena as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Hixon, whose daughter, Betty, was married on Jan. 3 to Dr. Paul Hunter, also of Pasadena. Miss Field, who was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding, and Mrs. Hunter attended Miss Hixon's school in Florence, Italy, together. A former Chicagoan, Robert Hunter, acted as his cousin's best man, and Louise and Helen Hunter, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter (Gwendolyn Mitchell of Chicago), were flower girls.

Mrs. Leroy A. Goddard of 1419 State parkway, Mrs. Bernard A. Eckhart of 1530 Lake Shore drive, Mrs. George M. Reynolds of 1444 Lake Shore drive, Mrs. Allan M. Clement of 196 East Delaware place, and Mrs. Joseph Defrees of the Windermere hotel, departed on Sunday for a week's stay in New York. Mrs. Charles M. Hewitt of 1411 State parkway had planned to accompany the party, but changed her plans on account of illness.

Miss Macbeth Sees Chicago as World Musical Center

Chicago as the musical center of the world within ten years was predicted by Florence Macbeth, soprano of the Chicago Civic opera, before members of the Chicago Piano club, in the Illinois Athletic club last night. Miss Macbeth, elected an honorary member of the piano association, said she expects to give up her home in New York within the next few years and to come to Chicago to devote all of her time to the uplift, through music, of Chicago citizens.

Remember what grandmother used to tell the children. "If you do not like it, leave it; do not play in it." This should not have to apply to grownups, but it often does.

Miss Florence Folds Becomes Bride of James Henry Gregg

Miss Florence Folds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weston Folds of 108 East Walton place and Lake Forest, became the bride of James Henry Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Gregg of Minneapolis, last night at 8:30 o'clock at St. Chrysostom's church, Bishop Anderson officiating. After the ceremony there was a reception at the Drake.

The bride wore a white velvet gown made in old time style with a tight bodice and full skirt. Set in the train was some rose point lace which had adorned Mrs. Folds' wedding gown. Orange blossoms held the tulle veil in place and the bridal bouquet was of valley lilies and gardenias.

Mrs. Laurence A. Eggleston, her sister's matron of honor, wore a gown of rose satin crêpe trimmed in blue and lace and carried pink sweet peas. The bride's only other attendant was little Elizabeth Ann Eggleston, who wore flesh color taffeta and carried a basket of pink roses. Mrs. Eggleston's gown and also that of her daughter were made with tight bodices and long, full skirts.

Mr. Gregg's best man was his brother, John, and ushering were two other brothers, Carter and Ashton Gregg; the bride's brother, George R. Folds; Kenneth Harper, Charles Thayer, Norman Bradish of St. Paul, and Ronald Ricker of Minneapolis.

The Side Frill Refreshes the Straight Silhouette

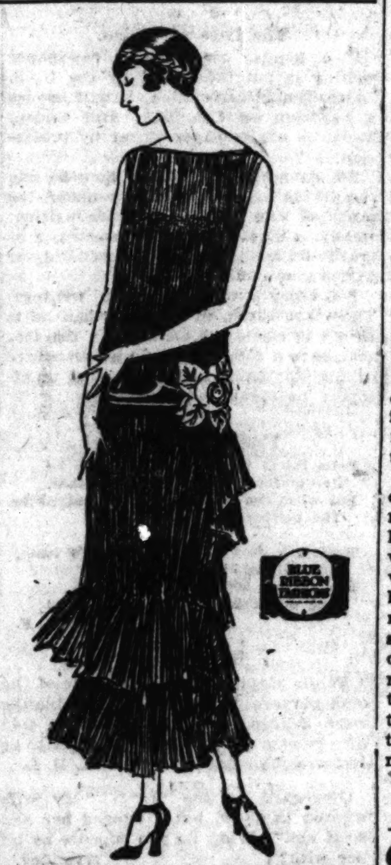
by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—First aid to the afternoon and evening gown is often the cascade. The cascade, made either of lace or of plaits in self material, is one of the striking notes of midseason modes.

Two Paris models use cascading accordion plaits to refresh the straight silhouette. In one the plaits fall the full length of the frock on one side. In the other they are used horizontally, appearing for half the length of the waist and again from hip to knee with another reiteration at the bottom of the sleeve.

The model sketched develops the cascade only from the hip line downward. Like the dress, it is made of black tulle and continues the effect of two deep ruffles at the skirt bottom. Inasmuch as one has a choice for afternoon wear between long, tight sleeves and none at all, this sleeveless gown is equally convenient for an informal dinner or a more elaborate afternoon occasion. The dress is worn over a black slip, and is finished with a sash of ciré ribbon ornamented at one side with a large, pale pink rose.

Unusual application of the cascade theme is to set off a vestee by lapels in this form. More conventional was its use remarked at a fashionable small dance last week. One of the most distinguished costumes—of beige velvet—decorated the slightly draped skirt with a fall of ecru lace springing from the folds above the hip.



How to make Good Coffee

NUMBER II

To make coffee by the drip method in a pot with cloth dripper, use a heaping teaspoonful of Yuban, pulverized, to each cup of water, briskly boiling.

With metal dripper or filter paper, one generously rounded tablespoonful of Yuban, ground, to each cup of fresh water, briskly boiling. Steep about five minutes.

As the guest coffee of the world's greatest coffee merchant, Yuban always brought forth exclamations of delight whenever he served it. Later when it was offered for sale it immediately became the favorite coffee of the most discriminating, at once far outstripping every other kind.

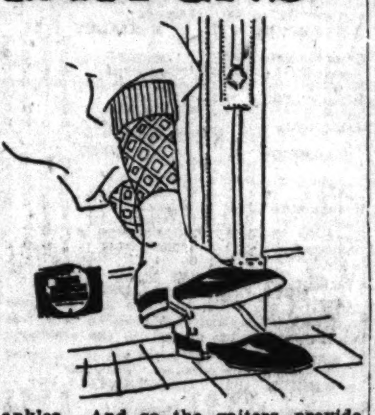
MEN'S FASHIONS

Gaiters for Sports.

BY A. T. GALLICO.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The golf bug has bitten some men so ferociously that the fever following the bite does not let up even in the winter. No matter how cold the wind, the golf enthusiast, provided he can play hookey from the office and find a place to play, will pile on warm clothes and take to the links. The above illustration is a style note for him. Sport gaiters worn with knickers is one of the fashions we have received from England. It is entirely correct here, but is a style that is in good taste only when used as a necessity and not as a decorative touch.



Just as a heavy fur coat looks out of place on a man in the city on a mild day, so would these gaiters look like an extravagant bit of dressing if worn with sport suit when the weather was not severe. They are solely a keeping warm proposition, and are recommended for wear with knicker suits for winter golf and hiking in the country, when the golf stockings are not sufficient protection. There is a tendency to feel the cold a little about the ankles when knickers are substituted for long trousers, which are more or less of a protection to the ankles. And so the gaiters provide the necessary warmth, for if the ankles are warm the whole leg has a good chance of being warm, especially with heavyweight woolen stockings.

Fashionote.

Another means the winter sportsman will use to keep warm is flannel shirts. These need not be the extremely heavy ones, for lightweight flannel gives enough warmth for the average outing and is good fitting into the bargain. We saw some recently that were quiet and attractive enough to use for street attire.

How to Be Happy Though Married

By DORIS BLAKE

What is a good time?

How little adventurous, restless, romantic, impulsive, headstrong, stubborn youth realizes the tremendous influence its answer to that question makes in its life.

How few mothers realize how necessary it is to help their young daughters to answer that question in the best way. How few girls know that their character, their health, their success in life, their gift to their children in the future, and many other things are influenced by their answer to the question.

"Our country needs great mothers and great leaders with the mother instinct—those who have by their own careful building earned the right to rear and teach and guide the children of the future," says Mrs. Margaret W. Eggleston, who has had years of successful work with girls. "But we can have them only as those who lead and love the adolescent girls and help these girls to build more carefully, more wisely, and more prayerfully for the great future that is before them."

Play hours, Mrs. Eggleston points out wisely, are one of the danger points in building for womanhood. To a large extent, she reminds mothers, the girl chooses her friends, her pleasures, and her standards for social life during these hours when she is least carefully supervised.

As long as the young girl is in public school near the home she goes away in time for school and returns as soon as it is over. Her friends are the children of the neighborhood, and mother can say: "You must not play with Grace, but you may bring Katherine home whenever you wish." She can to a large extent control both play and friendship.

But when high school days come it is different, this girls' director cautions parents. Perhaps mother does not know a certain girl with whom her daughter associates day after day. The lessons in high school broaden her vision, and she begins to desire to reach out in her friendships. Soon she has a friend to whom she tells everything—and a little more, sometimes. She becomes a part, and sometimes a center, of a group of girls who want to do things together.

"By the time she is a junior in high school she finds herself much interested in both boys and girls. She begins to be careful in her dress. She likes to be attractive. She is found criticizing her person—either her nose is too long or her hair should be another color or her dresses should be made in another style. She is interested in making herself attractive to others. She is lonely if she is obliged to be away from the groups of boys and girls. Usually the attraction for boy friends grows as she grows older.

It is during this time when the girl is building for the social life that she becomes a great problem in her home. She is anxious for her freedom, and she resents any opposition to her plans. She honestly feels she is wise enough to choose her friends and her recreations, Mrs Eggleston believes, but she lacks the knowledge of the world and experience to realize the influence which only one day with a weak companion may have on her life and thought.

It takes infinite care and patience to help her to build wisely. It is the mother's problem to meet wisely and sympathetically. It is for the mother to ask if the home is supplying anything wholesome in the recreational need of the young woman. If the young woman is anxious to be away from home evening after evening, what is wrong with the home? If she is boy crazy, is it because she has not been allowed to have boy friends in the home? Could not the home plan to allow her to entertain boys and girls more often and so meet some of this need? Would the purchase of a talking machine to which music the young folk can dance take away some of her desire to dance in public places?

These are some of the home problems, Mrs. Eggleston reminds parents, which every mother has to face if she is going to help in the building of the social life.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

You Surprise Us.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 22 and have been keeping company with a girl for two years. Although I have never asked her, I believe she cares for me and would like to have me propose. Under these circumstances I would like to know if it is all right for me to let her kiss me? Do you think it is wrong for us to hold hands? I shall wait anxiously for your answer. R. R."

Well, R. R., I didn't know there was a young man like you left in the world. I would rejoice, except that I fear your backward disposition is driving the girl to such unseemly proposals as asking you for a kiss. Too, I suspect she is trying to force you into holding hands. Now you are not going to wait around until she does the proposing, too, are you?

Renders Her Speechless.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 16. Once a week I go out with a boy one year my senior. We do not go alone, but with other girls and boys. My boy friend insists upon kissing me. I do not want him to do so, but yet I can't say anything—I simply remain dumfounded. I would appreciate it if you would tell me in words what to say to him. DOT."

None so dumb as those who will not speak, eh, Dot? You'd better recover your speech, somehow and right away, young lady! Or you are going to get a nice reputation, and don't you think I am an old fashioned prude for saying that. Start in at 16 dispensing your dumb acquiescence—well—just tell the boy you don't wish to have the reputation at school or anywhere else of being cheap and common and vulgar.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary Liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get Liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

CORKERY POND ENTERS 42 FOR SILVER SKATES

SILVER SKATES DERBY

Please enter me in The Chicago Tribune Silver Skates Derby, to be held in Garfield park, Sunday, Jan. 20.

Name ....

Address ....

Club.................. Age.......

- ☐ Men's senior, 18 and over.
- ☐ Girls' senior, 16 and over.
- ☐ Boys' intermediate, 16 and 17.
- ☐ Girls' junior, under 16.
- ☐ Boys' junior, under 16.

Place cross in square in front of race you care to enter.

Entries close on Sunday with Walter Eckersall, Tribune Sporting Department.

George Sonnenleiter, popular director of Corkery playground, yesterday nominated fourty-two skaters for the annual Silver Skates Derbies of THE TRIBUNE, to be held over a six lap course in Garfield park on Jan. 20. This is one of the largest team entries received for Chicago's skating classic, and plainly shows that attendants of Corkery playground are taking a keen interest in the healthy outdoor sport.

The Corkery playground director is responsible for the development of Harry Kaskey, winner of the senior Silver Skates Derby last year and now a member of the American Olympic speed skating team now en route to France.

Cardinals Enter Thirty.

The Crawford Cardinal A. A., one of the enterprising younger clubs of Chicago, has sent in entries of thirty prospective stars for the five Derbies. Unlike [illegible] other organizations, the Crawford [illegible] A. will be represented in the girls' races. Three entries for each class have been received.

Phillip Berk, formerly connected with Georgia Tech athletic department, who has organized a club known as Berk's Bulldog A. A., has sent in names of eighteen boys who will take part in the three races. Berk asserted in his letter that some of the boys may not win a prize this year, but he hopes the experience gained in this year's race will aid them considerably in their quest for prizes next season.

Entries Close Sunday.

Numbers of individual entries are being received every day, but the clubs and playgrounds are slow to send in complete nominations. The lists close on Sunday at midnight, and none will be accepted after this date. Last year individuals and clubs tried to make post entry, but all such requests had to be refused, and the same policy must be followed this year.

Officials are being selected to handle the five races and the complete list will be announced in Sunday's issue of THE TRIBUNE. The first race on Jan. 20 will start promptly at 1 p. m. and officials are requested to make plans accordingly.

An entry blank appears on the sports pages for the benefit of those who desire to enter.

PLAYGROUND MEET JAN. 19

The championship ice skating tournament of the municipal playgrounds of the city will be held at Wrightwood playground Jan. 19, Theodore A. Gross, superintendent of the playgrounds, announced yesterday. The preliminary events will be held during the week at each of the fourteen playgrounds. The winners then will meet in the final tournament.

Ten events will make up the program in both the preliminaries and final meets. Six are individual events while four relays are listed. The individual races are:

Class D, boys under 14, 220 yards; class C, boys 14 and 15 years, 440 yards; class B, boys 16 and 17 years, 880 yards; class A, boys 18 years and over, one mile; class C, girls, 12 and 13 years, 110 yards; class B, girls, 14 and 15 years, 220 yards.

Main Relay Races.

The relay races are:

Class D, boys, one-half mile [four boys to team]; class C, one mile [four boys to team]; class B, one mile [four boys to team]; class A, one mile [4 boys to team].

The winning team in each playground will skate in the final event and prizes for the individual winners, winning relay teams, and the team scoring the most points in the final meet, will be awarded.

Mayor W. E. Dever, for years a member of the municipal playground committee, is one of the big boosters of the tournament. The mayor will act as an official in the championship tournament.

Close Northwest Entries.

Entries for the Northwest Skating club Derby, which will be held on Sunday at Humboldt park, closed yesterday with a strong field of skaters entered. All of the winners in last Sunday's tournament of the Norwegian-American A. A. will compete.

C. M. Ihle, manager of the Northwest club ice team, will be in charge of the tournament, which is being staged under sanction of the Western Skating association.

Chicago skaters are preparing to invade Elgin, Ill., en masse for the Illinois championship tournament, which will be staged Jan. 19 under the auspices of the Elgin Skating club and Western Skating association. The regular program of championship events for both boys and girls, including the sprint races, will be held.

M'LEAN HURLS DEFI AT STAFF FOR TITLE RACE

Bobby McLean, former national professional ice skating champion, is getting excited over the prospects of getting a series of match races for the national championship with Art Staff. Both boys are Chicagoans.

At present Staff is in Norway trying to get a permit to stage a series of races for the world's championship with Oscar Mathiesen, recognized world's titleholder.

McLean, through his manager, Jim Thomas, has issued a defi to Staff for a match series as soon as the American titleholder returns from Norway. McLean even proposes to race both Mathiesen and Staff in this country, if the efforts to stage the Staff-Mathiesen meet in Norway fail, and should the skaters return to America.

Englewood Quintets Defeat Tilden in League Openers

BY WALLACE ABBEY.

After trailing, 6 to 4, at half time, Englewood's heavyweight quintet mustered its strength in the third quarter yesterday and scored enough points to defeat Tilden, last year's city league champions, 22 to 13, in the initial central section encounter of the 1924 campaign. The game was played at Englewood and the Purple lights made the day complete by trimming their opponents, 19 to 14.

All of Englewood's damage was done in that third quarter. Not a point was made by either heavy team in the fourth session, so close was the guarding. Kaplan, whose work at forward is being counted on to carry the Purple majors a long way toward the sectional and city titles, led the scoring with four ringers, Murphy netting three. Pearlman played the stellar rôle for the vanquished with three baskets. Lineups:

PHILLIPS-LINDBLOM SPLIT.

Led by Brookins, who scored seven baskets, and Spears, who totaled four, besides one free toss, Wendell Phillips heavyweights sprung a surprise by defeating Lindblom, 32 to 8, at Phillips gym. Lindblom lightweights also upset the dope by handing the Phillips' ponies a 26 to 8 drubbing in a rough game.

Loyola U. to Open Cage Year with Armour Tonight

Lyola university basket team opens its schedule tonight on its own floor by meeting Armour institute, coached by Milt Romney, former Maroon mainstay. The Loyola squad, coached by Leonard Sachs, has shown much improvement in recent weeks, and has prospects for a successful season. Notre Dame and Detroit are two of the hardest games on the list.

Two battles face University of Chicago cagers this week and with hopes of wiping out their defeat by Purdue, Coach Nels Norgren's men are putting in extra time to develop their offense and to make their defense more nearly air tight before the Northwestern game tomorrow and that with Butler Saturday.

At Lafayette the Maroons lacked team coöperation, though there was a great display of individual brilliance.

Judging from Chicago's comparatively easy victory over Yale, the Purple, who were defeated by the Blue quintet, are not considred as likely to hand the Maroons another conference defeat.

LOYOLA HEAVIES TRIUMPH, 32 TO 21

Loyola academy heavy quintet disposed of St. Michael's yesterday, 32 to 21, in the league opener at the losers' gymnasium, the accurate shooting of Conley, Dorn, and Ladner being a large factor in the victory. The home lights won the curtain raiser, 16 to 3. Heavy lineup:

ILLINI CAGERS LOSE VETERAN

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 7.—Cord Lipe, veteran guard on the University of Illinois basketball team, pulled a tendon in his heel today and will be out of the game for at least a month.

Curt Parker, sub guard last season, and Earl Britton and Ted Haines, sophomores, are being groomed for Lipe's position.

K. J. Lipe of Decatur tonight was elected captain of the freshman basket ball team. Lipe is a forward, and a brother of Cord Lipe.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

WRITING BY "EXPERTS."

THE American Olympic committee in its proposed rule to bar competitors in the Paris games from writing for newspapers, is acting wisely.

The reason advanced—that all their time is needed to concentrate on physical effort—is sane. The committee might have added that few athletes really write their own "stuff." Even if they did, there is little in track meets that a layman cannot cover as well or better than the contestants themselves.

Syndicating of newspaper articles on various sports by experts whose copy is prepared by trained newspapermen has been more or less of a joke in recent years.

Where the experts really furnish the ideas, it is not so bad. In some instances, however, the "writers" have not even seen their work until they read it in the papers. In reports of the baseball world's series, the abuse has been particularly flagrant.

The Case of Tilden.

If a similar rule about newspaper writing is put into effect by the U. S. Lawn Tennis association, it will impose a hardship on Champion Bill Tilden. Tilden is a newspaper writer by profession.

We do not see, however, how he can retain his amateur standing under the proposed rule and still continue writing. Really, a clause should be inserted, general in its application, which would cover Tilden's or similar cases.

We enjoy reading Tilden's writings. There are times, of course, when he is forced to shield his opinions by the fact that he is a competitor. In his estimates of foreign teams and on general tennis topics, he speaks with authority.

SKIERS DO NOT FEAR PROTEST OF SWEDEN

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—There is little fear among the members of the ski team which will represent the United States in the Olympic games that Sweden's protest against three of the four riders selected will be allowed, but at the same time the officials who named the team yesterday selected two alternates to be taken to France with the squad.

The three riders on the team who have been protested are Anders Haugen of Minneapolis, Hans Hansen of Minneapolis, and Ragnar Omtvedt of Chicago. Harry Lein of the Norge Ski club of Chicago and Julius Blegen of Minneapolis were named as alternates.

The feeling that Sweden's protest on the three American riders would not be allowed was based on the fact that while all of the three protested men had at times during their careers competed contrary to the generally accepted amateur rules of other sports, they had been reinstated as amateurs in ski jumping two years ago by the Amateur Athletic union after their cases had been heard.

At this time the National Ski association decided to end all professional competition and allow all riders to become amateurs again.

HURTS HAMPER N. U. QUINTET

With Barney Mathews added to the increasing list of noncombatants, the Purple basketball warriors will enter the game with the Maroons tomorrow night at Northwestern in a crippled conditions, which will necessitate a change in lineup to give Chicago any kind of an argument. Last night it was announced that Mathews' injury, sustained in the Yale encounter, had turned out to be a fracture of the elbow.

Coach Maury Kent, not expectant of victory but determined to give Norgren's charges a battle, instituted a change in the lineup in yesterday's practice. The loss of Mathews has forced the switch of Bo Graham to Mathews' guard position.

AMATEUR DOGS HAVE DAY AT FIELD TRIALS

BY BOB BECKER.

Grand Junction, Tenn., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Ghost Eugene and Sir Barton, both setters, won first and second money today in the all-America trials for amateur dogs which started this morning at 9 o'clock on the historic Grand Junction field trials course.

Thornton's Sensation, a pointer, and Palacho Bery were placed third and fourth, respectively, by Judges O. S. Redman and W. J. Shaw. In rendering their decision the judges declined to name an amateur champion, however, as the work of the winning dog was declared to be short of championship caliber. The purse of $100 will be split 40, 30, 20, and 10.

Birds Hard to Find.

Nine setters and two pointers were nominated to start in today's event for dogs which had never won a place on the big circuit, and of these Ghost Eugene and Sir Barton easily showed their class, although their work on the birds was faulty. Beautiful Eugenia and Val formed the first brace which was cast promptly at 9 o'clock. They drew a tough assignment as it was cold, the running was hard, and birds difficult to find.

Sir Barton and Ghost Eugene formed the second brace and both found coveys of quail in short order, with Barton having a fine chance to show his stuff when he had to work on a bunch of birds that were sitting tight in some oak brush. The setter ranged back and forth, refusing to give up, although the bird scent was elusive and the covey difficult to find. But his excellent performance was marred by his unsteadiness to wing.

Cold Keeps Fans Away.

Cold weather kept many dog lovers in town today and only thirty field trial fans and handlers braved the cold to ride behind the dogs as they worked on the various courses. After four braces of dogs had been run the lunch wagon came out from town to meet this group, so that little time was taken out for lunch at about 1 o'clock.

With the weather moderating, conditions tomorrow should be ideal for running the Derby championship, in which only pointers and setters whelped since Jan. 1, 1922, are eligible. This will give the young dogs a chance to get into action. Drawings for the pairs in this and the all age stake were held tonight. Each pair will be given thirty minutes to find and handle birds in the first series.

In the second series, which will involve only the four top dogs of the field, the contesting pointers and setters will be required to run an hour and a half. Indications are that more than a dozen dogs will compete in this derby.

NORTH SHORE LINE

Importance of the Railroad in Community Development

THE modern transportation system is not merely a connecting link between communities, but rather a creative force to bring them into existence.

The railroad is a pioneer and development naturally follows in its path. Hamlets become villages and villages broaden into cities. Population increases and new industries are born. Close-in farms of today become the residential sections of tomorrow.

In the development of the territory which it serves, the North Shore Line is an important factor, for dependable transportation is necessary to community growth.

It answers favorably the first question asked by the prospective resident—

"How is your transportation service?"

The Charles A. Coffin Medal awarded to the North Shore Line for distinguished contribution to the development of electrical transportation for the convenience of the public and the benefit of the industry.

There is no delay or loss of time when you travel on the North Shore Line. Its service is fast, comfortable and frequent.

*Van Kempen leading.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

During a day of wild riding in which five teams gained a lap on the field and two riders were forced to withdraw because of injuries sustained in one of the worst falls ever seen in such an event in Chicago, the team of McNamara and Van Kempen led in the six day bicycle race at the Coliseum at midnight. This combination scored 95 points, but at that hour was tied in mileage with four other teams.

Egg and Grenda were second with 54 points, and Coburn and Beckman third with 52. The combinations of Kockler and Stockholm and Dewolfe and Stockelynch tied for fourth position with 45 point. Other teams are one and two laps behind, making three divisions now in the race.

Harry Horan and Joe Kopsky were the riders whose injuries forced their withdrawal.

Nine Riders in Spill.

Although the jam which resulted in stolen laps happened during the 2 o'clock sprints yesterday morning, the most sensational incident of the race thus far was the wholesale spill which happened shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

In this mixup Kopsky and Stockelynch rode clear up over the bank on the south end of the track, crashing over the three foot fence and into the temporary seats. Seven other riders fell on the track and slid down to the concrete inside the pole.

The race immediately was stopped and trainers and helpers rushed to the assistance of the fallen riders. Stockelynch was assisted from the stand at the south end by police, while Kopsky had to be carried to the training quarters. So did Horan and Lawrence. Others were helped to limp to the dressing room.

Doctors were summoned and soon most of the riders regained consciousness and, after having their bruises dressed, returned to the track.

Horan and Kopsky Injured.

Horan and Kopsky, however, were most seriously injured. Kopsky was cut and bruised around the body, while the right side of Horan's face was badly bruised, as was his right shoulder and leg. Lawrence suffered a badly wrenched back.

At 10:15 oclock, when the bell was rung to denote resumption of the race, the stricken riders gave a great exhibition of gameness and returned to the track. Horan's head was heavily bandaged and it was an effort for him even to mount his bike. The same was true of Lawrence.

Kopsky, however, could not stand the strain, and withdrew. Horan rode in the sprints, but shortly after the dashes also had to withdraw. As a result of these forced withdrawals the remnants of the two teams were combined, and Madden, who was Horan's partner, now is teamed with Declerck, who started in the race with Kopsky. The new team was penalized one lap.

Fourteen Teams Still in Race.

Stockelynch suffered a badly cut right thumb. The others to suffer bruises of various extent were McBeath, Lands, Mobeck, and Cozzolino. There now are fourteen teams in the race, which is proving the most interesting in the last two years here.

The melee at 8 p. m. was caused by a collision between Kopsky and Stockelynch. The former had just relieved his partner and was riding high and on the outside of the field. As the pack approached the south turn Stockelynch came up from behind on the outside. Apparently Kopsky did not know he was there, and just after they hit the south turn Kopsky swung up, jammed into the fast coming Stockelynch, and the two went over the rail.

Horan, who was just behind, hit Stockelynch's rear wheel and as he slid down the track took the other riders with him. How some of the others avoided the spill is a mystery.

Beckman Wins Three Races.

The earlier jamming, which resulted in stolen laps, was started by Carl Stockholm. After Stocky had been caught De Wolfe let go and was relieved by Stockelynch in a perfect pickup. In the meantime McNamara and Beckman gave chase and after twenty minutes of jamming Referee Frank Kramer announced that five teams had gained one lap, while two others had lost as many laps.

Following the dangerous wholesale spill the riders took things a bit easier, but there was some spirited riding in the 10 o'clock sprints, of which Beckman won three dashes, Van Kempen two, and Hill as many. Some of the finishes were close enough to keep the capacity crowd on its feet. Results of these sprints:

First sprint—Won by Beckman; Kockler, second; McNamara, third; Gaffney, fourth.

Second sprint—Won by Hill; Madden, second; Kaiser, third; Thomas, fourth.

Third sprint—Won by Beckman; Taylor, second; McNamara, third; Gaffney, fourth.

Fourth sprint—Won by Hill; Van Kampen, second; Coburn, third; Stockelynch, fourth.

Fifth sprint—Won by McNamara, Gaffney, second; Norantonio, third; Kockler, fourth.

Sixth sprint—Won by Cozzolino; Egg, second; Van Kampen, third; Lands, fourth.

Seventh sprint—Won by Beckman; Gastman, second; Grenda, third; Taylor, fourth.

Eighth sprint—Won by Van Kampen; Stockholm, second; Coburn, third; Lands, fourth.

Ninth sprint—Won by McNamara; Gaffney, second; Madden, third; Taylor, fourth.

Tenth sprint—Won by Van Kampen; Stockholm, second; Stockelynch, third; Hill, fourth.

YANKS LAND COMBS IN BIG LOUISVILLE DEAL

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Not to be outdone by the Giants, the Yankees today announced the purchase of Earle Combs, sensational hitting outfielder of the Louisville club, for a sum of money and two players. Combs is the mate of Wayland Dean, the Louisville pitcher who was sold to the Giants on Saturday, and the two have been linked in spectacular bidding carried on for the last few weeks by half a dozen major league clubs. More than $100,000 was offered by the Cincinnati Reds for the two Louisville stars.

It is probable that at least $50,000 and valuable players were paid by the Giants and Yankees each for the services of the sensational youngsters.

Yanks Give Up Smith.

In addition to turning over a considerable sum of money, the Yanks sent Elmer Smith, veteran outfielder, to Louisville. The second player involved in the trade will be delivered later. Louisville has asked for a particular player on another American league team and the Yanks are now endeavoring to obtain his release and turn him over. Failing that, the local team will deliver one of the players now on its roster.

The release of Elmer Smith was almost as much of a surprise as the acquisition of Combs. Baseball men were puzzled tonight that Smith should have been waived out of the American league. Only a few years ago—1920—he was the hitting sensation of a world's series, and he has the proud distinction of being the only batter in world's series history to hit a home run with the bases full, a feat he accomplished for Cleveland against Brooklyn in 1920.

Ruppert Praises Combs.

Col. Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, was enthusiastic over his new outfielder. "Without atempting to speak for Miller Huggins," he said, "I think that Combs may be of immediate use to our club. If he lives up to his fine record there is a good chance of his being pushed right into the lineup next spring. Naturally, it will take a good man to displace Whitey Witt, but Combs may be that man. In any event, he looks like an excellent prospect for future years."

Combs has been in professional ball only two seasons, both with the Colonels.

DUTCH LEONARD'S PLEA FAILS TO MOVE LANDIS

Mr. Hubert [Dutch] Leonard's anticipated return to baseball is delayed indefinitely. "Dutch," who not many seasons since was considerable left hander with the Boston Americans, leaped off the O. B. wagon when traded to Detroit and he recently applied to Commissioner Landis for reinstatement. The latter announced yesterday that he had refused Leonard's plea.

Leonard refused to report to the Tygers in 1922 and instead played ball in the San Joaquin [Cal.] Valley league, which is an "outlaw" affair. Until he disassociates himself from ineligibles for a period of one year he will not be permitted to reënter the fold. He is carried on the Detroit club's suspended list, and his services will revert to the Tygers if he ever is reinstated.

Landis also denied a claim for salary filed by Pitcher Art Riviere, former Cardinal, against the Syracuse club. Riviere was suspended last July for failure to keep in condition, and sought to recover salary due under his contract for the term of his exile.

Lake View Track Teams Beat Austin in Dual Meets

Lake View High school athletes took a dual track meet from Austin yesterday at Lake View, the north side seniors winning, 80½ to 14½, the juniors, 55 to 22. High point honors in the senior division went to Augustine of Lake View, who won two firsts, while three firsts gave Liljestrom of Lake View similar honors in the junior events.

Only Kearns Now in Dark on Proposed Gibbons-Jack Go

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 7.—[By the Associated Press.]—Champion Jack Dempsey has agreed to meet Tommy Gibbons in a return match, James C. Mullen, Chicago promoter, announced here today. The place and date of the bout have not been decided, but Mullen said Cleveland and Louisville were anxious for it. He said Louisville would like to hold the bout Derby eve.

Mullen asserted that Dempsey agreed to the bout last week in New York, adding that the champion would fight on a percentage basis. Arrangements with Gibbons will be made at a conference with Eddie Kane, the challenger's manager, next week, he said.

News to Kearns.

New York, Jan. 7.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, today denied that he had made any agreement with James C. Mullen, Chicago promoter, for a match between the heavyweight titleholder and Tommy Gibbons. Kearns said he had been approached by Mullen several weeks ago, but had received no definite proposition from the promoter.

"I told Mullen I was interested in a return fight with Gibbons—I always am—but that's as far as it went."

Match Pending—Dempsey.

Miami, Fla., Jan 7.—Jack Dempsey admitted today that a match was pending between himself and Tommy Gibbons, but declared any official announcement would have to come from Jack Kearns, his manager. There have been several telegrams exchanged between the two since his arrival, and Jack has agreed to meet the challenger at terms agreeable to Kearns.

Bout on Fire—Kane.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 7.—Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, declared here today that negotiations are under way with James Mullen, Chicago promoter, for a bout between Gibbons and Jack Dempsey.

Kane said he would insist that the bout be held where a decision can be given and where a boxing commission will name the referee.

Prospects Bright.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—Prospects appear to be good for a return match between Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul and Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion boxer, according to a letter Gibbons received today from his manager Eddie Kane, who now is in Indianapolis. Eddie Long of Chicago, Kane's partner, is said to be in New York conferring with promoters regarding the bout. Gibbons announced that he had been matched to meet Bob Roper in a ten round fight at Miami, Fla., Jan. 29.

FARM & GARDEN

By FRANK RIDGWAY

EVERY APIARIST HAS PART IN CLEANUP CAMPAIGN.

ARTICLE II.

The attitude of the average beekeeper toward the eradication of diseases has been discouraging to those who have made a study of the various infections and see the possibility of effectively controlling them. As a result even the enthusiast frequently becomes discouraged because, until within recent years, the majority of apiarists in his community have been against him. He soon decides that it is of little value to him to go to any great expense or make any effort to keep his bees free from diseases when apiaries all around him are more or less infected. Too often he falls in with the rest, saves all but the worst combs, and attempts to secure a crop of honey despite the work of diseases.

To save the honey producing industry beekeepers will have to go after the brood diseases just as live stock men have in gaining control of many serious animal diseases that cost this nation millions and presented to the farmers of the country a much more serious task than the one now confronting the beemen.

Each individual keeper of apiaries should not wait for some one to come around and assign him his role, but should support a county organization where one already exists or organize a new one and affiliate with state associations.

NOTES OF THE CUEISTS.

Sunday defeated Rosenfield [46], 55 to 33, in a three cushion billiard house tournament game at Bensinger's Monroe room last night.

In a house tournament game of three cushion billiards at Mussey's Jackson room Bass downed Murphy [40], 40 to 33, last night.

DEMETRAL, POJELLO IN MAT GO TONIGHT

Bill Demetral, one of the veterans of the mat game, and Karl Pojello, one of the latest European grapplers to come to this country in quest of Champion Ed Lewis' crown, will take holds in the feature bout of the wrestling show to be conducted by Charley Cutler at First Regiment armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue, tonight.

Pojello, who claims to be expert in the Græco-Roman style, would not agree to the match unless the Chicago Greek agreed to wrestle the European style. Demetral won several Græco-Roman titles in his earlier days. As a result all holds below the waist will be barred and they will wrestle to a finish best two in three falls.

Rivals of Lewis Clash.

John Evko and Charley Sanderson, both of whom are seeking matches with Lewis, will meet in another finish match, while Ajax and Garkawienke, another pair of heavyweights, will open the show in a finish tussle. Hugh Nichols of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Joe Novak, middleweights, complete the program.

Renato Gardini, the Italian heavyweight who has met World's Champion Ed Lewis on several occasions, is of the opinion Michael Romano has an even chance to wrest the crown from Lewis when the pair meet at Dexter Park pavilion one week from tonight.

Romano Scissors Expert.

Romano is one of the most efficient wrestlers in the game when it comes to applying the short arm scissors. This is his most effective hold, and Gardini believes his countryman will apply the lock so many times that Lewis' arms will be weakened to such an extent he will be unable to apply the head lock effectively.

Chris Jordan, the Cleveland middleweight, has been added to Promoter John Krone's mat card at Ashland Boulevard auditorium next Monday night. Jordan will be matched with a worthy opponent who will be named later in the week. Johnny Meyers, middleweight champion, has until tomorrow to accept Krone's contract to meet Joe Turner of Washington, D. C., in the main event.

FORMER MATE OF JOHN L. IS FROZEN TO DEATH

New York, Jan. 7.—Thomas Forrest, said to be a former sparring partner of two heavyweight boxing champions—John L. Sullivan and Bob Fitzsimmons—was found frozen to death today in a shack in which he lived at Coney Island. A whisky flask lay near the body of Forrest, who lived alone and was 71 years old.

Well to do more than a score of years ago, when he owned a $40,000 interest in a Sheepshead Bay shoe manufacturing business, Forrest met a series of misfortunes and died penniless.

"YOUNG" STRIBLING IS DROPPED FROM MACON HIGH SCHOOL

Macon, Ga., Jan. 7.—W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon schoolboy boxer, has been barred from attending Lanier High school here and unless an arrangement can be made for the middleweight sensation to finish his high school education in this city, his father has announced that he will move either to Newark, N. J., or Philadelphia, Pa., in the spring.

When the boy reported for classes this morning the principal of the school informed him that he had been dropped. "We can't teach you any more," he said, "send your father to see us." Too many absences was given as the reason for dropping the boy.

An attack was understood to have been made on the boy in a board of education meeting several weeks ago. The superintendent of schools said tonight that the board has not yet taken action in the matter.

AUGIE TAKES JACKSON TO DOUBLE CLEANING

HOPPE IGNORED

John Scanlon, secretary of the National Three Cushion Billiard league, has announced that under no circumstances will the association accept any challenge from Willie Hoppe, champion at 18.2 balk line billiards, to play any of the players of the National Three Cushion league for the three cushion championship.

"Before Hoppe gains this right," said Mr. Scanlon in Chicago yesterday, "Hoppe will have to win his place in the three cushion league the same as any one else. When he has done that, he will have the right to challenge our best players, but not before."

BY JOE DAVIS.

Augie Kieckhefer took a brace of games from Clarence Jackson of Milwaukee in the National Three Cushion league at the Kieckhefer Recreation room yesterday, winning the afternoon session, 50 to 43, in fifty-nine innings, and the night contest by a similar score in sixty-three innings.

In the matinée both scored well in the early stages. A run of 5 by Kieckhefer in the thirtieth inning gave him the lead, 26 to 23, but Jackson got on even terms at 32. They dingdonged along for a few innings, and then Kieckhefer scored 12 points in his last nine attempts. Score at each tenth inning:

JACKSON—8 13 23 32 36 43. Innings, 59; high run, 4.
KIECKHEFER—11 17 26 32 38 50. Innings, 59; high run, 5.

Augie scored in eight of his first ten innings at night and led, 13 to 7. Then for twenty innings he kept counting, while Jackson, in fifteen innings, made only three singles. Augie counted six in the twenty-seventh inning and was ahead, 31 to 18. Then, with a 40 to 28 lead in forty innings, he seemed to have the game in hand, but shot twelve blanks in the next thirteen innings. Jackson picked up enough to leave him only four points behind in the fifty-fourth inning. Here Augie picked off three hard shots. Score at each tenth inning:

KIECKHEFER—13 18 31 40 40 47 50—Innings, 63; high run, 6.
JACKSON—7 8 18 28 33 41 43—Innings, 62; high run, 4.

DENTON WINS AND LOSES.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Tiff Denton, Kansas City's representative in the National Three Cushion Billiard league, tonight ran eleven billiards in his game with Harry Wakefield, representing Pittsburgh. However, he lost the game, 37 to 50. The visitor won in the afternoon game, 50 to 45. Wakefield had runs of 4 in each game, while Denton made 5 in the first game.

FULL EQUIPMENT FEATURES AUTOS IN GOTHAM SHOW

BY J. L. JENKINS.

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—The inquiring reporter, questing in the bright bypaths of Gotham for new automobile interests this national show week, finds them in details rather than in industrial facts and figures.

With 4,000,000 finished cars stretched out behind it over the last twelve months of factory production, the industry itself is literally riding on the world, with the future a well charted course. It is mechanical improvement and the extras that appeal to a nation become expert in all motor matters that makes the 1924 exposition the greatest of the twenty-four annual exhibits.

Here Are Features.

In their order the high lights seem to be:

The four wheel brake, with its heated arguments, pro and con;

The small, economical motor with its surprising burst of power;

Balloon tires, the rubber "doughnuts" that give feather bed softness to modern driving;

Development of the fabric body for all sorts of closed cars.

The four wheel brake argument has simmered down to one of type rather than general principle. The generally approved type seems to be hydraulic, although some of the big companies offering mechanically operated "stop quicks" prove by figures that their brake is both safe and practical.

E. S. [Ned] Jordan, known throughout the industry as a man who seldom minces words even about the sacred "inside" of executive offices, shocked some of the old timers today in announcing his preference for the hydraulically operated type.

Brakes Are New Fashion.

"Some smart merchandisers began this thing," he said, "by wondering how it would be possible to keep up the mammoth production of the industry. They decided that they had to reduce the value of the used cars in the hands of owners—the cars that the industry eventually has to buy back before new ones can be sold, and they hit on the four wheel brake as a solution. Everybody rushed in and made a lot of brakes.

"Now they have better brakes than Europe has developed in its five or six years of experimentation."

Here's a New Model.

The newest small motor is exemplified in the new Chrysler six, a debutante that is making a profound stir in its first appearance. It achieves sixty-eight horse power and a maximum speed of more than seventy miles an hour with a motor of 201 cubic inch displacement. The car is replete with clever "extras," too. Its instrument panel, mounted under glass in the center of the dash, carried speedometer, ammeter, gasoline gauge, radimeter, and switches in one group. A diffused glow from the rear lights the board. A rim around the horn button controls the dimmers for the headlights. This job has four wheel hydraulic brakes.

One exhibit is a Ford chassis with the hood raised to carry out a sweeping line design and the body built up entirely from fabric, with wire mesh as an inside foundation. One of these fabric cars has been driven more than a year in all sorts of weather.

Despite the fact that this year's exhibit is held in the Bronx instead of the center of the hotel district the show crowds have already broken attendance records.

NATALIE AND WESTON SPLIT.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Pasqualie Natalie, local entrant in the National Pocket Billiard league, and Charles [Cowboy] Weston of Lorraine, O., divide two league games here today. In the first Natalie was victor, 100 to 48, running a 27 to Weston's 14. Weston won the second game, 100 to 92, having a high run of 23, while Natalie scored a 22.

KEOGH AND MATURO SPLIT.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Jerome Keogh and Janier Maturo split a pair of pocket billiard games here today, the former winning the afternoon game, 100 to 43, and the latter taking the night contest, 100 to 52.

Dwindling hog receipts, due largely to the recent cold snap, added tone to yesterday's trade, both here and at outside points. Receipts at a short 42,000 were 30,000 below the average total for corresponding Monday during the previous three years. Arrivals a year ago this week totaled 278,173, the largest during the first eleven months of 1923. Two years ago the week's receipts at 255,049 were largest during 1922.

Hog values here yesterday gained 10@25c, with part of the advance lost before the finish. Best sold at $7.65, with general average at $7.35. Day's top equaled the highest point since October. Shippers purchased a third of the receipts, while packers transacted little business up to the noon hour. Quality was fairly good. Buffalo and Pittsburgh advanced 50@70c, with best at $8.50.

Brisk competition and comparatively small receipts at 19,000 helped yesterday's cattle market, which ruled strong to 25c higher than last week's close. A load of 1,001 lb yearlings topped at $12.00, going to Morris. Next highest yearlings sold at $11.75, with 1,170 lb steers at $11.50 and 1,500 lbs at $10.90. After urgent orders were filled the market weakened some. Butcher stock shared in the early advance. Calves and feeding steers ruled steady to strong.

Lambs Bring $14.00.

Fourteen dollar lambs made an appearance again yesterday, for the first time in nearly four months. A string of 1,818 Iowa fed 91 lb averages reached the mark, while bulk sold at $13.25@13.90. Fall shorn lambs sold at $12.75. Ewes at $8.60 were highest since May, when best at $9.00 stood highest since the previous May.

After a generally steady opening trade, lamb values gained fully 10@25c, with shorn stock reflecting even more advance. Light eastern receipts caused a brisk competition between local and outside buyers, market improving as the day advanced.

Seven western markets received 67,000 cattle, 123,000 hogs and 56,000 sheep, against 42,000 cattle, 136,000 hogs and 42,000 sheep, the previous Monday, and 71,000 cattle, 171,000 hogs and 61,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 58,000 hogs and 18,000 sheep, against 10,245 cattle, 65,763 hogs and 19,621 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1924: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—Ralph B. Peck, former vice president of Lord & Taylor's, is reported to have purchased the controlling interest in Arnold, Constable & Co. Stephen J. Leonard, present head, refuses to confirm or deny the report.

NEW YORK.—H. B. Rubin, coat and suit manufacturer, retires and hands his business over to three associates—N. A. Rubin, R. S. Rubin, and Morris Marks—who will form a $1,000,000 corporation under the name of H. B. Rubin, Inc., and with their old employer as nominal president.

NEW YORK.—A. I. Namm & Son, Brooklyn, appoint five employés members of the board of directors in recognition of diligent service. It is the first time nonstockholders have been elevated to the board. The new directors are B. L. Brown, controller; T. B. Comerford, publicist; I. Leipnicker, auditor; Julius Stern, store manager, and S. West, merchandise manager.

ATLANTA, Ga.—The annual tristate conference of the National Association of Credit Men, to be held in Augusta on Jan. 14, will discuss commerce fraud and its effect on credit integrity.

NEW YORK.—The Fairchild cotton goods index for the week ended Jan. 5 is 18.127, compared with 18.125 in the previous week. Average price of cotton was 36.65c, compared with 36.75c in preceding week.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y.—Glove manufacturers selling to retailers will open the fall, 1924, line within the next two or three weeks.

NEW YORK.—The Fur Merchants' Sales company will discontinue its New York office on Feb. 1 and will handle all business through the St. Louis office.

BOSTON, Mass.—Cables received in the local wool market denote that combing wools advanced 5 per cent and top-making wools 10 per cent at Sydney sales today, prices being 20 per cent over last year.

NEW YORK.—Trading in the gray goods market was quiet, prices being unchanged from Saturday's levels. Quotations on second hands were slightly easier, but there was no disposition to let goods go at a sacrifice in evidence. Prices on popular print cloth construction were approximately as follows: 64x60, 5.35 yards to the pound, 10⅝c; 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound, 12¼c; 80x80, 4.00 yards to the pound, 15¼c.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Accompanying "the showing" and the annual automobile show in New York, the usual "January celebration" in the motor stocks appeared to be under way, judging from the action of these issues in yesterday's trading. Gains of from one to three points were registered in some of the active and more prominent issues, while the lower priced shares were up only fractionally. With the strength in the motors, the accessory and tire stocks also received more attention. Studebaker advanced 1¼ points, Maxwell Motors "A" 1½, Packard ⅝, and Nash Motors 3⅝. Among the accessory stocks, Stewart-Warner gained 1¼ points and Stromberg ⅝.

Many stocks, including American Can, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, and Congoleum, sold higher than they had ever sold before, while a number of others reached their highest prices in years. American Can touched 109⅝ and then eased to 108½, where it was up 1⅞ on the day. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe touched 80¼ and closed 1 point below that for a net gain of 3⅞, and Congoleum crossed 57 and then slid back to 54⅞, where it was 2⅞ above Saturday's final figure. U. S. Steel touched 100½, the highest price since last May, and closed at par for a net gain of ⅝. Strength of Steel common brought fresh buying into the independent issues, Republic closing more than a point higher.

Marked strength also developed in railroad shares, despite the decision of the United States Supreme court upholding the constitutionality of the recapture clause of the transportation act. Southern Railway crossed 42, the highest quotation since 1906, accumulation of this issue being based to some extent on speculative expectation of the payment of dividends this spring. Favorable dividend action also was reported to have influenced the buying of St. Louis Southwestern common, which reached its highest level since 1920. Other strong spots in the railroad group were Nickelplate, Canadian Pacific, and Colorado and Southern.

There were a few heavy spots. Marland dropped more than 2 points on the withdrawal of the proposed sale of treasury stock. Pan-American issues also were heavy. General Electric dropped more than 2 points on profit taking and Corn Products and Tobacco Products yielded to selling pressure.

Active U. S. government bonds either improved or held steady. Further gains in the second and fourth 4¼s gave credence to reports that the British government has again entered the Liberty bond market.

Directors of the Nash Motor company declared an extra dividend of $1.50 on the common stock and the regular semi-annual common stock dividend of $3.50, and quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock.

The resignation of Frederick W. Croll as treasurer of Armour & Co. was announced yesterday. He will retain his position as vice president of the company. Philip L. Reed, formerly assistant treasurer, was made treasurer.

The annual shipping report of the Western Electric company for the year ended Dec. 31 shows 6,962 freight cars loaded with telephone equipment were dispatched from the Hawthorne works. This is an increase of 1,135 cars over 1922, when 5,827 cars were shipped. All previous monthly car loading records were broken during December, when 854 cars were loaded.

Sales of copper by the Copper Export association during the first seventeen days of December totaled 11,250,000 pounds at an average price of 13.1c a pound. This is an average of 662,000 pounds of copper a day. In the first twenty-one days of November the association sold 51,000,000 lbs of copper, or at a daily rate of 2,430,000 lbs. Sales in December were only a little more than 25 per cent of those in November.

RAILROAD NOTES

Preliminary to a campaign to bring about a reduction in the number of grade crossing accidents, the American Railway association announced plans for a nation-wide contest open to the general public for the most expressive poster and slogan to be used in connection with the crusade to save lives at railroad crossings. For the first prize $500 will be paid to the person submitting the best poster, with $200 for second prize and $100 for third. In addition $100 will be paid in cash to the person submitting the best slogan for the campaign.

There were 152,429 cars handled by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad during December, compared with 159,881 during the corresponding month last year. Cars handled by the road during 1923 totaled 1,997,034, compared with 1,862,949 cars handled in 1922. During the week ended Jan. 4 the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad handled 26,596 cars, compared with 29,871 cars handled during the corresponding period last year.

The Chicago and Northwestern railroad has been authorized by the interstate commerce commission to procure authentication and delivery to its treasurer of $2,150,000 of general mortgage gold bonds of 1897. Bonds are to be held in the road's treasury until further order of the commission.

American Hominy Co. Is Declared Bankrupt

The American Hominy company, a $6,000,000 corporation, operating factories in Indianapolis, Decatur, Davenport and Keokuk, was adjudged an involuntary bankruptcy by Judge Wilkerson yesterday. The Chicago Title and Trust company was appointed receiver on petition of the creditors, the Old Bend Coal company, the Link Belt company and Ed B. McQuinn, all of Chicago. Howard Fogg, secretary of the company, was made joint receiver.

Failure of the concern to meet $65,000 interest on bond issues Jan. 1 was assigned as the cause. Liabilities were listed at more than $6,000,000. Assets will aggregate $6,000,000, officials said.

"ABSENT"!

"The Viewpoint of the Employee is the Most Neglected Asset in Industry."

STANDING beside a battery of busy machines in your plant is an idle piece of equipment. The operator failed to report for work this morning; and as a result of his absence you must suffer a loss.

This loss is more than a mere cut in production. It is an actual cash loss of part of your fixed overhead—of your supervision costs and of the many other expense factors that must continue whether an employee is working or is absent.

Every day your time-reports show unnecessary absenteeism. Every day, consciously or unwittingly, you are paying toll to one of the controllable factors that are causing serious losses in your plant. Why?

Nearly every case of unwarranted absenteeism can be traced to some form of misunderstanding, ignorance or poor judgment on someone's part. Whatever the cause, we can engage to correct it—with great profit to employee and employer.

Serving the Reader well Means paying the Advertiser better

NO NEWSPAPER can ever become more valuable to its advertisers than it is recognized to be valuable to its readers. In other words, it becomes highly productive to the advertiser only after it has created reader interest, reader confidence and reader demand.

The Evening American has secured this reader co-operation because it was, and is, a paper for the people—catering to no creed or class—but printing the news as it finds it—truthfully, fearlessly.

Published primarily for the people within the great Chicago market and distributed largely within this market, the Evening American published during 1923 a volume of advertising that stamps it as a selling force of tremendous productivity.

All classes of advertisers have come to realize that the Evening American's great concentrated reader audience comprises a market of almost unlimited sales possibilities—a market that is responsive and highly sensitized to suggestions of betterment in design and color, style and fabric, device and equipment.

No newspaper stands still. It either goes forward or backward. It offers more pulling power for the advertiser or less.

In 1924 the Evening American, by virtue of its consistent development, will bring its advertisers greater returns for every dollar spent because it will have added reader interest and reader demand. And these are the elements that determine advertising productiveness.

EVENING AMERICAN

a good newspaper

During 1923 the Evening American carried 9,553,236 lines of display advertising, or a gain over 1922 of 1,488,339 lines.

The Evening American's excess in gains over the second evening newspaper was 336,435 lines and within 105,981 lines of equaling the combined gain of all other evening newspapers in Chicago.

RUSSIAN TRADE CHANCES AGAIN IN FOR BALLYHOO

BY SCRUTATOR.

The Washington dispatches indicate we are in for another big line of talk about Russian trade. Measured by the volume of speech and print about it, Russian trade ought to be the world's most glittering prize.

The American people have been told for several years they are overlooking a huge bet. Time after time we have been warned that Britain or some other country was beating us to it.

The same story has been peddled in every other country. Britain was, of course, the shining mark. Since Queen Elizabeth's time she has been interested in Russian trade, has always had close connections and inside information. When she concluded a trade agreement with the soviets, after months of clamor, great hopes were entertained there and relayed abroad.

British workers were to be given steady jobs fabricating the machinery for Russia's regeneration. Unemployment was to fade away as an evil dream. Russia was to come back with grain, furs, tallow, flax and timber for Britain.

Before we get all excited about the yarns in store for us in connection with the agitation for recognition, a little glance at the British facts will be timely.

In the first nine months of 1923 Britain sold to Russia less by several millions of dollars than the average month's sales of a single Chicago mail order store, less than four months' sales of one State street retail establishment.

If all the British business with Russia, under its trade agreement, were handed to this town it wouldn't create a ripple. The traffic cops wouldn't notice it.

British sales to Russia for the first nine months of 1923 declined more than $5,000,000 as compared to the same months of the year before. During 1922 they reached their peak, but amounted to less than $15,000,000 for the three-quarters of the year, for which comparisons are available, with 1923.

Reëxports increased, however, about $3,700,000—a large part being American goods.

Russian exports to Britain increased by about $8,000,000—and they did the farmers of the United States no good.

Instead of importing machinery for a grand "comeback," a large part of Russian purchases abroad have consisted of food and coal, although Russia has plenty of coal in the ground.

As long as the United States was giving Russia the stuff, the United States topped the list of exporters to Russia. Any time we feel like Russian exports are essential to our peace of mind, we can lead in that field by giving it to them again.

The same statesmen who are now professing such anxiety on behalf of American business with Russia are the statesmen who never have a good word to say about business at home, and who in fact devote their time to muckraking it and trying to hamper it.

It is hard to get their new orientation. If American business is as bad, as corrupt, and as profiteering as they say it is, why should they want to expose the soviet sainthood to its baleful influence?

The statesmen who are so worked up about our trade possibilities with Russia denounce as "dollar diplomacy" any attempt to extend American business in other regions.

The men who are ballyhooing for recognition of Russia "to promote trade" are largely the politicians, who demanded and obtained the abrogation of our commercial treaty with the Russian government under the czar for disregard of the rights of naturalized American citizens. The plunder of American citizens by the present government is not disputed.

In addition to that, the present government refuses to pay us money advanced for war purposes, and in the midst of that conflict made an arrangement with the enemy, which hurled a million more men against our armies on the western front.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

There is an impression in the trade that the market is to do better for a time. This is based on the fact that the largest holders are not selling freely on bulges and that offerings in the main come from interests who are selling May and July wheat in Chicago and buying in Winnipeg. There was a little buying of July on expectations of crop damage from zero weather over the greater part of the winter wheat country.

Local operators, who covered their corn last week, were active in reinstating their lines yesterday. Part of the selling was around the top prices and the balance at nearly the inside at the finish. They expect an increase in receipts as reports from downstate indicated increased farmers' deliveries.

A resolution introduced into the senate calls for an investigation of the decline in wheat prices. Grain men commenting on it said the committee would not have to look far. They would find it in the Capper-Tincher bill, which has driven speculation out of the markets.

Cash corn handlers at Chicago said Milwaukee and other markets were offering corn to the east at 1@1½c under Chicago. This, they said, was the reason for the small sales for shipment. It is said 800,000 bu corn are to be moved out of Chicago within a few days, also 300,000 bu wheat.

"Jan. 10 is one of the so-called calendar days on which to sell wheat," says W. E. Danley with Clement-Curtis. "The January-February irregularity, which usually develops, has had its basis in the movement of the new Argentine crop. Sometimes an after harvest movement from there has been discounted in advance. This is most frequently true of our interior wheat movement, but occasionally of the Canadian movement, or of the movement from the southern hemisphere. This season looking on the dark side of the market has been so popular that a normal Argentine movement may well have been discounted. But instead of this normal movement the world market is now faced with the prospect of subnormal pressure from Argentina. Today Broomhall reported that new Argentine wheat was too wet safely to cross the equator."

Contract stocks of wheat in public elevators in Chicago Saturday night were 5,106,000 bu, corn 1,797,000 bu, and oats 861,000 bu. For the week wheat decreased 149,000 bu and oats 84,000 bu, while corn increased 167,000 bu.

A cable to Southworth & Co. of Toledo, from a leading French seed house, said the French clover seed market was excited and advancing under an active demand. There is a big export demand and stocks are about exhausted.

Why We Recommend

Customs Lien Bonds

For Conservative Investment

What Customs Lien Bonds are—

THE outgrowth of a scientific plan to render the obligations of smaller foreign countries AUTOMATICALLY safe through collection of customs duties in the interests of bondholders.

Their Unique Security

"ALL nations live by their foreign trade; their imports and exports are vital to their existence. The power of a national government to tax these imports and exports constitutes its most productive source of revenue; the pledge of these revenues is the most valuable pledge it can give." —A. W. KIMBER, publisher and authority on Foreign Government Issues.

The Test of Experience

IT is a matter of record that the Customs Lien Bonds of Argentina, Brazil, China and Cuba are selling higher in the market today, and have consistently sold higher, over the ten-year average, than bonds of the same Governments secured in other ways.

High Standing of Foreign Government Bonds secured by Liens on Customs Revenues

†SALVADOR
*8% Loan of 1923	FIRST LIEN CUSTOMS	Representative Metropolitan Trust Co. New York	8.20%

*Listed on New York Stock Exchange.

Minimum redemption price 105.

"There is no record of default in payment of principal and interest on any government bonds, secured by lien on the customs revenues of the government, where such revenues were collected and applied by an agent appointed by the bondholders."

How the Revenues are collected for Bondholders

In case of collection of customs revenues by the lender, the following is the customary procedure:

Both importers and exporters must purchase from the collector certificates for the amount corresponding with the percentage of the duties pledged as security for the loan, and the General Treasury and the Customs Houses of the debtor country shall accept these and only these certificates as the cash equivalent to said percentage of duties payable for the service of the loan. In Salvador the collection IN AMERICAN DOLLARS by the sale of these certificates is handled only by the American representative of the bondholders, who remits weekly to the Metropolitan Trust Co., New York Fiscal Agent.

We recommend for investment, SALVADOR Customs First Lien Bonds—which, by the special character of their security, are comparable in safety to the better grade domestic issues.

Interest and sinking fund requirements $744,000, decreasing annually; average annual Customs Revenues for 13 years $3,125,603, or over 4 times requirements.

Customs Receipts for the year 1923 totaled $4,152,314 or over 5⅓ times the service of the Loan.

FOREIGN DEMAND GIVES TONE TO WHEAT MARKET

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A marked improvement in the foreign demand for Manitoba wheats with the removal of hedges against sales of around 1,000,000 bu for export gave the market a much stronger undertone and local prices advanced to a new high on the present upturn, closing with net gains of ⅛@⅝c, with May leading. Winnipeg led the advance, gaining 1¼@1⅝c for the day. May corn sold at a new high for the season, but failed to maintain the bulge and the finish was at the bottom with losses of ⅛@⅜c. Oats were ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower and rye ½c higher.

Sentiment was much less bearish than of late, although there was nothing in the news that favored extensive operations on that side. However, as Canada has the largest surplus of any country and May wheat there is established well above the dollar mark, the bears have lost part of their confidence of late, and there is a disposition in some quarters to look for a firmer market. May closed at $1.08⅝@1.08¾, and July at $1.06⅞. May selling at $1.09⅝ at the top.

Visible Supply Decreases.

Domestic visible supply has ceased to gain now, there being a reduction of 48,000 bu for the week, making the total 74,804,000 bu, or 34,252,000 bu in excess of last year. The movement has dropped sharply, with leading markets receiving 472 cars, against 1,494 cars last year, the showing attracting more attention. Liverpool gained ⅜@⅝d in the face of an advance in sterling exchange.

Some of the local bulls who sold out their lines of corn on last week's bulge were fair buyers early to get them back and, with the assistance of local traders and scattered commission house buying, made a fair advance early. Orders in the hands of commission houses to sell on a scale up proved too large to be readily absorbed, and the finish was on a reaction of around 1c, with May at 75⅝@75¾c and July at 76⅝@76¾c.

Country offerings were not large, considering the weather and the recent advance, but in some sections farmers showed much more disposition to sell. Basis in the sample market was unchanged to 1c lower, with receipts 209 cars. Grading of the latter was less satisfactory than of late, about 50 per cent of the arrivals going No. 5 and lower.

Cash Oats in Demand.

Betterment in the eastern demand for cash oats is becoming more pronounced here and in other markets. Basis in the sample market was unchanged to ¼c higher, as compared with the May. Futures showed a firmer tone, although trade was not large. Receipts, 72 cars.

There was some buying of rye believed for export account, which, with the strength in wheat, brought about a higher average. Houses with northwestern connections were on the buying side.

Provisions Have Advance.

Smaller receipts of hogs than expected with higher prices at the yards and a gain of 6@9d in lard in Liverpool gave the local provision market a higher range. Lard closed unchanged to 7½c higher, with ribs up 12½@22½c, and bellies 5c. There was some buying of January and selling of March product by shorts. Deliveries on January contracts were 50,000 lbs ribs. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

The United Kingdom and the continent took 750,000 to 1,000,000 bu Manitoba wheat at the seaboard Sunday and yesterday, some being sold to central Europe for the first time in many weeks, and France was also inquiring for grain. Import duty on wheat into that country has been lowered to 7 francs per 220 lbs from 14 francs. It was said there had been some business in rye and also in Canadian barley. Corn bids were out of line.

Local mills were after cash wheat, and the bulk of the sales of 80,000 bu reported here was taken by them. At Kansas City mills are said to be buying wheat from store for the first time on the crop. Of the 13,091,000 bu in store, there, about 3,000,000 bu are already owned by mills and 1,500,000 bu by coöperative interests, the greater part of the balance being of low grade. Domestic shipping sales of corn here were 50,000 bu and of oats 60,000 bu. Deliveries on January contracts aggregated 10,000 bu corn and 10,000 bu oats.

Basis on cash wheat here was firm at 1c over to 2½c under for No. 1 hard and May price to 4c under for No. 2 hard. Receipts, 18 cars. St. Louis was up 1@2c, with Kansas City unchanged to 1c higher and Omaha unchanged to 3c higher.

Demand for cash corn was less aggressive and the basis here was unchanged to 1c lower, with No. 2 mixed 2c, yellow 1c, and white ¼c under May, with No. 3 mixed 3½c, yellow 2@2½c, and white 1c under May. Receipts, 209 cars. Outside markets unchanged to 1½c higher.

Offerings of cash oats were not large and the basis steady to ¼c better, with No. 2 white May to ½c under and No. 3 white ¼@1¼c under the future. Receipts, 72 cars.

The Conscience Upon Which a Great Bond Business Is Built

THE investing in bonds is a transaction based largely on faith. The investor believes that the borrower will pay interest and principal when due. How good that promise is depends upon things which the average investor may lack facilities to appraise for himself. He must frequently depend upon somebody else's financial judgment.

The conscientious care exercised by the house which underwrites or makes a bond issue is therefore the root of safe investment.

Expert Knowledge

The underlying values which make a bond high grade or low grade, safe or unsafe, often cannot be known without expert opinion. Engineers must first look into the value and efficiency of the plant. Accountants must go over the books. Trade experts must determine the outlook for future earnings. Lawyers must pass on titles and franchises. There are a score or more equally important things to be done. How thoroughly they are done, how competent the men who do them, depends upon the bond house responsible for their being done. It can be strict in its requirements. Or, it can be lax. It can probe deeply. Or, it can skim the surface to save expensive investigation. Its own conscience is the arbiter.

Avoidance of Risk

After all the facts are ascertained, the question of accepting or rejecting the issue must also be answered by conscience. It is so easy to overlook some vital point of security in the reasonable hope that under favorable conditions the issue would prove safe anyway.

That risk is never taken by Halsey, Stuart & Co. Every requirement of a high-grade bond must be fully met before the issue is accepted and underwritten. The payment of principal and interest must be assured as far as it is humanly possible to assure it.

Banks, insurance companies and large investors know this. These buy large blocks of Halsey, Stuart & Co. bonds. The smaller investor should safeguard his money by a similarly careful selection of his bond house.

Halsey, Stuart & Co. service is available through several offices and by correspondence, to investors everywhere.

Callable as a whole or in part by lot on any interest date on 30 days' notice at 107½ and interest on or before April 1, 1926, and thereafter at prices decreasing ½% each year to maturity. The Company agrees to pay all California taxes and the Federal Normal Income Tax not exceeding 2% per annum, which it may be permitted or required to retain or deduct; and to refund the Pennsylvania four-mills tax upon application made within six months after payment. The Company agrees to make application to list these bonds on the New York and San Francisco Stock Exchanges.

Wells Fargo Bank & Union Trust Co., San Francisco, Trustee.

The letter of Charles N. Black, Esq., President, addressed to the undersigned under date of January 5, 1924, to which reference is made for full details, has been summarized by him as follows:

The Market Street Railway Company owns and operates a comprehensive street railway system serving the City of San Francisco, Cal., comprising a total of 272 miles of modern standard street railway track.

These bonds will be secured by a first mortgage lien upon all the physical property of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired.

The City Engineer of San Francisco in a valuation report made in connection with the proposed purchase of the railway, now under consideration by the City, has stated $40,000,000 to be a fair purchase price for the property. A valuation of $41,424,961, after depreciation, has been made by the engineers of the Railroad Commission of California. Ford, Bacon & Davis valued these properties at $52,210,195, after depreciation, as of June 30, 1920. These valuations are from 3 to 3¾ times the amount of this issue of bonds.

The Company covenants to provide a quarterly sinking fund of $500,000 per annum from January 1, 1925 through 1932. Bonds are to be purchased in the open market at not to exceed their redemption prices, or if not so obtainable are to be called, and kept alive until January 1, 1933, and their interest used to acquire additional bonds. The bonds then held in the sinking fund will be cancelled and thereafter the Company will provide a quarterly sinking fund of $300,000 per annum until maturity for like purchase or redemption. The bonds acquired will be kept alive and the interest thereon added to the sinking fund. The operation of the sinking fund, assuming bonds retired at call prices, will reduce this issue to $8,071,500 on January 1, 1933, and to $5,460,500 on January 1, 1940. Proceeds from the sale of any mortgaged property are to be added to the fixed sinking fund payments.

The net income available for interest, Federal income taxes and depreciation reserves, for the year ended December 31, 1923, amounted to $2,435,488—over two and one-half times the annual interest on these bonds. The annual net income available for such charges during the five years ended December 31, 1923, was as follows:

1920	2,141,383
1921	$1,828,376
1922	2,170,689
1923	$2,435,488

This revenue has been earned on a straight five-cent cash fare.

The proceeds from the sale of these bonds will be used for discharging the entire funded debt of the Company consisting of $4,260,000 Five Year 6% Collateral Trust Gold Notes, due April, 1 1924, and $9,239,000 5% First Consolidated Mortgage Gold Bonds due September 1, 1924.

None of the Company's franchises expires prior to 1929. Thereafter various franchises mature, from time to time, until 1952. Lines on which franchises have matured in the past have been acquired by the City at a fair and satisfactory price, and under the terms of the mortgage the proceeds of any sale of the mortgaged property are paid into the sinking fund for the retirement of additional bonds. It is estimated, taking into account the maturities of franchises, that the available income during the life of the bonds will in every year be more than twice the interest charges on the bonds then outstanding.

These bonds are offered, if, when and as issued and accepted by us, subject to authorization of the Company's stockholders and to approval of Van Vorst, Siegel & Smith, counsel, of all legal details and subject to the approval of the Railroad Commission of California.

CAPITALIZATION

	AUTHORIZED	ISSUED
Capital Stock (Par Value $20).............	20,000 Shares	20,000 Shares

We summarize as follows from a letter addressed to us by Mr. Carl F. Sturhahn, President of the Company:

Business: The Lincoln Fire Insurance Company was chartered under the insurance laws of the State of New York on December 8th, 1923, with a charter which gives it full powers to conduct a general fire insurance business. Its principal purpose, however, is to operate as a fire reinsurance company. The Company is one of a group of five fire reinsurance companies under the same management. These five companies are the Rossia Insurance Company of America, Fire Reassurance Company of New York, American Fire Insurance Corporation of New York, Union Reserve Insurance Company and Lincoln Fire Insurance Company of New York, constituting the largest group of American companies writing fire reinsurance exclusively. The Company has entered into treaties with the four other companies of the group, through which it takes a straight participation of certain stipulated proportions, in all the business now on the books of each of the other companies, together with proportionate unearned premium reserve and of loss reserve funds appertaining to this business. Under these treaties the Lincoln Company will receive the same percentage of all future business of the four companies with a corresponding percentage of their premium income.

Earnings: Based upon profits which, as can be definitely computed, would have accrued to the Lincoln Fire Insurance Company had its treaties been previously in force, the management believes that the Company's present financial situation makes the payment of dividends from the start entirely consistent with conservative practice. It should be noted in this connection that the present amount of the Company's annual income from investments alone will be in excess of 25% on the par value of the capital stock, to which will be added any underwriting profit the company earns.

Assets: The consummation of the above mentioned contracts with the other reinsurance companies provides the Lincoln Fire Insurance Company with aggregate assets amounting to $2,280,058, all of which amount is invested in sound, marketable securities or is in cash in banks.

Management: The Lincoln Fire Insurance Company has the same management as the Rossia Insurance Company of America and its affiliated reinsurance companies. Mr. C. F. Sturhahn, President of the Rossia Insurance Company of America and its predecessor since 1904, is its President. Its officers are also officers in each of the other four companies in the Rossia group.

Forty-two Broadway Bldg.

H. P. N.—The $4,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds of the 42 Broadway building are secured by a closed first mortgage on land and twenty story building located in the business district in downtown Manhattan, New York City. The building is given an appraised valuation of $2,762,500, and the land of $3,250,000, making the total valuation of the security under these bonds over $6,000,000, or over 1½ times the amount of the issue. Net income available for interest before depreciation and federal taxes, for the three years ended Nov. 30, 1923, averaged $588,393, and for the year ended that date were $591,166, or over 2.46 times annual interest requirements on this bond issue. A sinking fund is provided for the retirement quarterly by purchase or redemption at the rate of $100,000 principal amount in each year. The bonds mature Jan. 1, 1939. They are a sound investment.

The Straus Record of 1923

33,000 New Straus Customers

NINETEEN-TWENTY-THREE was the greatest year in the history of S.W. Straus & Co. Sales of Straus Bonds showed a substantial increase over 1922, our largest previous year. More than 33,000 new customers were added to our clientele. We underwrote 98 bond issues, secured by properties located in 39 cities, in 14 states of the Union and 5 provinces of Canada.

These 98 bond issues were new loans—not renewals—and were, with few exceptions, construction loans. Erection of the buildings—a few of which are pictured here—created hundreds of millions of dollars in new wealth, gave employment to thousands of workmen, furnished a market for millions of tons of building materials and, in numberless other ways, added to the wealth of the nation. They are safeguarded under the STRAUS PLAN, and render a three-fold service:

1. To the investor. Through the STRAUS PLAN and Straus Service he is able to place sums of any amount, large or small, in securities of assured soundness yielding a fair and even liberal rate of interest.
2. To the borrower. The bondholder is not likely to prosper unless the borrower likewise prospers. We refuse to accept loans which do not carry with them every assurance, as developed by the most careful investigation, that the property will be successful and will have ample earning power, thus meeting both principal and interest on the bonds, and likewise assuring prosperity for the borrower.
3. To the community. Through the erection of new properties financed under the STRAUS PLAN, new housing is provided, additional facilities are gained for the conduct of business, property values are enhanced and civic progress is promoted.

We now have on hand for January investment a wide diversity of sound first mortgage serial bonds secured by properties similar in type to those here illustrated. The bonds are in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. They yield 6 and 6½% net. We suggest that you call or write at once, so as to obtain just the bonds and maturities you most desire, and ask for

FEDERAL BANK EARNINGS SHOW DROP FOR 1923

BY O. A. MATHER.

Uncle Sam's share of the profits of the federal reserve system underwent a drastic reduction last year. But in this instance, what is to the government's disadvantage is really to everybody else's profit, for small earnings by the reserve banks mean easy credit conditions and low interest rates.

The Chicago Federal Reserve bank paid in to the government $246,585, which is 90 per cent of last year's net earnings, after paying dividends of 6 per cent on its capital stock. The banks are limited by law to 6 per cent on capital stock, with 10 per cent of net earnings after dividends transferable to surplus, up to a certain ratio. The amount added to surplus last year was only $27,398.

Half of Previous Year.

The sum paid over to the government for the last year was only about half as much as in the previous year, when $476,111 was turned over. Net earnings last year were $1,178,354, equivalent before paying the government to 7.8 per cent on average capital and to 2.6 per cent on average capital and surplus. Dividends totaled $904,371. In 1922 net earnings were $1,405,215, with dividends paid totaling $876,202.

At the close of 1923 the Chicago bank had total reserves of $553,389, total earning assets, $148,528; capital, $15,178,900; surplus, $30,425,575; total bills on hand, $127,771,446; total deposits, $272,009,222; reserve notes in circulation $406,901,310, and total resources and liabilities, $784,372,665.

U. S. Steel Offers Stock to Employés.

The United States Steel corporation yesterday announced its annual offering of stock to employés. The company issues no new stock, but simply sells stock at the average price at which the shares were bought in the open market. The employé-owners receive the regular dividends and also bonus payments in accordance with a fixed schedule.

This month the employés may subscribe to 100,000 shares of common stock at $100 a share, although the corporation will honor subscriptions for a larger amount. Last year 60,000 shares nominally were offered at $107, but 41,950 employés subscribed for 100,730 shares. During the last year the stock ranged between 109⅝ and 85½. Yesterday's price was around 100.

Business Outlook Cheerful.

Yesterday's news and views were in a cheerful vein.

"I expect the demand for steel in the next six months to be on an increasing scale," Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, said. "The tide has definitely turned and we look for production during this year to be at least in line with that of 1923."

"The year 1923 closed with promise for 1924," says the Trend of Business, issued by the Continental and Commercial banks. "An upturn in the stock market and easing money rates are favorable signs. Credit continues to be relatively easy. Production and trade statistics have shown the seasonal movement expected. In fact, nothing has developed to alter our opinion that the slight recession in business during the summer was merely an interruption in the expansion stage of a long business cycle."

Southern States Oil Co. Settlement Proposed

New York, Jan. 7.—Sale of the Southern States Oil corporation to another oil company has been proposed as a basis of settling the differences in brokers' balances which arose from the suspension of trading in that stock by the New York curb market recently. Former Gov. C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, who headed a "pool" which traded extensively in the stock, admitted that "a basis of settlement had been reached." Last Saturday Mr. Haskell withdrew the offer of Middle States Oil company to pay $11.25 for brokers' balances in the stock.

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 7.—[Special.]—Interest in the markets once more centered today on securities. Both the stock and bond markets were buoyant affairs, characterized by the large number of issues traded in and by the volume of sales. The bond turnover was more than $14,000,000 and that of stocks about 1,319,600 shares.

Three factors may be singled out as responsible in the main for the current activity in securities. One of these factors is the firm stand taken by administration officials on their program of tax readjustment; another is the possibility of interesting and constructive news from the basic industries as to the volume of incoming orders; the third is the expected reinvestment demand, particularly for high grade securities.

Stocks Gain on Expectations.

Stocks appear to be moving up in even more sedate and dignified fashion than they did in the final month of the old year. A few of the detailed statistics, making for daily high prices in the market, are commencing to appear. In the main, however, the strength of stocks must be attributed largely to prospective developments, particularly along the line of forward business rather than current ones.

There probably has not been a time in the last two or three years when leaders in such lines as steel, oil, automobile and kindred industries have been so generally optimistic about the future twelve months. Of course some of this enthusiasm now is being reflected in the stock market.

Six Per Cent Securities Wanted.

The feature of the reinvestment demand which thus far has made its appearance has been the centering of interest in underlying industrial securities. The demand appears to center about securities bearing an interest coupon of approximately 6 per cent with a moderately long life.

MELODIES TO PAY FOR $1,000,000 BLAUFUSS HOTEL

Building Permits

Twelve building permits were issued yesterday with total valuation of $206,000. They included:

Justine-st., 8606, two 1 story brick residences, B. Hemsteger, owner; J. Hoch, arch.; J. F. Jakubowski, mason; A. Petz, carp. $14,000
Jackson-blvd., W., 1139-43, 4 story brick creamery, Blue Valley Creamery Co., owner; S. S. Joy, arch.; E. W. Sproul Co., mason and carp. 125,000
Kilpatrick, N., 3040-42, two 2 story brick flats, E. J. Kasten, owner and carp.; G. Pearson, arch.; Magnussen-Wold, mason 20,000

BY AL CHASE.

Music royalties from popular songs are going to build a $1,000,000 hotel on Diversey parkway. Walter E. Blaufuss, composer of "My Isle of Golden Dreams" and other ballads, has bought a 100x150 site on the north side of the boulevard, 193 feet west of Sheridan road, from Edward C. Freutel for a reported $125,000. On this property, which is across the street from the new Commonwealth hotel and the Embassy, Mr. Blaufuss intends building a twelve story hotel with approximately 400 rooms.

WALTER E. BLAUFUSS.
[Walinger Photo.]

Mr. Blaufuss will have several shops on the first floor of his new hotel, which as yet is unnamed. Work will start next fall. The architect's name will be announced shortly. John F. Vokoun was broker for all parties.

Victor J. Curto has bought the northwest corner of Sheridan and Lawrence, 143x110, from Curt Teich, Milton Plotke, and Henry G. Saal, trustees, for a reported $400,000, subject to $155,000. On May 1 Mr. Curto either will remodel the eighteen flat building on the property into stores and a hotel or erect an entirely new building. V. J. Curto & Co. represented all parties.

Sheridan-Lawrence Corner Sold.

Kate M. West has bought the thirty-seven flats at 1622 Farwell from Julius Swanson for a reported $265,500, subject to $175,000, giving in part payment eighteen apartments at the northeast corner of Granville and Glenwood, at $108,000 subject to $69,000, and six flats at 722 Washington, Evanston, for $47,500, subject to $21,000. William L. Wallen Jr. of William L. Wallen & Sons represented all parties.

$555,000 Flat Sale.

A reported $555,000, subject to encumbrances totaling $375,000, was paid by Mary F. Walsh to Jacob A. Albert for the fifty-four and the thirty-six flat buildings at 5645-69 Washington boulevard. Edward Berkson was attorney for the seller. F. S. Bates, J. H. Stephens and G. W. Dollinger & Sons were brokers.

Gustav E. Beerly, attorney for Kakarakis Bros., in their sale of 174 North Wells to William A. Zeigler, states that the price given in this department on Sunday, $135,000, was incorrect. He says it is $124,000, subject to $55,000. The figures we used were supplied by the brokers and we assumed they were correct.

An indicated $280,000, subject to $81,000, was paid by Kathryn Colgan to Charles W. James for the three story store, office, and flat building at the southeast corner of Sheridan and Irving Park boulevard.

Morris Plan Bank Loans Increase $1,000,000 in 1923

Five thousand more loans were made by the Chicago Morris Plan bank during 1923 than the previous year, and $1,000,000 more was lent than in 1922, according to the yearly report submitted to stockholders at the annual meeting yesterday. The total amount lent for the year was $4,554,000.

Net earnings in 1923 after all charges and losses were $93,000, compared with $78,000 in 1922. The bank transferred $50,000 to the surplus account. The bank's contribution to the employés' participation fund was $5,145.

The State Bank of Chicago last year added $66,466 to the employés' savings profit sharing fund, this sum representing 5 per cent of the bank's earnings for the period. Employés contributing to the funds since the plan was adopted four years ago now have to their individual credit $507 for each $100 paid in, as the bank has added $3.29 for each 66 cents contributed by employés.

Business in 1924

There is much uncertainty about economic conditions during the next six months.

Whether business will improve, continue on its present level, or enter upon a sharp decline is a question in which every executive is interested.

A comprehensive study of current conditions and probable future developments, based upon a scientific Index of General Business Conditions, is presented in the Weekly Letters of the Harvard Service.

Our 43rd Anniversary Gift Lamp Offer

ON the occasion of our 43rd anniversary we turn gratefully to those who have made possible the growth of this company. Thousands of investors scattered through every state in the Union represent as many reasons for the success of this organization.

For 43 years these investors have been purchasing First Mortgage securities directly from Cochran & McCluer Company. Since 1881 this company has brought together borrower and lender without the use of salesmen. This has been profitable to all concerned and assures Cochran & McCluer investors at all times of receiving the highest rate of interest consistent with absolute safety of principal. This rate is now 7%—do not strive for more—do not be satisfied with less.

Our 43 year record is at the same time our biggest asset and our greatest responsibility. To carefully guard the integrity of this record is a task which this organization gladly assumes.

Our Sign of Appreciation

Because we appreciate the fact that our clients have come to us direct, on the occasion of our 43rd Anniversary, we are giving one of these beautiful Multi-Lite Electric Lamps to each old and new investor who purchases a First Mortgage Bond from us either for cash or on the payment plan. The unusual feature of this lamp is that by the operation of an inconspicuous switch any degree of light from a mere glow to full intensity may be obtained.

Phone, call or write your name in the margin of this advertisement for full particulars of this offer and list of choice 7% offerings—bonds in denominations of $100—$500 and $1,000. No salesman will call.

WHAT DOES 1924 MEAN TO YOU?

A position with a salary pays you only a part of what you are worth. Most men on salaries are today making less than $50 per week. This means poverty, a long life of work with little opportunity to get the things that make life worth while. Not a pleasant outlook surely.

Why not make 1924 different? Resolve to break into a larger field of activity—a field where the lowest paid man will pocket a $60 check each week and where the topnotchers earn better than $1,000 a month.

Of course you want to earn more, but just wanting to will not bring it to you. If you have a clean past record with plenty of energy and ambition, and if you are over 25 years old, come in and talk it over with me.

We are a live wire organization and we do not sell insurance, books, stocks, or bonds.

CO-OPERATIVE APTS. AS AN INVESTMENT.

The average asking price for modern, well located apt. bldgs. is today a little over 6 times the rental. The investor, buying 18 apts., must make allowance for vacancies, bad debts, commissions, excessive decorations, etc., all of which are eliminated under co-operative ownership.

We purchased several carefully selected bldgs. in desirable locations on the South Side, Rogers Park and Evanston last year at considerable less than present market value and organized them on the co-operative plan and are offering the remaining 4, 5, 6 and 7 rm. apts. to responsible, high class, Gentile families, at approximately 6½ times the rental value; some leases expire May 1st; others later; secure one of these apts. now; roll the rent until you move in and then be forever free from the landlord.

4 rooms	$42.00
4 rooms, s. p. shower bath	51.92

START THE NEW YEAR RIGHT! INVEST IN NORTH EDGEWATER PROPERTY

Our new subdivision, known as Krenn & Dato's Devon-Kedzie Addition to North Edg., is ideally situated for the investor and homeseeker who desires to move along with Chicago's enormous growth northward.

Lying within Western, Kedzie, Peterson, and Pratt, with business property on Devon-av., this property is easily the pick of Chicago's new residential sections, with car lines, elevated, and bus service developed and to be developed, giving a rapid transit to all parts of the city.

Lots in this district will have initial improvements—gas, water, and sewer mains, sidewalks in front of all lots and alongside of all corner lots, and in some cases street pavement—paid for in the purchase prices.

RESTRICTED AREA

All lots are sold with a clause in the deeds restricting all residential buildings to construction of stone, brick, or concrete, with a 15 ft. building line.

Never has such a proposition been offered to the Chicago public.

Convenient to schools, churches, country clubs, and forest preserves, this property has the advantages of older residential sections with none of the drawbacks.

Each purchaser will receive a trustee's deed from the Chicago Title and Trust Co., trustees, and an owner's policy guaranteeing the title.

Our Subdivision Office is located at the corner of Devon and Sacramento-avs.

HOW TO GET THERE

STREET CAR—Any crosstown car to Western, north on Western to Devon-av., where our autos will meet you.
